The FBI National Crime Information Center (NCIC) is a computerized index of crime and criminals of nationwide interest. Included are records concerning wanted persons, missing persons, unidentified persons, persons on supervised release, persons subject of a protection order, registered sexual offenders, persons violating immigration laws, persons associated with a violent gang or terrorist organization, and stolen property. Also provided is access to an index of criminal history records. The NCIC, located at the FBI's Criminal Justice Services Division in Clarksburg, WV, serves as a nucleus of a vast, high-speed criminal justice communications network which includes authorized local, State, and Federal criminal justice agencies throughout the United States, Canada, Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, Guam, and American Samoa. Through use of computer storage and retrieval, the NCIC is able to locate and transmit in seconds essential data for the efficient performance of criminal justice personnel. FBI personnel are available to assist States in operating their systems which are connected to the NCIC computer. Technical and other consultant services as well as training are provided at no expense to State agencies.

16.309 Law Enforcement Assistance National Instant Criminal Background Check System

(NICS).

FEDERAL AGENCY:

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF AUTHORIZATION:

none

OBJECTIVES:

To provide a system so that any Federal Firearm Licensee (FFL) could receive an immediate determination by telephone or by other electronic means, on whether receipt of a firearm and/or explosive by a prospective buyer would violate Federal or State laws.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Information, Provision of Specialized Services

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The NICS Operations Center conducts NICS background checks by analyzing and evaluating criminal history records to determine whether the transfer of a firearm to an individual may violate State or Federal law. The staff at the Operations Center provides technical and operational support to users, provides customer service to FFLs and State Point of Contacts (POCs), processes appeals of denied transactions, and prepares management and statistical reports on the operation of the NICS.

Applicant Eligibility:

Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Other public institution/organization; Anyone/general public; All persons purchasing firearms.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Federal; Anyone/general public; The Federal Firearm Licensees and American public.

Credentials/Documentation:

Initial request for services must be from a licensed and enrolled FFL. For checks performed by the FBI, FFLs may contact the NICS Section by telephone via a toll-free number or, electronically by the NICS E-Check via the Internet. The FFLs will provide the required descriptive information requested on the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives Form 4473 and each background check is assigned a unique NICS Transaction Number. If a NICS background check results in no matching records, the transfer will be a proceed. If one or more matching records are found, a NICS Legal Instruments Examiner (Examiner) will review the record(s) to determine if the subject of the record may be identical with the prospective purchaser and to determine if the record contains state and/or federal firearm prohibitive criteria which may prohibit the transfer of the firearm. If it is determined that prohibitive criteria exists, the NICS Examiner will advise the FFL to deny the firearm transaction. If potentially prohibitive criteria exists and more information is required in order to make the determination, the NICS Examiner will advise the FFL to delay the firearm transaction. When a transaction is delayed, the NICS Examiner begins extensive research on the potential prohibitor. The NICS Examiner will contact local, state, and federal law enforcement agencies and courts to resolve questions about an individual who appears to be prohibited from purchasing or possessing a firearm, as well as to request clarification regarding information in a prior record or disposition. When the research is complete, the NICS Examiner calls the FFL and gives a decision on the firearm transaction. Individuals who are denied the purchase of a firearm will be advised by the FFL of the process for appealing the denial decision if he/she believes it is incorrect. This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is not applicable.

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF AUTHORIZATION:

22 USC 7105(b2)(A).

OBJECTIVES:

Specific goals vary by solicitation, but the overarching goal of the Services for Victims of Trafficking program is to develop, expand, or strengthen victim service programs for victims of trafficking. Specific objectives vary by solicitation, but include the following: 1. Providing comprehensive and specialized services to victims of human trafficking; 2. Developing multidisciplinary task forces with federal, state, and local law enforcement, service providers, and community- and faith-based organizations to ensure that trafficking victims are identified and referred for appropriate services, and that these cases are investigated and prosecuted; 3. Conducting training, technical assistance and public awareness activities for professionals and community members in order to improve their knowledge of human trafficking and their ability to identify and respond to victims; and 4. Conducting data collection and evaluation activities to determine if the program is meeting stated goals and objectives.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Direct Payments for Specified Use, Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Funding under this program is intended to assist victims of severe forms of human trafficking as defined by the Trafficking Victims Protection Act (TVPA). This includes male and female victims of sex and labor trafficking. The Office for Victims of Crime (OVC) awarded its first cooperative agreements to victim service organizations in FY03 to provide a comprehensive array of direct services to trafficking victims. OVC funds victim service agencies to provide high-quality services to victims of all forms of human trafficking as defined by the Trafficking Victims Protection Act of 2000 and to enhance interagency collaborative and coordination in the provision of services to such victims. OVC makes annual grant funding available for direct comprehensive and specialized services tailored to the needs of human trafficking victims. These services include intensive case management, food, clothing, shelter, medical and dental care, mental health treatment, translation and interpretation services, legal assistance, and more. This OVC funding also supports victim service providers in increasing the capacity of their communities to respond to victims through the development of interagency partnerships and public outreach and awareness efforts. This funding is also made available to state and local law enforcement agencies and victim services organizations in support of multidisciplinary, victim-centered task forces dedicated to investigating trafficking crimes and providing comprehensive services to victims. Administered jointly by OJP's Bureau of Justice Assistance (BJA) and OVC, the Enhanced Collaborative Model to Combat Human Trafficking Program jointly funds law enforcement and service providers to work together to collaboratively respond to human trafficking as a task force. These task forces also include federal law enforcement agencies, such as the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE), as well as U.S. Attorneys Offices, state and local prosecutors, and other stakeholders. Training and technical assistance awards and other human trafficking victim assistance awards are also made through this program.

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); The Attorney General may make grants to States, Indian tribes, units of local government, and nonprofit, non- governmental victim service organizations.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Profit organization; Private nonprofit institution/organization; State; Local; Public nonprofit institution/organization; Other public institution/organization; Eligible victim assistance agencies. Claimants may seek reimbursement for expenses incurred for medical, mental health, funeral and burial, property loss, and other miscellaneous costs (including emergency travel, temporary lodging, and telephone costs).

Applicant Eligibility:

Federal; State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Other public institution/organization; Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Other private institutions/organizations; AEAP: Criteria will vary depending on the grant. For terrorism or mass violence occurring within or outside the U.S., eligible applicants for funding under VOCA, Title II, 42 U.S.C. 10603b, 1404B, include states, victim service organizations, and public agencies (including federal, State and local governments) and non-governmental organizations that provide assistance to victims of crime. With the exception of ITVERP, OVC does not provide funding directly to individual crime victims. ITVERP: For an applicant to be eligible to receive reimbursement under ITVERP as authorized under VOCA, Title II, 42 U.S.C. 10603c, 1404C, an individual must be a national of the United States or an officer or employee of the U.S. Government, as of the date on which the act of terrorism occurred. In addition, the individual must have suffered direct physical or emotional injury or death as a result of an act of international terrorism occurring on or after October 23, 1983, with respect to which an investigation or prosecution was ongoing after April 24, 1996.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Individual/Family; Private nonprofit institution/organization; Anyone/general public; Public nonprofit institution/organization; AEAP: Public and private nonprofit victim assistance agencies; victims of domestic and international terrorism. Eligibility depends on the nature of the grant. ITVERP: The law requires that the individual victim must have suffered direct physical or emotional injury or death as a result of an act of international terrorism occurring on or after October 23, 1983, with respect to which an investigation or prosecution was ongoing or was commenced after April 24, 1996. In the case of a victim who is a minor, incompetent, incapacitated, or is killed, a family member or legally designated representative of the victim may receive expense reimbursement on behalf of the victim. In addition to the victim, claimants may include the following: Spouse of the victim, Parents of the victim, Children of the victim, Siblings of the victim, Legally designated victim representative.

Credentials/Documentation:

All potential applicants shall submit a written proposal along with a budget and budget narrative to the OVC Director for consideration. Proposals submitted by State crime victim compensation program administrators should include the following: (1) a description of the qualifying crime; (2) the projected number of claims to be paid and the projected number of claimants to receive payments; (3) the state's maximum award amount by category, such as medical, mental health, lost wages, funeral, etc.; and (4) a description of the range of expenses covered by the program and the amount of state funding available to cover victim claims. Proposals submitted by State crime victim assistance administrators, and all other applicants seeking crime victim assistance, should include the following: (1) type of crime and description of the criminal event; (2) identification of the lead law enforcement agency conducting the investigation; (3) estimated number of victims affected by the crime; (4) description of the applicant's role in responding to the victim population since the date of the incident; (5) description of services that this funding will support and how these efforts will complement services already in place or will respond to an unmet need; (6) the amount of funding requested and the time frame for support; and (7) description of outreach and coordination with other public and private entities during the process of preparing the request for assistance. Once approved for applying, an AEAP solicitation, with detailed instructions on applying as well as reporting requirements, will be posted on the OJP electronic Grants Management System (GMS). Applicants, except Federal agencies, must submit through GMS (1) SF-424, Application for Federal Funding and applicable assurances and forms; and (2) Budget and budget narrative including a description of all other federal and nonfederal contributions (cash or in-kind). Applications for the AEAP must be submitted to the OVC Director as soon as practical following a terrorist or mass violence event by the appropriate State or federal official or private victim service and non-governmental organizations. ITVERP: All potential applicants shall submit a written application along with all supporting documentation to OVC for consideration. Claimants may apply for itemized, interim emergency, or supplemental reimbursement. An Itemized application should be used by those eligible claimants who are making a first-time request for reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses that were paid following an international terrorism event. An Interim Emergency application should be used by eligible claimants seeking funds for an immediate need such as medical treatment, short-term lodging, or emergency transportation. A Supplemental application should be used by eligible claimants whose expenses have changed since they submitted an initial application. The supplemental application is for bills that may have been received late, or for new services that were not originally thought necessary or included in the original application. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372. Preapplication coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. AEAP: Whereas the previously submitted proposal letter, budget, and budget narrative were key factors in determining eligibility for funding, they were submitted prior to the posting of a solicitation. Application materials submitted electronically through GMS in response to either the assistance or compensation solicitation become permanent parts of the award file. Thus, it will be necessary to resubmit the proposal letter, budget, and budget narrative documents as part of the application package. Applications will be accepted following an incident of terrorism or mass violence in accordance with the timetable set forth in the AEAP Guidelines. There are two factors that determine the application submission requirements for the AEAP: (1)

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

the applicant status, i.e., government agency (Federal, State, or local), non-governmental organization, or victim service organization; and (2) the type of support requested, i.e., crisis response, consequence management, criminal justice, victim compensation, technical assistance (nonmonetary assistance). Application requirements are listed below. Application requirements for State crime victim compensation programs - Funding will be made available to State crime victim compensation programs in response to an incident of terrorism or intentional mass criminal violence within the United States in the form of a grant. Requests for funding from State crime victim compensation programs may be made at any time in the aftermath of an incident and should include: (1) Responses to the questions or issues raised in the AEAP Compensation Solicitation; (2) Proposal letter; (3) Budget; (4) Budget narrative; and (5) SF-424, Application for Federal Assistance and applicable assurances and forms.. Application requirements for all other recipients of funds -All other applicants seeking Antiterrorism Emergency Reserve support are required to submit: (1) Responses to the questions or issues raised in the AEAP Assistance Solicitation; (2) Proposal letter; (3) Budget; (4) Budget narrative; and (5) SF-424, Application for Federal Assistance and applicable assurances and forms. While no direct funding is available, OVC may provide its own consultants to meet the training and technical assistance needs of applicants. Training and technical assistance may be requested by submitting a letter describing the nature of the problem; the type of expertise or assistance needed; the duration of assistance; and the projected outcomes of the technical assistance or training. See OVC guidelines published in the Federal Register (Vol. 67, No. 21, Thursday, January 31, 2002) for additional information on application requirements for the AEAP. ITVERP: Step 1: Identify the type of application you are applying for by marking the appropriate type at the top of the application form. In addition, a supplemental sheet must be filled out by applicants. Sections B, F and H should be answered by all applicants; section G should be answered by Itemized and Supplemental applicants only. Detailed instructions are included. Step 2: If you believe that you are an eligible victim of a "designated" international terrorism event, please use the following forms and information to prepare your application for reimbursement. Required Documentation: A victim is required to submit documentation that provides proof of identity, citizenship, employment, and damage/injury sustained during the international terrorism event. A victim's family member or representative is required to submit documentation of his/her relationship to the victim plus medical information or a death certificate as appropriate, in addition to the items named above. In all cases, receipts for expenses incurred in the recovery process will be required. If any of the required documents have been destroyed and are unavailable from any other source, you must provide and certify a list of destroyed documents and how each would apply to your ITVERP application.

Award Procedure:

AEAP: Upon receipt and internal review of a complete application, it is the intention of OVC to notify applicants of funding decision within 5 business days or as soon as practicable. The applicant may be notified by telephone, Internet or facsimile. ITVERP: After review of each application, the Director shall determine the eligibility of the victim or representative and the amount, if any, eligible for reimbursement, specifying the reasons for such determination and the findings of fact and conclusions of law supporting it. A copy of the determination shall be mailed to the claimant at his last known address. .

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Other. AEAP: It is OVC's intention to make a funding decision within 5 business days of receipt of a complete application or as soon as practicable. ITVERP: It is OVC's intention to review and process payments as soon as practicable. For itemized and supplemental claims, range of approval/disapproval is dependant upon receipt of an official determination of a reasonable indication of an act of international terrorism from the Assistant Attorney General of National Security for a particular event. Processing time is also dependant upon timely response by claimants of any outstanding documents or information required to process claim applications. Claimants may apply for an interim emergency payment, prior to a determination under Section 94.21(a). If the Director determines that such payment is necessary to avoid or mitigate substantial hardship that may result from delaying reimbursement until complete and final consideration of an application, such payment may be made to cover immediate expenses such as those of medical care, funeral and burial, short-term lodging, and emergency transportation.

Appeals:

Other. For both programs, hearing by the Assistant Attorney General, Office of Justice Programs.

Renewals:

Other. AEAP: See OVC guidelines for Antiterrorism and Emergency Assistance Program for Terrorism and Mass Violence Crimes published in the Federal Register, Vol. 67, No. 21, Thursday, January 31, 2002. ITVERP: Not applicable.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statuary formula is not applicable to this assistance listing. Matching requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing. MOE requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

AEAP: For grants, dollars remaining unspent by the State or program within 3 fiscal years after the end of the fiscal year in which the award was made, will revert to the Crime Victims Fund/Antiterrorism Emergency Reserve. Funds are released via the Electronic Transfer System (formerly the Letter of Credit System) on an as needed basis to the recipient. ITVERP: Reimbursements are released via the Electronic Transfer System directly into the claimants bank account. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: other

Reports:

AEAP: semi-annual progress reports are required. ITVERP: There are no reporting requirements for claimants under ITVERP. AEAP: Quarterly financial reports will be required as stipulated in the effective edition of the OJP Financial Guide. A final financial and program report also will be required. ITVERP: There are no reporting requirements for claimants under ITVERP. Performance measure data, as stipulated in the solicitation, are required.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503 AEAP: All organizations that expend financial assistance of $500,000 or more in any fiscal year must have a single audit for that year in accordance with OMB Circular No. A-133, as amended, unless the audit condition on the award says otherwise. These audits are due to the cognizant Federal agency not later than 9 months after the end of the grantee's fiscal year. Not applicable to ITVERP.

Records:

AEAP: Financial records, supporting documents, statistical records, and all other records pertinent to a grant shall be retained for a period of 3 years. ITVERP: All claim files and automated data files are retained on hard copy and on a computer database. All claim files and automated data pertaining to a claim are destroyed 10 years after the date the claim has been fully processed and/or payment made, as approved by the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA). Automated data is retained in its most current form only, however, and as information is updated, outdated information is deleted.

16.524 Legal Assistance for Victims

LAV Program,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE ON VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN (OVW), JUSTICE,
DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Violence Against Women Act of 2000, Public Law 106-386, 42 U.S.C. 3796gg-6.

OBJECTIVES:

These grants are for increasing the availability of comprehensive civil and criminal legal services to victims of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking in matters relating to or arising from the abuse or violence. The goal is to develop innovative, collaborative programs within the legal system that promote victim safety and increase victim economic autonomy.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The Legal Assistance for Victims Grant Program provides an opportunity for communities to enhance legal assistance for victims. Funds may be used: (1) to implement, expand, and establish cooperative efforts and projects between domestic violence, dating violence, and sexual assault victim services organizations and legal assistance providers to provide legal assistance for victims of domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, and sexual assault; (2) to implement, expand, and establish efforts and projects to provide legal assistance for victims of domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, and sexual assault by organizations with a demonstrated history of providing direct legal or advocacy services on behalf of these victims; and (3) to implement, expand, and establish efforts and projects to provide competent, supervised pro bono legal assistance for victims of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking, except that not more than 10 percent of the funds awarded under this section may be used for this purpose.

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Other public institution/organization; Specialized group (e.g. health professionals, students, veterans); Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Eligible grantees for this program are private, nonprofit entities, Indian tribal governments and tribal organizations, territorial organizations, and publicly funded organizations not acting in their governmental capacity, such as law schools.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Individual/Family; Specialized group (e.g. health professionals, students, veterans); Private nonprofit institution/organization; State; Public nonprofit institution/organization; Other public institution/organization; Beneficiaries include public or private nonprofit entities providing legal assistance primarily to victims of domestic violence, sexual assault, and or stalking and victims of these crimes who receive legal assistance.

Credentials/Documentation:

To be eligible for an award under the LAV Grant Program, applicants must certify in writing that they are in compliance with the following statutory requirements:

(1) Any person providing legal assistance through a program funded under the LAV Grant Program (A) has demonstrated expertise in providing legal assistance to victims of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking in the targeted population; or (B)(i) is partnered with an entity or person that has demonstrated expertise described in subparagraph (A); and (ii) has completed or will complete training in connection with sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking and related legal issues, including training on evidence-based risk factors for domestic and dating violence homicide. (2) Any training program conducted in satisfaction of the requirement of paragraph (1) has been or will be developed with input from and in collaboration with a State, Territorial, Tribal, or local sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking victim service provider or coalition, as well as appropriate, State, Territorial, Tribal, and local law enforcement officials. (3) Any person or organization providing legal assistance through a program funded under the LAV Grant Program has informed and will continue to inform State, local, or Tribal sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking programs and coalitions, as well as appropriate State and local law enforcement officials of their work. (4) The grantee's organizational policies do not require mediation or counseling involving offenders and victims physically together, in cases where sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking, or child sexual abuse is an issue. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Applicants must apply online in accordance with instructions contained in the program solicitation. The receipt, review, and analysis of application will follow Office on Violence Against Women policies and procedures for the administration of grant applications.

Award Procedure:

Upon approval by the Office on Violence Against Women, online notification is sent to the applicant agency with copies of the Grant Award. One copy of the Grant Award must be signed by an authorized official and returned to OVW.

16.525 Grants to Reduce Domestic Violence, Dating Violence, Sexual Assault, and Stalking on Campus

Campus Program,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE ON VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN (OVW), JUSTICE,
DEPARTMENT OF
AUTHORIZATION:

The Violence Against Women and Department of Justice Reauthorization Act of 2005, Title III, Section 304, Public Law 109-162, 42 U.S.C. 14045b, as amended; the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act of 2013, Public Law 113-4.

OBJECTIVES:

To develop and strengthen effective security and investigation strategies to combat sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking on campuses, and to develop and strengthen victim services in cases involving such crimes against women on campuses, which may include partnerships with local criminal justice authorities and community-based victim services agencies, and to develop and strengthen prevention education and awareness programs.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Funds may be used for one or more of the following statutory program purpose areas: (1) To provide personnel, training, technical assistance, data collection, and other equipment with respect to the increased apprehension, investigation, and adjudication of persons committing domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking on campus.(2) To develop, strengthen, and implement campus policies, protocols, and services that more effectively identify and respond to the crimes of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking, including the use of technology to commit these crimes, and to train campus administrators, campus security personnel, and personnel serving on campus disciplinary or judicial boards on such policies, protocols, and services. Within 90 days after January 5, 2006, the Attorney General shall issue and make available minimum standards of training relating to domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking on campus, for all campus security personnel and personnel serving on campus disciplinary or judicial boards.(3) To implement and operate education programs for the prevention of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking.(4) To develop, enlarge, or strengthen victim services programs and population specific services on the campuses of the institutions involved, including programs providing legal, medical, or psychological counseling, for victims of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking, and to improve delivery of victim assistance on campus. To the extent practicable, such an institution shall collaborate with any victim service providers in the community in which the institution is located. If appropriate victim services programs are not available in the community or are not accessible to students, the institution shall, to the extent practicable, provide a victim services program on campus or create a victim services program in collaboration with a community-based organization. The institution shall use not less than 20 percent of the funds made available through the grant for a victim services program provided in accordance with this paragraph, regardless of whether the services are provided by the institution or in coordination with community victim service providers.(5) To create, disseminate, or otherwise provide assistance and information about victims options on and off campus to bring disciplinary or other legal action, including assistance to victims in immigration matters.(6) To develop, install, or expand data collection and communication systems, including computerized systems, linking campus security to the local law enforcement for the purpose of identifying and tracking arrests, protection orders, violations of protection orders, prosecutions, and convictions with respect to the crimes of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking on campus.(7) To provide capital improvements (including improved lighting and communications facilities but not including the construction of buildings) on campuses to address the crimes of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking.(8) To support improved coordination among campus administrators, campus security personnel, and local law enforcement to reduce domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking on campus.(9) To develop or adapt and provide developmental, culturally appropriate, and linguistically accessible print or electronic materials to address both prevention and intervention in domestic violence, dating violence, sexual violence, and stalking. And,(10) To develop or adapt population specific strategies and projects for victims of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking from underserved populations on campus.

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Institutions of higher education as defined under the Higher Education Amendments of 1998 that are in compliance with the campus crime reporting requirements set forth in 20 U.S.C. 1092 (f) as amended by Public Law 105-244, 112 Stat. 1581, Sec. 486 (e) (1998). A consortia of institutions of higher education may also apply for these grants provided that each individual consortium member is also eligible to apply.

AUTHORIZATION:

Violence Against Women and Department of Justice Reauthorization Act of 2005, Public Law 109-162, Section 3(a), 42 U.S.C. 13925(b)(11).

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

OBJECTIVES:

To provide communities with critical resources that help them forge partnerships across agencies and disciplines to respond effectively to violent crimes against women. OVW's Technical Assistance Program was created to provide grantees with the expertise and support they need to develop and implement successful local projects, increase victim safety, and bolster offender accountability. Grantees participate in educational initiatives, conferences, peer-to-peer consultations, and targeted assistance that allow them to learn from experts and one another about how to overcome obstacles and incorporate promising practices in their efforts to address violence against women. In addition, the Technical Assistance Program focuses on building the capacity of national criminal justice and victim advocacy organizations to effectively address violent crimes against women and examine issues of special interest to OVW and its constituents.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

OVW funds a constellation of technical assistance projects to support the activities of its grantees and to forge partnerships among organizations that have not traditionally worked together to address domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking. Grantees learn from national experts and each other how best to develop and implement locally responsive programs. OVW encourages applicants to the Technical Assistance Program to design educational initiatives that are interactive and experiential and that seek to change values and attitudes that have traditionally prevented victim advocates and criminal justice professionals from responding effectively to sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. Applicants proposing education programs must detail the adult education methods they will use to promote new insight, knowledge, skills, and abilities in the individuals with whom they propose to work.

Applicant Eligibility:

Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Other public institution/organization; Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Other private institutions/organizations; Eligible applicants are nonprofit national, tribal and statewide organizations and institutions of higher education. In rare circumstances, state/local government agencies or local nonprofits may be eligible.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Private nonprofit institution/organization; Other private institution/organization; Public nonprofit institution/organization; Other public institution/organization; Beneficiaries are organizations or individuals partnered with organizations.

16.543 Missing Children's Assistance

Missing and Exploited Children (MEC) Program,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF
AUTHORIZATION:

An act appropriating funds for the Department of Justice.

OBJECTIVES:

To coordinate Federal missing and exploited children activities and to support research, training, technical assistance, and demonstration programs to enhance the overall response to missing and exploited children and as well as their families. Establish and maintain a national resource center and clearinghouse dedicated to missing and exploited children issues that: (1) provides a toll-free hotline where citizens can report investigative leads and parents and other interested individuals can receive information concerning missing children; (2) provides technical assistance to parents, law enforcement, and other professionals working on missing and exploited children cases; (3) promotes information sharing and provides technical assistance by networking with regional nonprofit organizations, State missing children clearinghouses, and law enforcement agencies; (4) develops publications that contain practical, timely information; and (5) provides information regarding programs offering free or low-cost transportation services that assist in reuniting children with their families. On a periodic basis, as funding is designated by Congress for this purpose, conduct national incidence studies to determine the type and extent of missing children in America. Support law enforcement demonstration programs (e.g., the Internet Crimes Against Children Task Force Program) to enhance the investigative response to missing and exploited children cases. Support research to broaden understanding of a wide range of missing and exploited children issues (e.g., abduction homicide investigation solvability factors), to inform training and technical assistance efforts and to identify promising practices and programs for replication. Develop training programs for law enforcement, child protective services, medical personnel, and prosecutors to enhance coordination and effectiveness of missing and exploited children investigations and to enhance the overall system response. Identify service gaps and develop programs to meet specialized needs of parents or guardians of children who are reported missing.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

On the basis of a yearly appropriation and sufficient funds, the program pays for research, demonstration projects, or service programs designed (1) to educate parents, children, and community agencies and organizations in ways to prevent the abductions and sexual exploitation of children; (2) to provide information to assist in the locating and return of missing children; (3) to aid communities in the collection of materials which would be useful to parents in assisting others in the identification of missing children; (4) to increase knowledge of and develop effective treatment pertaining to the psychological consequences, on both parents and children, of (a) the abduction of a child, both during the period of disappearance and after the child is recovered; and (b) the sexual exploitation of a missing child; (5) to collect detailed data from selected States or localities on the actual investigative practices utilized by law enforcement agencies in missing children's cases; (6) to address the particular needs of missing children by minimizing the negative impact of judicial and law enforcement procedures on children who are victims of abuse or sexual exploitation and by promoting the active participation of children and their families in cases involving abuse or sexual exploitation of children; (7) to address the needs of missing children and their families following the recovery of such children; and (8) reduce the likelihood that individuals under 18 years of age will be removed from the control of such individuals legal custodians without such custodians' consent; (9) and to establish or operate statewide clearinghouses to assist in recovering or locating missing children. Funds that support missing childrens program activities.

AUTHORIZATION:

Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act, Part E, 11171-11172, and an act appropriating funds for the Department of Justice in the current fiscal year.

OBJECTIVES:

The goal of this program is to provide funding to states, local units of government, and federal recognized tribes to implement programs and strategies to prevent and intervene youth gang related violence. To prevent, intervene, and reduce the participation of juveniles in the activities of gangs that commit crimes. Such programs and activities may include: 1) individual, peer, family, and group counseling, including provision of life skills training and preparation for living independently, which shall include cooperation with social services, welfare, and health care programs; 2) education and social services designed to address the social and developmental needs of juveniles; 3) crisis intervention and counseling to juveniles, who are particularly at risk of gang involvement, and their families; 4) the organization of the neighborhood and community groups to work closely with parents, schools, law enforcement, and other public and private agencies in the community; 5) supporting the coordination of existing comprehensive community-based anti-gang initiatives; and 6) training and assistance to adults who have significant relationships with juveniles who are or may become members of gangs, to assist such adults in providing constructive alternatives to participating in the activities of gangs. To develop within the juvenile adjudicatory and correctional systems new and innovative means to address the problems of juveniles convicted of serious drug-related and gang-related offenses. To provide treatment to juveniles who are members of such gangs, including members who are accused of committing a serious crime and members who have been adjudicated as being delinquent. To promote the involvement of juveniles in lawful activities in geographical areas in which gangs commit crimes. To promote and support, with the cooperation of community-based organizations experienced in providing services to juveniles engaged in gang-related activities and cooperation of local law enforcement agencies, the development of policies and activities in public elementary and secondary schools which will assist such schools in maintaining a safe environment conducive to learning. To assist juveniles who are or may become members of gangs to obtain appropriate educational instruction, in or outside a regular school program, including the provision of counseling and other services to promote and support the continued participation of such juveniles in such instructional programs. To expand the availability of prevention and treatment services relating to the illegal use of controlled substances and controlled substances analogues (as defined in paragraphs (6) and (32) of section 102 of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 802) by juveniles, provided through State and local health and social services agencies. To provide services to prevent juveniles from coming into contact with the juvenile justice system again as a result of gang- related activity. To provide services at a special location in a school or housing project. To facilitate coordination and cooperation among: 1) local education, juvenile justice, employment, law enforcement, and social service agencies; and 2) community-based programs with a proven record of effectively providing intervention services to juvenile gang members for the purpose of reducing the participation of juveniles in illegal gang activities.

16.571 Public Safety Officers' Benefits Program

(PSOB),

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Public Safety Officers' Benefits Act of 1976, codified at 34 U.S.C. 10281 10288 (as reclassified effective September 1, 2017), formerly classified to sections 3796-3796c-3 of Title 42, The Public Health and Welfare.

OBJECTIVES:

To provide death benefits to the eligible survivors of federal, state, or local public safety officers whose deaths are the direct and proximate result of a personal (traumatic) injury sustained in the line of duty. Effective November 29, 1990, the Act also provides the same benefit to a public safety officer who has been permanently and totally disabled as the direct result of a catastrophic personal injury sustained in the line of duty. The injury must permanently prevent the officer from performing any gainful work.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Direct Payments with Unrestricted Use

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

To provide a one-time financial death benefit to the eligible survivors of federal, state, local, and tribal public safety officers, and disability benefit to the federal, state, local, or tribal public safety officer whose permanent and total disability is the direct and proximate result of a catastrophic personal injury sustained in the line of duty. There are no restrictions to how the monies are spent once they reach the recipient with the exception that monies paid on behalf of minor children must be used for their care and benefit.

Applicant Eligibility:

Individual/Family; Public safety officer means--(A) an individual serving a public agency in an official capacity, with or without compensation, as a law enforcement officer, as a firefighter, or as a chaplain;(B) an employee of the Federal Emergency Management Agency who is performing official duties of the Agency in an area, if those official duties(i) are related to a major disaster or emergency that has been, or is later, declared to exist with respect to the area under the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act; and(ii) are determined by the Administrator of the Federal Emergency Management Agency to be hazardous duties;(C) an employee of a State, local, or tribal emergency management or civil defense agency who is performing official duties in cooperation with the Federal Emergency Management Agency in an area, if those official duties(i) are related to a major disaster or emergency that has been, or is later, declared to exist with respect to the area under the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act; and(ii) are determined by the head of the agency to be hazardous duties; or(D) a member of a rescue squad or ambulance crew who, as authorized or licensed by law and by the applicable agency or entity, is engaging in rescue activity or in the provision of emergency medical services.Disabled public safety officers and eligible survivors of deceased public safety officers in the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Guam, Virgin Islands, American Samoa, the Pacific Trust Territories and the Northern Mariana Islands are also eligible for benefits under the Act. Death benefit coverage for (1) state and local law enforcement officers and firefighters applies to deaths occurring on or after September 29, 1976; (2) federal law enforcement officers and firefighters applies to deaths occurring on or after October 12, 1984; (3) federal, state, and local rescue squad and ambulance crew members applies to death occurring on or after October 15, 1986; (4) members of certain nonprofit rescue squads and ambulance crews applies to deaths occurring on or after June 1, 2009; and (5) Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) personnel and state, local, and tribal emergency management and civil defense agency employees applies to deaths occurring on or after October 30, 2000. Disability benefit coverage for federal, state, and local law enforcement officers, firefighters and members of public rescue squads and ambulance crews applies to injuries sustained on or after November 29, 1990. FEMA personnel and state, local, and tribal emergency management and civil defense agency employees are covered for such injuries sustained on or after October 30, 2000. Disability benefit coverage for federal, state, and local law enforcement officers, firefighters and members of public rescue squads and ambulance crews applies to injuries sustained on or after November 29, 1990. FEMA personnel and state, local, and tribal emergency management and civil defense agency employees are covered for such injuries sustained on or after October 30, 2000 and Chaplains as of September 11, 2001.As of January 2, 2013, disability benefit coverage for members of public agency and certain nonprofit rescue squads and ambulance crews applies to injuries sustained on or after June 1, 2009; for injuries sustained between June 29, 1990, and June 1, 2009, disability benefit coverage extends only to members of public agency rescue squads and ambulance crews.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Individual/Family; The Public Safety Officers' Benefits (PSOB) Act, enacted in 1976, was designed to offer peace of mind to men and women seeking careers in public safety and to make a strong statement about the value American society places on the contributions of those who serve their communities in potentially dangerous circumstances. The PSOB Program provides a one-time financial benefit to the eligible survivors of public safety officers whose deaths are the direct and proximate result of a traumatic injury sustained in the line of duty. The benefit is determined by the date of the fatal or totally and permanently disabling injury and is adjusted annually for inflation. A table with the annually adjusted amounts is contained here: https://www.psob.gov/benefits_by_year.html

Credentials/Documentation:

Claim forms entitled "Claim for Death Benefits" and "Report of Public Safety Officer's Death" or "Report of Public Safety Officers' Permanent and Total Disability," and supporting claimant, medical and investigative documentation. This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372. Employing agencies and/or claimants should initiate a claim via the online system at www.psob.gov, or by emailing, telephoning, or writing to the Public Safety Officers' Benefits Program, Bureau of Justice Assistance, 810 7th Street NW, Washington, DC 20531. Telephone: (1-888) 744-6513. Upon receiving such notification, program staff will provide claim forms and advise the employing agency and claimant of claim documentation requirements.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Submit "Claim for Death Benefits" and "Report of Public Safety Officer's Death" or "Report of Public Safety Officers' Permanent and Total Disability," and supporting documentation to the Public Safety Officers' Benefits Office, Bureau of Justice Assistance, 810 7th Street NW, Washington, DC 20531.

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

Award Procedure:

Upon a finding of eligibility by the Bureau of Justice Assistance, eligible claimants receive a lump sum benefit. For Death Benefit: If the officer is survived by spouse, but there are no eligible children, the spouse will receive 100% of the benefit. If the officer is survived by spouse and eligible children, the spouse will receive 50% of the benefit and the children will receive equal shares of the remaining 50%. If the officer is survived by eligible children but no spouse, the children will receive equal shares of the benefit. If the officer is survived by neither a spouse nor eligible children and did not have a PSOB designee or life insurance policy on file with his or her employing agency, then the benefit will be made payable to the surviving parents in equal shares. If there are no surviving parents, then children who would be eligible but for age will receive the benefit in equal shares.

16.576 Crime Victim Compensation

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF
AUTHORIZATION:

an act appropriating funds for the Department of Justice in the current fiscal year., Victims of Crime Act (VOCA) of 1984 USC Code 34 U.S.C. 20102.

OBJECTIVES:

The Office for Victims of Crime (OVC), Department of Justice, administers the Crime Victim Compensation formula grant program. OVC annually awards a grant to each state, the District of Columbia, the U.S. Virgin Islands, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico to support state crime victim compensation programs. These programs help pay for some of the expenses resulting from crimes involving violence or abuse.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Formula Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Funds under this program shall be used by the States for awards of compensation benefits to crime victims, with the following exception: States may retain up to 5 percent of their total grant for administrative and training purposes. Formula grant funds to an eligible State crime victim compensation program is based on 60 percent of the amounts States expended during the fiscal year preceding the year of collections for the Crime Victims Fund, other than amounts awarded for property damage. If the sums available in the Fund for grants under this program are insufficient to provide grants of 60 percent as provided above, grants from the sums available will be made to each eligible crime victim compensation program so that all such programs receive the same percentage of the amounts awarded by such programs during the preceding fiscal year, other than amounts awarded for property damage. A crime victim compensation program is an eligible crime victim compensation program if (1) such program is operated by a State and offers compensation to victims and survivors of victims of criminal violence, including drunk driving and domestic violence for: (A) medical expenses attributable to a physical injury resulting from a compensable crime, including expenses for mental health counseling and care; (B) loss of wages attributable to a physical injury resulting from a compensable crime; and (C) funeral expenses attributable to a death resulting from a compensable crime; (2) such program promotes victim cooperation with the reasonable requests of law enforcement authorities; (3) such State, possession or territory certifies that grants received under this program will not be used to supplant funds otherwise available to provide crime victim compensation; (4) such program, as to compensable crimes occurring within the State, possession or territory, makes compensation awards to victims who are nonresidents of the State, possession or territory on the basis of the same criteria used to make awards to victims who are residents of the State, possession or territory; (5) such program provides compensation to victims of Federal crimes occurring within the State on the same basis that such program provides compensation to victims of State crimes; (6) such program does not, except pursuant to rules issued by the program to prevent unjust enrichment of the offender, deny compensation to any victim because of that victim's familial relationship to the offender, or because of the sharing of a residence by the victim and the offender; (7) such program does not provide compensation to any person who has been convicted of an offense under Federal law with respect to any time period during which the person is delinquent in paying a fine, other monetary penalty, or restitution imposed for the offense; and (8) such program provides such other information and assurances related to the purposes of this section as the Director may reasonably require. Any amount of crime victim compensation that the applicant receives through a crime victim compensation program under this section shall not be included in the income of the applicant until the total amount of assistance that the applicant receives from all such programs is sufficient to fully compensate the applicant for losses suffered as a result of the crime. As used in this section; (1) the term "property damage" does not include damage to prosthetic devices, eyeglasses or other corrective lenses, or dental devices; (2) the term "medical expenses" includes, to the extent provided under the eligible crime victim compensation program, expenses for eyeglasses and other corrective lenses, for dental services and devices and prosthetic devices, and for services rendered in accordance with a method of healing recognized by the law of the State; (3) the term "compensable crime" means a crime the victims of which are eligible for compensation under the eligible crime victim compensation program, and includes crimes involving driving while intoxicated and domestic violence; and (4) the term "State" includes the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, and any other possession or territory of the United States.

16.582 Crime Victim Assistance/Discretionary Grants

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF
AUTHORIZATION:

42 U.S.C. 10603(c)(1)(A); 42 U.S.C. 10603(c)(1)(B); 42 U.S.C. 10603d(a); and 42 U.S.C. 10603e(a).

OBJECTIVES:

The Office for Victims of Crime (OVC) administers a discretionary grant program and other assistance programs for crime victims with amounts set-aside from deposits into the Crime Victims Fund for (a) demonstration projects and training and technical assistance services to eligible crime victims assistance programs; and (b) for the financial support of services to victims of Federal crime by eligible crime victim assistance programs. The purpose of the demonstration and training and technical assistance grants is to improve the overall quality of services delivered to crime victims through the provision of training and technical assistance to providers. Of the amount available for training and technical assistance and services to victims of Federal crimes, no less than 50 percent shall be used for demonstration programs and training and technical assistance, and not more than 50 percent for services to victims of Federal crimes.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Direct Payments for Specified Use, Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Funds are available specifically for (a) demonstration projects and training and technical assistance service to eligible crime victim assistance programs; and (b) for the financial support of services to victims of Federal crime by eligible crime victim assistance programs. For the purpose of the grants authorized in 42 U.S.C. 10603, an eligible crime victim assistance program is defined as: (a) operated by a public agency or a nonprofit organization, or a combination of such agencies or organizations or both such agencies and organizations, and providing service to victims of crime; (b) demonstrating (i) a record of providing effective services to victims of crime and financial support from sources other than the Fund; or (ii) substantial financial support from sources other than the Fund; (c) utilizing volunteers in providing such services, unless to the extent the chief executive determines that compelling reasons exist to waive this requirement; (d) promoting within the community served coordinated public and private efforts to the crime victims; and (e) assisting potential recipients in seeking crime victim compensation benefits. For the purpose of grants authorized for assistance to victims of federal crime, services includes (a) training of law enforcement personnel in the delivery of services to victims of Federal crime; (b) preparation, publication, and distribution of informational materials, setting forth services offered to victims of crime; and concerning services for victims of Federal crime for use by Federal law enforcement and other responsible Federal officials; and (c) salaries of personnel who provide services to victims of crime, to the extent that these personnel provide such services.

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Other public institution/organization; Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Other private institutions/organizations; Native American Organizations (includes Indian groups, cooperatives, corporations, partnerships, associations); Criteria will vary depending on the grant or grant program. Generally, eligible applicants may include American Indian/Alaska Native Tribes and tribal organizations, States, United States Attorneys' offices, universities and colleges, eligible public agencies that provide victim services and private nonprofit agencies. Applicants for Tribal Victim Assistance grants must be an Indian Tribe, Tribal organization, partnership or nonprofit organization that provides direct services to victims of crime in Indian Country.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Individual/Family; Private nonprofit institution/organization; Anyone/general public; Native American Organizations; American Indian; Public nonprofit institution/organization; Eligible victim assistance agencies. 16.585 Drug Court Discretionary Grant Program

Drug Court Program (DCP),

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF AUTHORIZATION:

Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2018, 132 Stat. 348, 422 USC Code 34 10611, et. seq.

OBJECTIVES:

Goal: The overall goal of the Adult Drug Court Discretionary Grant Program (ADCDGP) is to equip courts and community supervision systems with the necessary tools and resources, utilizing the most current evidence-based practices and principles, to intervene with participants who abuse substances while preparing them for success in the community. Objectives: Assisting courts that utilize evidence-based practices and principles, which are incorporated into the NADCP drug court standards. Building and maximizing the capacity of jurisdictions to ensure that all potential participants are identified and assessed for risk and need. Ensuring all participants receive targeted evidence-based services. Enhancing the provision of recovery support services, including transitional clean and sober housing assistance to reduce recidivism. Reducing obstacles to successful recovery, including the provision of specified civil legal assistance. Supporting strategies that ensure drug court practitioners have the tools to effectively manage these interventions, including data collection and analysis to inform system improvement and implementation fidelity, training and technical assistance, and tracking and improving drug court performance.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Allowable uses of funds are outlined in the Drug Court Program Guideline available from the Department of Justice Response Center. Assistance can be used by assisting states, local court, and tribal nonviolent adult and juvenile offenders by involving early and continuous judicial supervision over these offenders. The administration of appropriate incentives and sanctions will help to reduce recidivism and substance misuse among high-risk participants with substance use disorders and increase their likelihood of successful rehabilitation. Drug Court Programs under Title V will be for nonviolent adult and juvenile offenders and involve early and continuous judicial supervision over the nonviolent substance use disorder offenders and the integrated administration of sanctions and services including: (1) mandatory and random drug testing for the use of controlled substances or other addictive substances during any period of supervised release or probation; (2) evidence-based substance use disorder treatment for each participant according to need; (3) diversion, probation, or other supervised release involving the possibility of prosecution, confinement, or incarceration based on noncompliance with program requirements; and (4) programmatic offender management and aftercare services.

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Grants can be awarded to states, state courts, local courts, units of local government and Indian tribal governments, acting directly or through agreements with other public or private entities. Applicants may choose to submit joint applications with other eligible jurisdictions for statewide, regional, and multijurisdictional drug court programs. With joint applications, one organization must be designated as the applicant and any co-applicants designated accordingly. The applicant organization must be eligible and the other agencies/organizations must provide supporting documentation. All applicants must demonstrate that they have the management and financial capabilities to effectively plan and implement projects of the size and scope described in the application kit. Nonprofit and for-profit agencies are not eligible applicants. For an application from a subunit of government (e.g., county probation department, district attorney's office, pretrial services agency) to be considered, it must be designated by letter as representing an eligible applicant (described above). For example, the county court or county executive may designate the county probation or county district attorney's office as its representative for the purpose of application. In this instance, the applicant continues to be the designating state, court system, or unit of local government. The county probation, district attorney's office, or other designated subunit, is the organization authorized to submit an application on behalf of the eligible applicant.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

State; Local; States, local governments, Indian tribal governments, public or private entities.

Credentials/Documentation:

The application must include: Application for Federal Assistance (Standard Form 424); applicant Information page; a one-page program abstract summarizing the goals and objectives of the grant request; program narrative; letters of support; detailed budget and budget narrative; administrative requirements; and assurances and certifications. See program announcement for more information. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372. Prospective applicants may view the preapplication requirements by visiting the web site at <https://www.bja.gov>.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. All competitive grant applications must be submitted electronically through the Grant Management System (GMS) at <http://grants.ojp.usdoj.gov>. Applications or supplemental materials received by facsimile or postal mail will not be accepted. For additional information, see the current fiscal years solicitation available at www.bja.gov.

Award Procedure:

An award is granted by the Assistant Attorney General, Office of Justice Programs, and must be accepted by the applicant agency or institution according to the special conditions of the grant or cooperative agreement.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Other. Approximately 60 days.

Appeals:

Other. For Formula awards, please see 28 CFR Part 18. There are no appeal rights for rejection of a discretionary application, but for discretionary awards, please see 28 CFR Part 18.

Renewals:

Other. Grants can be extended by submitting a written justification for an extension to the Bureau of Justice Assistance office for review. Extensions are subject to approval by the Bureau of Justice Assistance and renewals subject to congressional funding.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory formula is not applicable to this assistance listing. Matching Requirements: Percent: 25%. Requirement: Matching requirements are mandatory. The federal share of a grant received under this subtitle may not exceed 75 percent of the total cost of an applicant's projected budget. The matching requirement is a 25 percent match provided by the applicant. A portion of the match must be cash. This is required by statute; the term "portion" is not defined. For additional information, please see the current fiscal years solicitation available at www.bja.gov. MOE requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Project duration period will be up to 3 years for Implementation, Enhancement, and Statewide Grants. For additional information, please see the current fiscal years solicitation available at www.bja.gov. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: other

Reports:

Drug Court Grantee Data Collection Survey. Recipients are required to submit semi-annual Progress Reports. Recipients are required to submit quarterly Financial Reports. To assist in fulfilling the Departments responsibilities under the Government Performance and Results Act of 1993 (GPRA), Public Law 103-62, and the GPRA Modernization Act of 2010, Public Law 111352, recipients must provide data that measures the results of their work.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503. Payments and transactions are subject to audits by the Government Accountability Office, the Department of Justice's Office of the Inspector General, state or local government auditors, and auditors from independent public accounting firms. Jurisdictions must follow their local policies and procedures, including maintenance of reliable and accurate accounting systems, record keeping, and systems of internal control.

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

2019 Category 1 (Implementation): The Veterans Treatment Court (VTC) will target male and female defendants with felony charges and diagnosable behavioral health issues, who are residents of the County and have current or prior service in any branch of the U.S. Armed Forces. The VTC and its surrounding rural areas have a dense population of veterans and service members. The VTC will also accept transfers of veterans and service members cases from other jurisdictions in the area. The Court accepted and pled 10 veteran defendants into the Program. To date, the VTC Program has 20 clients and 10 waiting to plea into the program. The VTCs current capacity is 30 clients. Defendants with high criminogenic risk and high substance abuse and behavioral health treatment need will be targeted. Offenders will be subject to or eligible for legal sanctions that may provide greater leverage in program compliance. All VTC cases will be post-plea; the Department of Corrections sentence is deferred based on completion of the program. Research on justice involved adults has highlighted SUDs and Antisocial Personality Disorder as having a strong and direct link with recidivism. Evidence-based trauma informed interventions used in Intensive Outpatient Programs (IOP), Outpatient and residential services will be utilized. Implementation of the VTC will decrease recidivism in veteran offenders by getting them supervised substance use disorder or mental health treatment in addition to being held accountable for their actions.

Category 2 (Enhancement): The Treatment Court (TC) is seeking funding ($500,000) to upgrade its readiness to respond to the opioid overdose epidemic by establishing a New Model for opioid addiction. This proposal will be conducted in pre-adjudication Adult Drug Court servicing non-violent offenders. These funds would be used to complement the current TC structure by (1) expanding the number of participants served that meet the existing target population description, (2) expand the target population description and serve additional participants who meet the expanded description, and (3) enhance court operations. The current maximum participant capacity of the TC can serve in one day is 500. The total number of participants proposed to receive services with these grant funds is 225 (50 in year one, 75 year two, and 100 year three). The target population is any individual charged with a non-violent misdemeanor and/or felony offense related to their substance abuse. Resources are prioritized to address high criminogenic risk and opioid overdose. Category 3 (Statewide A & B): This application seeks funding for Category 3: Statewide, subcategories A and B. Subcategory B ($1,500,000) to develop, implement and provide local technical assistance for an improved data collection tool for adult problem solving courts statewide. The State has 45 adult problem solving courts in both rural and urban jurisdictions, and has both pre- and post-adjudication courts. For approximately 10 years, the courts have been utilizing a data collection tool called USAD. This tool is no longer a sustainable platform and does not provide local level staff with effective data reports and evaluation functionality. LIS research will assist in the provision of technical assistance and evaluation of local needs. The development of this database most closely aligns with Adult Drug Court Best Practice Standard X: Monitoring and Evaluation, but the goal of the tool is to increase courts' capacity to track adherence to all Best Practice Standards and Key Components. Additionally, this application seeks funding for Category 3: Statewide, subcategory A ($500,000) to conduct an assessment of veterans treatment court (VTC) mentor programs for the state. The State has twenty VTCs in both rural and urban jurisdictions, and has both pre- and post-adjudication courts. The first VTC in the State began in 2009 in the forty-fifth judicial district in the State, the other five courts began operating in subsequent years with the most recent VTC beginning operations in the forty-sixth judicial district in 2015 in the State. Currently, the State VTC's have the capacity to handle 330 cases and are at 81% capacity, serving 268 participants. The VTC mentor program assessment will utilize both quantitative and qualitative methodology to empirically understand the correlates of how mentoring impacts the participants experience and the effects of mentoring on participant outcomes, such as recidivism, relapse, and reincarceration. This assessment will compare mentored to unmentored participants, and will conduct baseline and follow-up surveys up to two years following their initial survey. The VTC mentor program assessment's main emphasis aligns most closely with NADCP Adult Drug Court Best Practice Standard X: monitoring and evaluation to measure the achievement of program goals and to gauge effectiveness.

projects to provide services and responses targeting male and female victims of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking, whose ability to access traditional services and responses is affected by their sexual orientation or gender identity, as defined in section 249(c) of title 18; and(20) developing, enhancing, or strengthening prevention and educational programming to address domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking, with not more than 5 percent of the amount allocated to a State to be used for this purpose.

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); U.S. Territories and possessions (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); All States, Puerto Rico, Guam, American Samoa, the Virgin Islands, the Northern Mariana Islands, and the District of Columbia, are eligible.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Private nonprofit institution/organization; Native American Organizations; State; Local; State and local units of government, nonprofit nongovernmental victim service programs, state, local, and tribal courts, and Indian tribal governments.

Credentials/Documentation:

Grantees under this program are subject to 4 certification requirements: (1) A State, Indian tribal government, or unit of local government shall not be entitled to funds under this program unless the State, Indian tribal government, or another governmental entity incurs the full out-of-pocket cost of forensic medical examinations for victims of sexual assault and coordinates with health care providers in the region to notify victim of sexual assault of the availability of rape exams at no cost to the victims. A State or Indian tribal government may use Federal grant funds under this part to pay for forensic medical exams performed by trained examiners for victims of sexual assault, except that such funds may not be used to pay for forensic medical exams by any State, Indian tribal government, or territorial government that requires victims of sexual assault to seek reimbursement for such exams from their insurance carriers. The state, tribal government, or local government must comply with this provision without regard to whether the victim participates in the criminal justice system, cooperates with law enforcement, or both. (2) a State shall not be entitled to funds under this program unless it certifies that its laws, policies, and practices do not require, in connection with the prosecution of any misdemeanor or felony domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking offense, or in connection with the filing, issuance, registration, modification, enforcement, dismissal, withdrawal, or service of a protection order, or a petition for a protection order, to protect a victim of domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, or sexual assault, that the victim bear the costs associated with the filing of criminal charges against the offender, or the costs associated with the filing, issuance, registration, modification, enforcement, dismissal, withdrawal, or service of a warrant, protection order, petition for a protection order, or witness subpoena, whether issued inside or outside the State, tribal or local jurisdiction (3) States must certify that that their judicial administrative policies and practices include notification to domestic violence offenders of the requirements delineated in section 922(g)(8) and (g)(9) of title 18, United States Code, and any applicable related Federal, State, or local laws; or give the Attorney General assurances that their judicial administrative policies and practices will be in compliance with this requirement within the later of the period ending on the date on which the next session of the State legislature ends or January 5, 2008. (4) In order to be eligible for grants under this part, a State, Indian tribal government, territorial government, or unit of local government shall certify that, not later than January 5, 2009., their laws, policies, or practices will ensure that no law enforcement officer, prosecuting officer or other government official shall ask or require an adult, youth, or child victim of an alleged sex offense as defined under Federal, tribal, State, territorial, or local law to submit to a polygraph examination or other truth telling device as a condition for proceeding with the investigation of such an offense. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review. OVW will provide an annual solicitation. Applicants will apply according to the instructions in the solicitation.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Applicants must apply through the Office of Justice Programs' online Grants Management System (GMS). The receipt, review, and analysis of application will follow Office on Violence Against Women policies and procedures for the administration of grant applications.

Award Procedure:

Upon approval by the Office on Violence Against Women, online notification is sent to the applicant agency with copies of the Grant Award. One copy of the Grant Award must be signed by an authorized official and returned to OVW.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

From 120 to 180 days. 120 -180 days after receipt of an application.

Appeals:

Other. Contact the Office on Violence Against Women for further information.

Renewals:

Other. Applications are submitted on an annual basis.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory Formula: Title 28, Part 90, Subpart B, Matching Requirements: Percent: 25%. Requirement: Matching requirements are voluntary. Each eligible entity receives a base amount of $600,000. Remaining funds are divided in an amount that bears the same ratio to the amount of remaining funds as the population of the State bears to the population of all of the States that results from a distribution among the States on the basis of each State's population in relation to the population of all States (not including populations of Indian tribes). The Federal share of these grants may not exceed 75 percent of the total costs of the projects described in the applications. Projects to victim service providers for victim services or for tribes do not count towards the total costs of the projects for purposes of calculating match. States may satisfy this 25 percent match through in-kind services. All funds designated as match are restricted to the same uses as the Office on Violence Against Women funds and must be expended within the grant period. States and subgrantees may apply for a waiver of the match requirement based on an adequate demonstration of financial need. Match may not be required in subgrants to victim service providers or tribes. MOE requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

OVW will make awards for at least 2 years. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: other

Reports:

Quarterly and final financial reports plus annual and end-of-grant program performance reports will be required, as stipulated in the program regulations and the effective edition of the DOJ Financial Grants Management Guide. In the progress reports, States must provide a statistical summary of persons served, detailing the nature of victimization and providing data on age, sex, relationship of victim to offender, geographic distribution, race, ethnicity, disability, and the number of persons served in any underserved population. The reports must also explain the activities carried out and provide an assessment of the effectiveness of those activities, including the number of persons served and the numbers of persons seeking services who could not be served. States are responsible for submitting State reports and ensuring that subgrantees submit annual progress reports as well. Quarterly Federal Financial Reports are required. Grantees must monitor grant and subgrant supported activities to assure compliance with applicable Federal requirements and that performance goals are being achieved.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503

Records:

16.590 Grants to Encourage Arrest Policies and Enforcement of Protection Orders Program

Arrest Program,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE ON VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN (OVW), JUSTICE,
DEPARTMENT OF

Violence Against Women and Department of Justice Reauthorization Act of 2013, Title II, Section 202, Public Law 113-4, 42 U.S.C. 3976hh.

OBJECTIVES:

To encourage States, Indian tribal governments, State and local courts (including juvenile courts), tribal courts, and units of local government to treat domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking as serious violations of criminal law.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Grants may be used for the following statutory program purposes: (1) To implement proarrest programs and policies in police departments, including policies for protection order violations and enforcement of protection orders across State and tribal lines.(2) To develop policies, educational programs, protection order registries, data collection systems, and training in police departments to improve tracking of cases and classification of complaints involving domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking. Policies, educational programs, protection order registries, and training described in this paragraph shall incorporate confidentiality, and privacy protections for victims of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking.(3) To centralize and coordinate police enforcement, prosecution, or judicial responsibility for domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking cases in teams or units of police officers, prosecutors, parole and probation officers, or judges.(4) To coordinate computer tracking systems and provide the appropriate training and education about domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking to ensure communication between police, prosecutors, parole and probation officers, and both criminal and family courts.(5) To strengthen legal advocacy service programs and other victim services for victims of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking, including strengthening assistance to such victims in immigration matters.(6) To educate Federal, State, tribal, territorial, and local judges, courts, and court-based and court-related personnel in criminal and civil courts (including juvenile courts) about domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking and to improve judicial handling of such cases.(7) To provide technical assistance and computer and other equipment to police departments, prosecutors, courts, and tribal jurisdictions to facilitate the widespread enforcement of protection orders, including interstate enforcement, enforcement between States and tribal jurisdictions, and enforcement between tribal jurisdictions.(8) To develop or strengthen policies and training for police, prosecutors, and the judiciary in recognizing, investigating, and prosecuting instances of domestic violence [1] dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking against older individuals (as defined in section 3002 of this title) and individuals with disabilities (as defined in section 12102 (2) of this title).(9) To develop State, tribal, territorial, or local policies, procedures, and protocols for preventing dual arrests and prosecutions in cases of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking, and to develop effective methods for identifying the pattern and history of abuse that indicates which party is the actual perpetrator of abuse.(10) To plan, develop and establish comprehensive victim service and support centers, such as family justice centers, designed to bring together victim advocates from victim service providers, staff from population specific organizations, law enforcement officers, prosecutors, probation officers, governmental victim assistants, forensic medical professionals, civil legal attorneys, chaplains, legal advocates, representatives from community-based organizations and other relevant public or private agencies or organizations into one centralized location, in order to improve safety, access to services, and confidentiality for victims and families. Although funds may be used to support the colocation of project partners under this paragraph, funds may not support construction or major renovation expenses or activities that fall outside of the scope of the other statutory purpose areas.(11) To develop and implement policies and training for police, prosecutors, probation and parole officers, and the judiciary in recognizing, investigating, and prosecuting instances of sexual assault, with an emphasis on recognizing the threat to the community for repeat crime perpetration by such individuals.(12) To develop, enhance, and maintain protection order registries.(13) To develop human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) testing programs for sexual assault perpetrators and notification and counseling protocols.(14) To develop and implement training programs for prosecutors and other prosecution-related personnel regarding best practices to ensure offender accountability, victim safety, and victim consultation in cases involving domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking.(15) To develop or strengthen policies, protocols, and training for law enforcement, prosecutors, and the judiciary in recognizing, investigating, and prosecuting instances of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking against immigrant victims, including the appropriate use of applications for nonimmigrant status under subparagraphs (T) and (U) of section 1101 (a)(15) of title 8.(16) To develop and promote State, local, or tribal legislation and policies that enhance best practices for responding to the crimes of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking, including the appropriate treatment of victims.(17) To develop, implement, or enhance sexual assault nurse examiner programs or sexual assault forensic examiner programs, including the hiring and training of such examiners.(18) To develop, implement, or enhance Sexual Assault Response Teams or similar coordinated community responses to sexual assault.(19) To develop and strengthen policies, protocols, and training for law enforcement officers and prosecutors regarding the investigation and prosecution of sexual assault cases and the appropriate treatment of victims.(20) To provide human immunodeficiency virus testing programs, counseling, and prophylaxis for victims of sexual assault.(21) To identify and inventory backlogs of sexual assault evidence collection kits and to develop protocols for responding to and addressing such backlogs, including policies and protocols for notifying and involving victims.(22) To develop multidisciplinary high-risk teams focusing on reducing domestic violence and dating violence homicides by(A) using evidence-based indicators to assess the risk of homicide and link high-risk victims to immediate crisis intervention services;(B) identifying and managing high-risk offenders; and(C) providing ongoing victim advocacy and referrals to comprehensive services including legal, housing, health care, and economic assistance.

Applicant Eligibility:

(RSAT),

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF
AUTHORIZATION:

42 U.S.C. 3796ff, Public Law 90-351

OBJECTIVES:

Goals: The goal of the RSAT Program is to assist states and units of local and tribal governments to break the cycle of incarceration for drug addiction and violence by reducing the demand for, use, and trafficking of illegal drugs. Objectives: RSAT enhances jurisdictions capabilities to prepare individuals for their reintegration into the communities from which they came by incorporating reentry planning activities into treatment programs; and assists individuals and their communities through the reentry process through the delivery of community-based treatment and other broad-based aftercare services.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Formula Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The Residential Substance Abuse Treatment formula grant funds may be used to implement residential substance abuse programs that provide individual and group treatment activities for offenders in residential facilities operated by State and local correctional agencies. These programs must 1) last between 6 and 12 months; 2) be provided in residential treatment facilities set apart from the general correctional population; 3) focus on the substance abuse problems of the inmate; and 4) develop the inmate's cognitive, behavioral, social, vocational, and other skills to solve the substance abuse and related problems.

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals); States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, America Samoa, Guam, and the Northern Mariana Islands are eligible to apply. By statute 42 U.S.C. 3796ff-1(e), the Bureau of Justice Assistance must award RSAT grants to the State office (www.ojp.usdoj.gov/saa/index.htm) designated to administer the Byrne Justice Assistance Grant Program. The State office may award subgrants to state agencies and units of local government (including federally recognized Indian tribal governments that perform law enforcement functions, as determined by the Secretary of the Interior). Applicant States must agree to implement or continue to require urinalysis and/or other proven reliable forms of drug and alcohol testing of individuals assigned to residential substance abuse treatment programs in correctional facilities.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

U.S. Territories; State; Mentally Disabled; Drug Addict; Alcoholic; Local; State and local correctional agencies will implement programs to provide treatment to incarcerated offenders.

Credentials/Documentation:

The applicant must submit a completed Application for Federal Assistance (Standard Form 424), including signed assurances that it will comply with statutory and administrative requirements. The applicant is also required to submit a description that includes the goals of the program, the implementation process, timetable for implementation, how the State will coordinate substance abuse treatment activities at the State and local levels, and the State's law or policy requiring substance abuse testing of individuals in correctional residential

PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Fiscal Year 2017: 1) Since September 2017, there have been 11 webinars, with up to 500 participants, including those downloading podcasts of the webinars. 2) The RSAT website interactive forum has sponsored three discussions, attracting a total of 694 participants. 3) RSAT TTA faculty has provided on-site technical assistance to jails in California and prisons in Michigan as well as off-site technical assistance in more than a dozen other states. 4) RSAT TTA convened two national roundtables to develop Promising Practices Guidelines for Residential Substance Abuse Treatment and Jail-Based Medication-Assisted Treatment, Promising Practices, Guidelines, and Resources for the Field. The roundtables included representatives of SAMHSA, NIC, NIJ, NIDA, BJA, and ONDCP as well as nongovernment organizations, American Probation and Parole Association, American Correctional Association, American Society of Addiction Medicine, National Sheriffs Association, and the National Association of Drug Court Professionals as well as researchers and RSAT practitioners from Kentucky, New York, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, California and Maryland. 5) Through its technical assistance, webinars and conference presentation, including presenting at the National Sheriffs Association State Authority, RSAT TTA has aggressively promoted the expansion of prison and jail MAT programming contributing to a new jail MAT program being opened on average every two weeks across the country. In addition, a half dozen state departments of corrections have established MAT programming in at least one prison facility over this fiscal year. 6) Through two webinars, RSAT TTA has introduced two new innovative adjuncts for model jail and prison drug treatment programs and reentry. The first featured the use of electronic tablets that inmates take with them when they reenter the community to better help them realize transitional and reentry plans and referrals made before release. So far, only Utahs Department of Corrections and Parole Department have implemented this program. The second featured development of model naloxone distribution programs for exiting inmates and their families that has been shown to reduce the heightened risk of overdose deaths among recently released inmates. So far at least two state departments of corrections and a dozen jails have implemented this program. 7) Promising Practices Guidelines for Residential Substance Abuse Treatment was released in November, 2017 and has been widely circulated and cited by a major nongovernment organization in its funding of prison and jail treatment and reform program. Jail-Based Medication-Assisted Treatment, Promising Practices, Guidelines, and Resources for the Field is due to be released shortly by the National Sheriffs Association. Already, the California correctional officials have requested copies for twenty sheriffs funded this year to establish medication-assisted treatment in their jails.

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

2018 1)RSAT Program for special high-risk populations, re-incarcerated parole violators: Using RSAT funding, state has expanded Medication-Assisted Treatment to four facilities specifically serving high-risk substance abusers re-incarcerated for violating parole. The intensive treatment offered allows inmates to be re-released to parole without having to serve the full length of their unexpired sentences. In one site examined, of 111 completers of the month incarceration program, only three tested positive for drugs. This diversionary RSAT program for high risk substance abusers results in substantial cost savings as up to a third of incarcerated individuals are parole and probation revocations. 2)RSAT Program trains participants to serve as inmate peer counselors: Using RSAT funding, a jail RSAT program has trained select inmates to serve as peer counselors for other defendant inmates undergoing detoxification while awaiting trial. The RSAT peer counselors promote abstinence, treatment enrollment, and injectable naltrexone so that the inmates may qualify for drug court participation when returned to court for case resolution. 3)Prison and Jail MAT Expansion: More generally, RSAT programs have been involved in the rapid expansion of prison and jail medication-assisted treatment programs for re-entering inmates. In this fiscal year, at least 24 new jail programs and half a dozen prison MAT programs have been established across the country.

AUTHORIZATION:

Omnibus Appropriations Act, Public Law 106-113, Division B, Section 1000(a); and an act appropriating funds for the Department of Justice in the current fiscal year.

OBJECTIVES:

The goal of the program is to reimburse state and local jurisdictions for housing criminal aliens in the state and local jails.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Direct Payments for Specified Use, Direct Payments with Unrestricted Use

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The Department of Justice Reauthorization Act of 2005 (Public Law 109-162, Title XI) included the following requirement regarding the use of SCAAP funds:

"Amounts appropriated pursuant to the authorization of appropriations in paragraph (5) that are distributed to a State or political subdivision of a State, including a municipality, may be used only for correctional purposes." All funds must be used for correctional purposes only. To be eligible for reporting, inmates must have been convicted of a felony or second misdemeanor for violations of state or local law, and housed in the applicant's state or local correctional facility for 4 or more consecutive days during the reporting period. Once a person meets these criteria, all pre-trial and post-conviction time served may be included in the application. Salary information reported in the SCAAP application must reflect the total salaries and wages paid to full and part-time correctional officers and others who meet the SCAAP definition. See the SCAAP Guidelines at <http://www.ojp.usdoj.gov/BJA/>

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals); U.S. Territories and possessions (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Eligible applicants include States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Guam, the Virgin Islands and localities or local jurisdictions exercising authority with respect to the incarceration of an undocumented criminal alien. This covers state prison facilities and local jails, whether operated by counties or cities. Applicants are generally States and units of local government. Note: Only one application is accepted from each separate political division (i.e., State, county, city).

Beneficiary Eligibility:

U.S. Territories; State; Local; States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Guam, the Virgin Islands and localities or local jurisdictions.

Credentials/Documentation:

Applicants who are seeking funding must complete an electronic application form via the Office of Justice Programs Grants Management System (GMS). Inmate data, including the proper inmate identifiers, will either be manually key-stroked into the on-line application system, or submitted on-line by electronically attaching the applicable portions of the applicants inmate databases. The authorized official certifies compliance with all SCAAP requirements, including that the applicant has been authorized by the Chief Executive Officer of the applicable unit of government; the inmate identifiers required have been submitted to BJA in the proper format(s) for Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) verification within the prescribed deadlines; all inmates counted by the applicant have been convicted of either a felony or two misdemeanor offenses under the applicant's law; and, only salary costs for corrections officers were included in the Total Salary Costs. By certifying on-line, the authorizing signing official is also assuring that all federal certifications and assurances are being met. The certification and assurance forms (Assurances, OJP Form 4000/3 and Certifications Regarding Lobbying; Debarment, Suspension and Other Responsibility Matters; and Drug-Free Workplace Requirements, OJP Form 4061/6) are provided on-line to allow applicants to review and accept them electronically. This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review. An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. SCAAP applications are administered via the Office of Justice Programs Internet-based Grants Management System. Inmate data, including the proper inmate identifiers, may either be manually key-stroked into the on-line application system, or submitted on-line by electronically attaching the applicable portions of their inmate databases. Awards are announced after the ICE inmate verification process is done. Technical assistance is available to applicants for preparation of the on-line application process by calling the OJP Grants Management System Hotline at 1-888-549-9901. Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFO) for this listing will be posted on Grants.gov.

Award Procedure:

The final payment process requires that all applications and all data be fully processed and verified before any payments are made. Inmate data will be verified by the ICE, who will attempt to match the inmate data records provided to records in its databases to obtain the maximum number of confirmed matches. These matches are expected to include three categories: 1) those positively identified (matched) as qualifying undocumented criminal aliens; 2) those unknowns and 3) those positively identified as non- criminal aliens. Applicants will be given credit for a percentage of inmates whose eligibility cannot be determined through positive identification or "match," but have valid foreign countries of birth. Payments will be based on the days of incarceration for the verified number of aliens incarcerated by each applicant. Payments are granted by the Director of the Bureau of Justice Assistance, Office of Justice Programs, Department of Justice. The payment must be accepted on-line and the acceptance will effect a simultaneous assurance of compliance with conditions. Acceptance of the payment on-line initiates the automatic electronic transfer of funds from OJP to the recipient.

16.607 Bulletproof Vest Partnership Program

(BVP).

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF
AUTHORIZATION:

, Title Bulletproof Vest Partnership Grant Act of 1998, June 16, 1998, as amended., Public Law 105-181

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

OBJECTIVES:

The goal of the BVP program is to provide up to 50% of the cost of armored vests for state, local and tribal jurisdictions.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Direct Payments for Specified Use

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The program pays up to 50 percent of the total cost of each vest order. Total cost includes the cost of the vests, vest carriers, attachments, inserts, and covers considered integral or essential for its proper care, use, and wearability, shipping, handling, fitting charges, and applicable taxes. The total invoiced price, after all vendor and prompt payment discounts have been deducted, is what the Bureau of Justice Assistance (BJA) uses to determine the Federal match. This program only allows the purchase of body armor that has been tested and found to comply with applicable ballistic and stab standards promulgated by the National Institute of Justice's (NIJ) Standard 0101.06 Ballistic Resistance of Police Body Armor. In FY 2001, stab-resistant body armor was also included in the program as an allowable purchase.

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; U.S. Territories and possessions; Only chief executives of jurisdictions (or their designees) may apply for funds. Jurisdictions are defined as general purpose units of local government (e.g., cities, towns, townships, boroughs, counties, etc.), Federally-recognized Indian tribes, the 50 State governments, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, American Samoa, Guam, and the Northern Mariana Islands. The chief executive of the jurisdiction registers on-line, submits the jurisdiction application, and requests payment for completed vest orders.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

State; Only law enforcement officers may receive vests through this program. According to the Act, "law enforcement officer" means any officer, agent, or employee of a State, unit of local government, or an Indian tribe authorized by law or by a government agency to engage in or supervise the prevention, detection, or investigation of any violation of criminal law, or authorized by law to supervise sentenced criminal offenders. Eligible officers may be full-time, part-time, paid or volunteer. In order to receive BVP funds, jurisdictions must certify, during the application process, that all law enforcement agencies benefitting from the BVP Program have a written "mandatory wear" policy in effect. FAQ: <https://ojp.gov/bvpbasi/docs/FAQsBVP MandatoryWearPolicy.pdf> The BVP Reauthorization Act of 2015 included a provision that states that BJA may give preferential consideration to BVP recipients that provide armor vests to law enforcement officers that are uniquely fitted for such officers, including vests uniquely fitted to individual female law enforcement officers. A certification section has been added to the 2017 application (in the BVP system) stating the jurisdictions and law enforcement agency are aware of and will comply with this requirement.

Credentials/Documentation:

Eligible jurisdictions must be general purpose units of local government, Federally-recognized Indian tribes, the 50 state governments, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, American Samoa, Guam, and the Northern Mariana Islands. The validity of the on-line registration process is verified through independent reviews which may include certification by the banking institutions serving the jurisdiction, the U.S. Census Bureau, and agencies within the U.S. Department of Justice. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372. This is an Internet-based program. The jurisdiction is required to complete and submit an on-line registration form, providing information about the jurisdiction's chief executive officer, program contact person, and electronic banking information. The registration process is handled through the program's web site <http://ojp.gov/bvpbasi/home.html>. Only those jurisdictions with approved registrations are permitted to make application.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. The jurisdiction submits the application to BJA via the Internet web site <http://vests.ojp.gov>. On-line instructions guide the jurisdiction through the application process. Law enforcement agencies or agencies with law enforcement functions which meet the Act's definition, will assist in completing the jurisdiction's on-line application by indicating the types, numbers, and costs of vests they intend to order. Only those jurisdictions that complete and submit applications will be eligible for matching funds from BJA. Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFO) for this listing will be posted on Grants.gov.

Award Procedure:

Applications received by BJA are reviewed for completeness, accuracy, and compliance with all program requirements. Each application is then checked against the availability of funds to cover up to 50 percent of the application's total cost, in keeping with established criteria for program fund allocation. When all checks are complete and the application approved, the jurisdiction is notified through e-mail that the necessary funds have been obligated.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Other. A minimum of 15 working days may be required for complete registration validation, although jurisdictions and law enforcement agencies will have immediate access to certain program components during this validation process. A minimum of 60 working days may be required after the program closes for approval of the jurisdiction's application for funding. A minimum of 25 working days may be required for the electronic transfer of funds from the U.S. Treasury to the jurisdiction's bank account, once the request for funds has been received, reviewed, and approved by the Office of Justice Programs.

Appeals:

Not Applicable.

Renewals:

Not Applicable.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory formula is not applicable to this assistance listing. Matching Requirements: Percent: 50%. Requirement: Matching requirements are voluntary. The program requires that each applicant jurisdiction be responsible for providing at least 50 percent of the cost of each vest purchased. Tribal governments may use Federal funds to provide this match; all other jurisdictions must use nonfederal match funds. Nonfederal fund sources include State and/or local jurisdiction revenues, private or personal funds, and contributions from insurance or workman's compensation consortiums. Asset forfeiture funds may also be used to meet the jurisdiction's matching requirement. Beginning in FY 2002, changes (Bulletproof Vest Partnership Act of 2000; Public Law 106-517) gives preference to small jurisdictions (those populations below 100,000) guaranteeing them the full 50 percent match payment before payments are calculated and approved for larger jurisdictions. MOE requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Jurisdictions with approved applications must request the federal match no later than August 31st of the second federal fiscal year following the end of the federal fiscal year in which their application was approved. In other words, the jurisdiction has two years beyond the year of their application to request payments for vests contained in that application. Payments of the federal match will be made whenever the jurisdiction indicates that at least part of the approved vest order was received and invoiced. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: other

Reports:

No reports are required.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503. Payments and transactions are subject to audits by the General Accounting Office, Department of Justice's Office of the Inspector General, state or local government

16.609 Project Safe Neighborhoods

(PSN).

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF AUTHORIZATION:

, Title Crime Control Act of 1990; and, an act appropriating funds for the Department of Justice in the current fiscal year., Statue 348, 420, and 436, Public Law 115-141, 132, Title I USC Code 42 U.S.C. 50 et seq..

OBJECTIVES:

Project Safe Neighborhoods (PSN) is designed to create and foster safer neighborhoods through a sustained reduction in violent crime, including, but not limited to, addressing criminal gangs and the felonious possession and use of firearms. The program's effectiveness depends upon the ongoing coordination, cooperation and partnerships of local, state, tribal, and federal law enforcement agencies and the communities they serve engaged in a unified approach led by the U.S. Attorney (USA) in all 94 districts.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The Project Safe Neighborhoods program focuses on problem solving, strategic planning, and working in partnership with the community to reduce gun crime and gang violence. Project Safe Neighborhoods is a national strategy designed to reduce offenses committed with guns in streets and local neighborhoods. In addition to hiring new state and local prosecutors, the funds will be available to support investigations, provide training, develop and promote community outreach efforts, and improve public safety by supporting gun and gang crime reduction strategies. PSN should be a part of an overall comprehensive violence reduction strategy. Applicants are encouraged to leverage other federal grant dollars and existing grant resources already in the community, and to partner with a research partner to conduct an impact evaluation to determine the results of the PSN program which may help in securing longer-term funding and sustaining the program locally.

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Eligible applicants are PSN Task Force fiscal agents for the U.S. Attorney districts and federally recognized Indian tribal governments (as determined by the Secretary of the Interior). All fiscal agents must be certified by the relevant U.S. Attorneys Office (USAO). Eligible USAO-certified fiscal agents include states, units of local government, educational institutions, faith-based and other community organizations, private nonprofit organizations, and federally recognized Indian tribal governments (as determined by the Secretary of the Interior).

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Private nonprofit institution/organization; State; Local; Public nonprofit institution/organization; State and local governments, public and private organizations, Indian Tribal government, prosecutor offices.

they also operate as a collective body to address national criminal justice issues. RISS is governed by a National Policy Group comprised of the six RISS Directors and the Chair of each regional centers board of directors. The Bureau of Justice Assistance (BJA), U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ), administers the RISS Program. Objectives: The primary objective for RISS is to promote and strengthen relationships and strategies for the administration of justice with law enforcement agencies, organizations, prosecutors, and defenders through innovative leadership and programs. This objective also includes providing training, technical assistance, and resources in support of the programs goals.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Up to 100 percent of total project grant costs are funded through Federal assistance. Cost-sharing is governed by Appropriation Act requirements. However, projects are encouraged to obtain and utilize additional funds through voluntary contributions, membership fees or dues, fees for service, or other sources from member agencies or governmental units benefiting from project services. Such funds will be considered program income and must be used to augment project operations or to reduce the Federal share of project costs.

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Six RISS Centers are authorized as eligible to receive funding to provide services to law enforcement agencies throughout the nation. The Centers are: The Middle Atlantic Great-Lakes Organized Crime Law Enforcement Center (MAGLOCLEN), the Mid-States Organized Crime Information Center (MOCIC), the New England State Police Information Network (NESPIN), the Regional Organized Crime Information Center (ROCIC), the Rocky Mountain Information Network (RMIN), and the Western States Information Network (WSIN). Additionally, a competitively selected entity will serve as the administrator of network and support system capabilities serving the aforementioned six RISS Centers. Applications are limited to these six RISS Centers and the competitive process to select an awardee for the purpose of administration and on behalf of the RISS Technology Service Center (RTSC).

Beneficiary Eligibility:

State; Local; State and local criminal justice agencies; Federal, State, local, tribal, and territorial law enforcement agencies and personnel benefit from this program.

Credentials/Documentation:

The six RISS Centers are required to submit a Federal application for assistance, as well as a detailed program and budget narrative. A competitive process is conducted for the administration of the RISS Technology Service Center (RTSC). Summary information about each RISS Center is available on the central RISS Website. See <http://www.riss.net>. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

16.710 Public Safety Partnership and Community Policing Grants

COPS Office,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

COMMUNITY ORIENTED POLICING SERVICE, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968, 42 U.S.C. 3796dd, as amended; Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act of 1994, Title I, Part Q, Public Law 103-322.

OBJECTIVES:

The COPS Office was established in 1994 to assist state, local and tribal law enforcement agencies in enhancing effectiveness and building the capacity to advance public safety through the implementation of community policing strategies. Community policing entails developing partnerships between law enforcement agencies and the communities they serve so they can work collaboratively to resolve problems and build community trust. It is a philosophy that promotes organizational strategies that support the systematic use of partnerships and problem solving techniques, in order to proactively address the immediate conditions that give rise to public safety issues such as crime, social disorder, fear of crime, and satisfaction with police services. Community policing is comprised of three key components: Community Partnerships Collaborative partnerships between the law enforcement agency and the individuals and organizations they serve to develop solutions to problems and increase trust in police; Other government agencies Community members/groups Nonprofits/service providers Private businesses Media Organizational Transformation The alignment of organizational management, structure, personnel, and information systems to support community partnerships and proactive problem solving; Agency management Climate and culture Leadership Labor relations Decision-making Strategic planning Policies Organizational evaluations Transparency Organizational structure Geographic assignment of officers Despecialization Resources and finances Personnel Recruitment, hiring, and selection Personnel supervision/evaluations Training Information systems (Technology) Communication/access to data Quality and accuracy of data Problem Solving The process of engaging in the proactive and systematic examination of identified problems to develop and rigorously evaluate effective responses: Scan: Identify and prioritize problems Analysis: Research what is known about the problem Response: Develop solutions to bring about lasting reductions in the number and extent of problems Assessment: Evaluate the success of the responses Use the crime triangle to focus on immediate conditions (victim/offender/location)

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Since 1994, the COPS Office has invested approximately $14.9 billion to add officers to the nation's streets; enhance crime fighting technology; support crime prevention initiatives; promote police reform; and provide training and technical assistance to help advance community policing. The programs and initiatives developed have provided funding to more than 13,000 of the nation's 16,000 law enforcement agencies. Through these efforts, the COPS Office has helped create a community policing infrastructure across the nation. In FY 2017, COPS Office will fulfill its mission of advancing public safety through community policing by continuing to: Provide grants under the COPS Hiring Program (CHP) to support the hiring of sworn and non-sworn law enforcement personnel nationwide; Promote the hiring of veterans into non-sworn law enforcement positions; Continuing oversight and coordination of the National Blue Alert System, created under the Rafael Ramos and Wenjian Liu National Blue Alert Act of 2015. The system is designed to rapidly disseminate information to law enforcement, the media and the public to aid in the apprehension of violent criminals who pose a risk to law enforcement; Advancing the work of the national Officer Safety and Wellness (OSW) Group, which brings together representatives from law enforcement, federal agencies, and the research community to focus attention on this critical aspect of public safety. Semi-annual meetings of the OSW Group help amplify critical officer safety issues and result in reports which highlight best practices around different safety and wellness topics; Provide grants under the Coordinated Tribal Assistance Solicitation to support the implementation of community policing and meets the needs of law enforcement in Tribal Nations; Provide grants under the Preparing for Active Shooter Situations to support training providers who can offer integrated, scenario-based response courses as described in the 2016 Police Act; Provide grants under the COPS Anti-Meth Task Force and COPS Anti-Heroin Task Force to support law enforcement agencies with multijurisdictional reach interdisciplinary team structures; Provide grants under the COPS Community Policing Development program to advance community policing through training and technical assistance, the development of innovative community policing strategies, applied research, guidebooks and best practices. Applicants may select from the following topics: Cooperative Partnerships with federal law enforcement to combat illegal immigration, officer safety and wellness resources, enhancing officer safety through increased respect for police, critical response technical assistance, and online training development; Develop, deliver, and continue to evaluate state-of-the-art training and technical assistance to enhance law enforcement officers problem-solving and community interaction skills; Expanding the number of sites reached by the Collaborative Reform Initiative for Technical Assistance; Align training and technical assistance to problems identified in the officer hiring program; Promote improved public safety outcomes by infusing community policing core principles in all grant programs, and acting on evidence that it advances public safety; Support innovative programs that respond directly to the emerging needs of state, local, and tribal law enforcement in order to shift law enforcements focus to preventing, rather than reacting to, crime and disorder within their communities; Provide responsive, cost effective customer service delivery to grantees to ensure success in implementing community policing strategies within their communities; and 100% of COPS funds are discretionary funds.

16.741 DNA Backlog Reduction Program

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF
AUTHORIZATION:

An act appropriating funds for the Department of Justice in the current fiscal year and, beginning with fiscal year 2018 and in certain, specified subsequent years, Section 3(a) of P.L. 114-324, the Justice for All Reauthorization Act of 2016 (see program solicitation and award documentation for applicability).

OBJECTIVES:

Goals: The overarching goal is to assist eligible States and units of local government to increase laboratory capacity and reduce the number of samples awaiting analysis in both the casework and database sections. Objectives: To assist eligible States and units of local government to process, record, screen, and analyze forensic DNA and/or DNA database samples to increase the capacity of public forensic DNA and DNA database laboratories to process more DNA samples, thereby helping to reduce the number of forensic DNA and DNA database samples awaiting analysis, and to use DNA analysis and other forensic technologies to assist with cold/unsolved cases and missing person/unidentified human remains cases. To assist States and units of local government to implement an evidence management program to inventory, track, and report untested and unsubmitted sexual assault kits (SAKs).

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements (Discretionary Grants), Formula Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Funds for this program may be used for the following purposes: Salary and benefits of laboratory employees; Overtime for laboratory staff; Training; Travel (limited); Equipment; Laboratory supplies; Contracts; Direct administrative expenses; Costs associated with and including Accreditation; Software; and Laboratory Information Systems DNA modules or accessories. See the current fiscal years solicitation available at www.nij.gov.

Applicant Eligibility:

Interstate; Intrastate; State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); U.S. Territories and possessions; State; See the current fiscal years solicitation available at www.nij.gov

Beneficiary Eligibility:

State; Local; See the current fiscal years solicitation available at www.nij.gov

Credentials/Documentation:

The application must include: Application for Federal Assistance (Standard Form 424); Program Abstract; Program Narrative; Budget and Budget Narrative. Current laboratory accreditation certificates are required from applicants; see current fiscal years solicitation available at www.nij.gov for requirements. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. An environmental impact assessment is required for this listing. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review. Note: An environmental impact assessment is not required at the time of application (or pre application), but is necessary for removing a withholding of funds special condition after an award is made; see current fiscal years solicitation available at www.nij.gov for requirements..

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. See the current fiscal years solicitation available at www.nij.gov

Award Procedure:

NIJ may use internal peer reviewers (DOJ employees), external peer reviewers, or a combination, to assess applications meeting basic minimum requirements on technical merit using the solicitations selection criteria. Peer reviewers ratings and any resulting recommendations are advisory only, although their views are considered carefully. Absent explicit statutory authorization or written delegation of authority to the contrary, all final award decisions will be made by the Assistant Attorney General (Office of Justice Programs), who may consider factors including, but not limited to, underserved populations, geographic diversity, strategic priorities, past performance under prior NIJ and OJP awards, and available funding when making awards.

Improvement Grant Program

Coverdell Program,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF
AUTHORIZATION:

Title I of the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968, Part BB, Sections 2801 - 2806, Pub. L. No. 90-351, 34 USC 10561 - 34 USC 10566 and an act appropriating funds for the Department of Justice in the current fiscal year.

OBJECTIVES:

Goals: To improve the quality and timeliness of forensic science and medical examiner services. Among other things, funds may be used to eliminate a backlog in the analysis of forensic evidence and to train and employ forensic laboratory personnel and medicolegal death investigators, as needed, to eliminate such a backlog. Objectives: A State or unit of local government that receives a Coverdell grant must use the grant for one or more of these six purposes: 1. To carry out all or a substantial part of a program intended to improve the quality and timeliness of forensic science or medical examiner/coroners office services in the State, including those services provided by laboratories operated by the State and those operated by units of local government within the State. 2. To eliminate a backlog in the analysis of forensic science evidence, including, among other things, a backlog with respect to firearms examination, latent prints, impression evidence, toxicology, digital evidence, fire evidence, controlled substances, forensic pathology, questioned documents, and trace evidence. 3. To train, assist, and employ forensic laboratory personnel and medicolegal death investigators, as needed to eliminate such a backlog. 4. To address emerging forensic science issues (such as statistics, contextual bias, and uncertainty of measurement) and emerging forensic science technology (such as high throughput automation, statistical software, and new types of instrumentation). 5. To educate and train forensic pathologists. 6. To fund medicolegal death investigation systems to facilitate accreditation of medical examiner and coroner offices and certification of medicolegal death investigators.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Formula Grants, Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Under the Coverdell program, SAAs may apply for both base (formula) and competitive funds. Units of local government may apply for competitive funds. Coverdell SAAs and units of local government may apply directly to NIJ for funding. Approximately 85 percent of the funds available for Coverdell grants will be allocated among eligible States based on population (State base funds). The Coverdell statute requires that the remaining 15 percent of program funds be awarded competitively. A State or unit of local government that receives a Coverdell grant must use the grant for one or more of these six purposes: 1. To carry out all or a substantial part of a program intended to improve the quality and timeliness of forensic science or medical examiner/coroners office services in the State, including those services provided by laboratories operated by the State and those operated by units of local government within the State. 2. To eliminate a backlog in the analysis of forensic science evidence, including, among other things, a backlog with respect to firearms examination, latent prints, impression evidence, toxicology, digital evidence, fire evidence, controlled substances, forensic pathology, questioned documents, and trace evidence. 3. To train, assist, and employ forensic laboratory personnel and medicolegal death investigators, as needed to eliminate such a backlog. 4. To address emerging forensic science issues (such as statistics, contextual bias, and uncertainty of measurement) and emerging forensic science technology (such as high throughput automation, statistical software, and new types of instrumentation). 5. To educate and train forensic pathologists. 6. To fund medicolegal death investigation systems to facilitate accreditation of medical examiner and coroner offices and certification of medicolegal death investigators. Funds may be used for personnel, computerization, laboratory equipment, supplies, accreditation, education, training, certification, facilities (the Coverdell law limits the amount of funds that may be used for the costs of a new facility or facilities), and administrative expenses (not to exceed 10 percent of the total amount of a Coverdell grant).

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals; Under the Coverdell program, SAAs may apply for both base (formula) and competitive funds. Units of local government may apply for competitive funds. Coverdell SAAs and units of local government may apply directly to NIJ for funding. The Coverdell law (at 34 USC 10562) requires that, to request a grant, an applicant for Coverdell funds must submit: 1. A certification and description regarding a plan for forensic science laboratories. Each applicant must submit a certification that the State or unit of local government has developed a plan for forensic science laboratories under a program intended to improve the quality and timeliness of forensic science or medical examiner services in the State, including such services provided by the laboratories operated by the State and those operated by units of local government within the State. Applicants must also specifically describe the manner in which the grant will be used to carry out that plan. 2. A certification regarding use of generally accepted laboratory practices. Each applicant must submit a certification that any forensic laboratory system, medical examiners office, or coroners office in the State, including any laboratory operated by a unit of local government within the State, that will receive any portion of the grant amount (whether directly or through a subgrant) uses generally accepted laboratory practices and procedures established by accrediting organizations or appropriate certifying bodies. 3. A certification regarding forensic science laboratory accreditation. Each applicant must submit a certification that any forensic science laboratory system in the State (except with regard to any medical examiners office, or coroners office in the State), including any laboratory operated by a unit of local government within the State, that will receive any portion of the grant amount (whether directly or through a subgrant) either is accredited, or, is not so accredited, but will (or will be required in a legally binding and enforceable writing to) use a portion of the grant amount to prepare and apply for such accreditation not more than two (2) years after the date on which a grant is awarded under a fiscal years grant solicitation for the Paul Coverdell Forensic Science Improvement Grants Program. 4. A certification and description regarding costs of new facilities. Each applicant must submit a certification that the amount of the grant used for the costs of any new facility constructed as part of a program to improve the quality and timeliness of forensic science or medical examiner services will not exceed certain limitations set forth in the Coverdell law at 34 USC 10562. (See information on permissible expenses in the solicitation.) Applicants must also specifically describe any new facility to be constructed as well as the estimated costs of the facility. 5. A certification regarding external investigations into allegations of serious negligence or misconduct. Each applicant must submit a certification that a government entity exists and an appropriate process is in place to conduct independent external investigations into allegations of serious negligence or misconduct substantially affecting the integrity of the forensic results committed by employees or contractors of any forensic laboratory system, medical examiner office, coroners office, law enforcement storage facility, or medical facility in the State that will receive a portion of the grant amount.

16.742 Paul Coverdell Forensic Sciences

Beneficiary Eligibility:

State; Local; Eligible applicants must be State or local (i.e., county and municipal) governments. The purpose of this solicitation is to request applications for grants from State and units of local government to improve the quality and timeliness of forensic science and medical examiner services and/or to eliminate backlogs in the analysis of forensic evidence, including firearms examination, latent prints, impression evidence, toxicology, digital evidence, fire evidence, controlled substances, forensic pathology, questioned documents, and trace evidence for criminal justice purposes in State and local forensic laboratories.

Credentials/Documentation:

The applicant must furnish the following along with the application for a grant: a certification that states there exists a plan for forensic science laboratories that is designed to improve the quality and timeliness of forensic science or medical examiner services; a certification that states each forensic laboratory, forensic laboratory system, medical examiner's office, or coroner's office that will receive any portion of a Coverdell grant uses generally accepted laboratory practices and procedures as established by accrediting organizations or appropriate certifying bodies; a certification regarding forensic science laboratory accreditation except with regard to any medical examiner's office, or coroner's office in the State; a certification that states that a government entity exists and an appropriate process is in place to conduct independent external investigations into allegations of serious negligence or misconduct by employees or contractors substantially affecting the integrity of forensic results, and resumes of key personnel. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. An environmental impact assessment is required for this listing. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review. Potential applicants are encouraged to request the program announcement for additional information about eligibility requirements and application and selection procedures. Applicants must contact their SAA to determine if the program has been selected for review by the State. The date that the application was sent to the SAA, or the reason such submission is not required, must be included in the application. A. Base Funds for States: Eighty-five percent of the funds available for Coverdell grants will be allocated among eligible States based on population (State base funds). To be eligible, a State must satisfy the specific application requirements outlined in this announcement and all other general requirements for NIJ and OJP grants. Applications for State base funding must be submitted by the Coverdell State Administering Agency listed on the Office of Justice Programs web site at: <https://ojp.gov/saa/> B. Competitive Funds for States and Units of Local Government: Fifteen percent of the available funds will be allocated among States and units of local government through a competitive process. Units of local government that provide forensic science or medical examiner services (whether through a forensic science laboratory, medical examiner's office, or coroner's office) may apply directly to NIJ for competitive funds. Coverdell SAAs may apply for competitive funds for forensic sciences improvements above and beyond those it can accomplish with its base funds. State applications for competitive funding will only be accepted from Coverdell SAAs. Other State agencies or departments who wish to apply for competitive funds must coordinate with their respective SAA.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. The Paul Coverdell Forensic Science Improvement Grants Program Competitive solicitation will be posted on Grants.gov. See the current fiscal years solicitation available at www.nij.gov. Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFO) for this listing will be posted on Grants.gov.

Award Procedure:

NIJ reviews program funding applications to make sure that the information presented is reasonable, understandable, measurable, and achievable, as well as consistent with the solicitation. NIJ will also review applications to ensure statutory requirements have been met. Peer reviewers will review requests for competitive funds submitted under the solicitation that meet basic minimum requirements. NIJ may use internal peer reviewers (DOJ employees), external peer reviewers, or a combination, to assess competitive requests under the program meeting basic minimum requirements on technical merit using the solicitations selection criteria. Peer reviewers ratings and any resulting recommendations are advisory only, although their views are considered carefully. Absent explicit statutory authorization or written delegation of authority to the contrary, the Assistant Attorney General (AAG) will make all final award decisions. With respect to requests for competitive funds, the AAG may also give consideration to factors including, but not limited to, peer review ratings, underserved populations, geographic diversity, strategic priorities, past performance, and available funding when making awards.

16.745 Criminal and Juvenile Justice and Mental Health Collaboration Program

JMHCP,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF
AUTHORIZATION:

, Title Mentally Ill Offender Treatment and Crime Reduction Act of 2004 (MIOTCRA), Public Law 108-414, , Title Mentally Ill Offender Treatment and Crime Reduction Reauthorization and Improvement Act of 2008; and, an act making DOJ appropriations for the current fiscal year, Public Law 110-416, , Title 21st Century Cures Act, as amended, Public Law 114-255

OBJECTIVES:

The goal of the JMHCP is to increase public safety through innovative cross-system collaboration for individuals with mental illness or co- occurring mental illness and substance abuse who come into contact with the criminal justice system. Objectives: 1.To increase and maintain jail capacity for violent offenders, and develop a system-wide coordinated approach to safely reduce the prevalence of low risk individuals with MI and CMISA in local jails. 2.To free up law enforcement time to focus on responding to violent crime; and, to improve officer and citizen safety during calls for service involving people with MI and CMISA. 3.To increase public safety and reduce recidivism among high risk people with MI and CMISA. Category 3 grants can support law enforcement, prosecution, court-based, corrections, parole and probation initiatives. Grant funds may be used to support a combination of the allowable use categories below, or be concentrated on one specific category.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

There are three types of grants supported under the JMHCP grant program: Category 1: Collaborative County Approaches to Reducing the Prevalence of Individuals with Serious Mental Illness in Jails Competition ID: BJA-2018-13905. Upon receiving a grant award and within 8 months of receiving final approval of the projects budget from OJP, spend up to $300,000 for jurisdictions with populations fewer than 100,000, up to $400,000 for jurisdictions with populations between 100,000 and 499,999, and up to $500,000 for jurisdictions with populations of 500,000 or more. Project period: 24 months. Competition ID: BJA-2018-13905 to plan, gather and analyze data as well as track key outcomes to inform and support policies that reduce the number of people with mental illnesses in jails. Category 2: Strategic Planning for Police and Mental Health Collaboration Competition ID: BJA-2018-13906 for up to $100,000 for a 12 month project period. Upon receiving a grant award, and with intensive technical assistance provided by BJAs national training and technical assistance provider, develop and document a Police Mental Health Collaboration (PMHC) using the Category 2 Strategic Planning Guide and the PMHC framework document. Strategic planning grant funds may be used to plan for and design a model strategy, as well as track key measures to improve response to people with mental illness and co-occurring mental illness and substance abuse. Category 3: Implementation and Expansion Competition ID: BJA-2018-13907. Upon receiving a grant award, and within 6 months of receiving final approval of the projects budget from OJP, spend up to $750,000, for a 36 month project period, in support of activities that provide for a combination of the following allowable uses or be concentrated on one specific category such as: Training, screening, assessment, and information sharing processes and specialized caseloads for people on community supervision. (CCLI),

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF
AUTHORIZATION:

42 U.S.C. Section 14163 and 14163a.

OBJECTIVES:

Goals: Capital Case Litigation Initiative (CCLI) Provide training and technical assistance to prosecutors and defense attorneys litigation capital cases. Wrongful Conviction Review Program Review individual post-conviction claims of innocence, prevent wrongful convictions and where possible identify the actual perpetrator(s) of a crime. Objectives: Capital Case Litigation Initiative (CCLI) - In an effort to improve the quality of legal representation and to ensure reliable jury verdicts in state capital cases, the CCLI seeks to improve the quality and effectiveness of representation in death penalty cases through training for both the prosecutors who represent the public and the defense attorneys who represent indigent defendants in state capital cases. Wrongful Conviction Review Program - The Upholding the Rule of Law and Preventing Wrongful Convictions Program (URLPWC) is a site based and Training and Technical Assistance (TTA) program committed to protecting the unwavering integrity of the criminal justice system and the consistent application of due process for all. The URLPWC Program supports efforts by both conviction integrity or review units and entities that represent individuals with post-conviction claims of innocence to review individual cases of post-conviction and appeals claims of innocence. Where possible, the program seeks to identify and apprehend actual perpetrators of crimes who eluded prosecution and bring justice to victim(s), thereby enhancing public safety and security.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Capital Case Litigation Initiative (CCLI): Funds are given to States that currently enforce their death penalty statutes or to a national organization capable of providing training and technical assistance. CCLI funds may not be used to fund, either directly or indirectly, representation in, or prosecution of, specific capital cases. Wrongful Conviction Review Program: Funds are awarded to institutions of higher education, non-profit organizations with missions dedicated (in whole or in part) to exonerating the innocent, to state or local public defender offices, to prosecutors' offices, to public and nonprofit organizations that have experience and expertise in providing representation to wrongfully convicted defendants in post-conviction claims of innocence cases, as well as providing training and technical assistance on the subject.

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); U.S. Territories and possessions (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Non-Government - General; Capital Case Litigation Initiative: Applicants are limited to state agencies in states that authorize capital punishment and that conduct, or will conduct prosecutions in which capital punishment is sought. For the state agency to be eligible, its state must have an effective system for providing competent legal representation for indigent defendants in capital cases. An effective system is defined in 42 U.S.C. 14163(e) as a system that invests the responsibility for appointing qualified attorneys to represent indigent defendants in capital cases either: (A) In a public defender program that relies on staff attorneys, members of the private bar, or both, to provide representation in capital cases; (B) In an entity established by statute or by the highest state court with jurisdiction in criminal cases, which is composed of individuals with demonstrated knowledge and expertise in capital cases, except for individuals employed as prosecutors; or (C) Pursuant to a statutory procedure enacted before the date of the enactment of the CCLI Act [October 30, 2002] under which the trial judge is required to appoint qualified attorneys from a roster maintained by a state or regional selection committee or similar entity. Wrongful Conviction Review Program - Eligible applicants are limited to institutions of higher education, non-profit organizations with missions dedicated (in whole or in part) to exonerating the innocent, to state or local public defender offices, as well as to public and nonprofit organizations that have experience and expertise in providing representation to wrongfully convicted defendants in post-conviction claims of innocence cases.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

U.S. Territories; Native American Organizations; State; Capital Case Litigation Initiative: Defense counsel, prosecutors and judges in the States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, Guam, and the Northern Mariana Islands that currently enforce their death penalty statutes. Wrongful Conviction Review Program: State or local government public defenders and non-profit organizations dedicated to exonerating the innocent.

Credentials/Documentation:

The applicant must submit a completed Application for Federal Assistance (Standard Form 424), including signed assurances that it will comply with statutory and administrative requirements. By certifying on-line, the authorizing signing official is also assuring that all Federal certifications and assurances are being met. The certification and assurance forms (Assurances, OJP Form 4000/3 and Certifications Regarding Lobbying; Debarment, Suspension and Other Responsibility Matters; and Drug-Free Workplace Requirements, OJP Form 4061/6) are provided on-line to allow applicants to review and accept them electronically. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372. No formal preapplication coordination is required. While informal preapplication coordination is not required, it is encouraged that applicants coordinate with any facilities for which they have responsibility to detain or incarcerate undocumented criminal aliens. The application of E.O. 12372 is contingent upon whether the state has designated an entity to coordinate and review proposed federal financial assistance. See list of states that require this at: https://www.whitehouse.gov/wp-content/uploads/2017/11/Intergovernmental_Review_SPOC_01_2018_OFFM.pdf.

Application Procedures:

16.754 Harold Rogers Prescription Drug Monitoring Program

(PDMP),

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF
AUTHORIZATION:

An act appropriating funds for the Department of Justice in the current fiscal year.

OBJECTIVES:

Goals: To enhance the capacity of regulatory and law enforcement agencies to collect and analyze controlled substance prescription data through a centralized database administered by an authorized state agency and federally recognized Indian tribal governments. Objectives: Implement and enhance prescription drug monitoring programs. Develop and enhance public safety, behavioral health, and public health information sharing partnerships that leverage key public health and public safety data sets (e.g., identified PDMP data, naloxone administrations, fatal and non-fatal overdose data, drug arrests) and develop interventions based on this information.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The Harold Rogers Prescription Drug Monitoring Program (PDMP) allows for states discretion as they plan, implement, or enhance a PDMP to accommodate local decision-making based on state laws and preferences, while encouraging the replication of promising practices. In FY 2012, the program expanded to provide funding to federally recognized Indian tribal governments for the specific purpose of enabling tribal health care providers to provide data to and access data contained within state PDMPs. In FY 2013, the program expanded again to enable applications for data-driven, multidisciplinary approaches to reducing prescription drug abuse, encouraging greater utilization of the PDMPs and their data. In FY 2015 the program added a fourth funding category to promote practitioner and researcher partnerships and contribute to the larger body of knowledge on PDMP best practices. Grant funds under this program can be used to: Build a state-level data collection and analysis system to enhance the capacity of regulatory and law enforcement agencies and public health officials for future prevention efforts. Enhance existing programs abilities to analyze and use collected data to identify drug abuse trends, identify and address sources of diversion, and increase the number of users of the PDMP. Promote the use of data from the PDMP and other sources to measure drug abuse trends, identify and address sources of diversion, and better inform decision making by prescribers and dispensers. Facilitate and participate in national evaluation efforts to assess efficiency and effectiveness of potential best practices. Encourage and implement the exchange of information under the PMIX Architecture among states to prevent cross-border diversion. Contribute to state level opioid abuse prevention plans and determine methodologies to encourage replication of strategies that are proven to be effective. Assess the efficiency and effectiveness of state-level programs to make improvements and encourage additional states to implement programs. Enhance collaborations with law enforcement, prosecutors, treatment professionals, the medical community, pharmacies, and regulatory boards to establish a comprehensive PDMP strategy. Enable federally recognized Indian tribal governments to establish the policy, legal, and technological infrastructure to share PDMP data from health care facilities with the appropriate state PDMP. Establish multidisciplinary action groups consisting of county, state, and federal criminal justice professionals; state and local health authorities; and treatment providers to determine best practices for sharing data, regulatory schemes, deconfliction strategies, intelligence gathering, targeted regulatory and enforcement activity, and prioritization of treatment and prevention efforts for at-risk individuals and communities.

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; U.S. Territories and possessions (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); None.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

U.S. Territories; State; Local; Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; Category 1: Implementation and Enhancement: Applicants are limited to state governments that have a pending or enacted enabling statute or regulation requiring the submission of controlled substance prescription data to an authorized state agency. Category 2: Tribal PDMP Data Sharing Grants: Applicants are limited to federally recognized tribal governments as defined under the Indian Self Determination Act, 25 U.S.C. 450b(e). Category 3: Data-Driven Multidisciplinary Approaches to Reducing Rx Abuse Grants: Applicants are limited to state agencies (health departments, law enforcement authorities, etc.) and units of county government located in states with existing and operational prescription drug

OBJECTIVES:

There are currently over 2.2 million individuals serving time in federal and state prisons, and millions of people cycle through local jails every year. Of those in state and federal prison, approximately 95 percent will be released and return to communities across the nation. A majority of these individuals have needs that, if unaddressed in prison, during the reentry process, and after release, will negatively impact their ability to live productive, pro-social, crime-free lives in the community. These needs include housing and employment challenges, relationship and family issues, and substance abuse and mental health problems. The Second Chance Act of 2007 (Pub. L. 110-199) helps to address these significant challenges by providing comprehensive responses to the significant number of incarcerated adults who are returning to communities from prison, jail, and juvenile residential facilities. Programs funded under the Second Chance Act help to promote public safety by ensuring that the transition individuals make from prison and jail to the community is successful. Please see the BJA website at <https://www.bja.gov/> for more information on Second Chance Act programs.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements, Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Adult and Juvenile Technology Careers Training Demonstration Grants authorizes grants to develop training programs for individuals that are no more than 6 - 18 months prior to release from a prison, jail, or juvenile facility to find jobs in higher paying, technology-related jobs. Adult Offender Reentry Substance Abuse and Criminal Justice Collaboration (Co-Occurring Disorders) authorizes grants to develop treatment programs to better address the needs of returning individuals with co-occurring substance abuse and mental health issues. Adult Demonstration authorizes grants to states, local governments, and federally recognized Indian tribes that may be used for demonstration projects to promote the safe and successful reintegration into the community of individuals who have been incarcerated or detained. Adult Mentoring Grants to Nonprofit Organizations authorizes grants to nonprofit organizations that may be used for mentoring of adults or providing transitional services for reintegration into the community. Statewide Adult Recidivism Reduction authorizes grants to state correctional agencies (state departments of corrections or community corrections) or State Administering Agencies (SAAs).

16.813 NICS Act Record Improvement Program

NARIP,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF
AUTHORIZATION:

NICS Improvement Amendments Act, Public Law 115-141, 42 USC Code 40912.

OBJECTIVES:

Goals: To improve the FBI's National Instant Criminal Background Check System (NICS) by providing assistance to states to improve the completeness, automation and transmittal to state and federal systems the records utilized by the NICS. Such records include criminal history records, records of felony convictions, warrants, records of protective orders, convictions for misdemeanor involving domestic violence and stalking, records of mental health adjudications, and others, which may disqualify an individual from possessing or receiving a firearm under federal law. Helping states to automate these records will also reduce delays for law-abiding gun purchasers. Objectives: The NICS Improvement Act amends the Brady Handgun Violence Prevention Act of 1993 (the Brady Act) (Public Law 103-159), under which the Attorney General established NICS. The Brady Act requires Federal Firearms Licensees (FFLs) to contact the NICS before transferring a firearm to an unlicensed person for information on whether the proposed transferee is prohibited from receiving or possessing a firearm under state or federal law. The NICS Improvement Act was enacted in the wake of the April 2007 shooting tragedy at Virginia Tech. The Virginia Tech shooter was able to purchase firearms from an FFL because information about his prohibiting mental health history was not available to the NICS and the system was therefore unable to deny the transfer of the firearms used in the shootings. The Act seeks to address the gap in information available to NICS about such prohibiting mental health adjudications and commitments and other prohibiting backgrounds. Filling these information gaps will better enable the system to operate as intended to keep guns out of the hands of persons prohibited by federal or state law from receiving or possessing firearms. The Act authorized two grant programs to assist states in providing certain information to the NICS, and prescribes grant penalties for non-compliance with the Acts record completeness goals. Pursuant to the Act, there are certain conditions, described below, that a state must satisfy in advance of receiving grants under the Act. The NICS Improvement Act has provisions that require states to meet specified goals for completeness of the records submitted to the Attorney General on individuals prohibited by federal law from possessing firearms. The records covered include automated information needed by the NICS to identify felony convictions, felony indictments, fugitives from justice, drug arrests and convictions, prohibiting mental health adjudications and commitments, domestic violence protection orders, and misdemeanor crimes of domestic violence. The Act provides for a number of incentives for states to meet the goals it sets for greater record completeness. First, the Act allows states to obtain a waiver, beginning in 2011, of the state matching requirement under the National Criminal History Improvement Program (NCHIP) grant program, if a state provides at least 90 percent of its records identifying persons in specified prohibited categories. Second, the Act authorizes grant programs described herein, which, pursuant to the Act, are being administered consistent with NCHIP, for state executive and judicial agencies to establish and upgrade information automation and identification technologies for timely submission of final criminal record dispositions and other information relevant to NICS checks. Finally, the Act provides for discretionary and mandatory Byrne Justice Assistance Grant (JAG) program grant penalties, beginning 3 years after enactment, for non-compliance with specified record completeness requirements within certain timeframes: after 3 years, 3 percent may be withheld in the case of less than 50 percent completeness; after 5 years, 4 percent may be withheld in the case of less than 70 percent completeness; and after 10 years, 5 percent shall be withheld in the case of less than 90 percent completeness (although the mandatory reduction can be waived if there is substantial evidence of the state making a reasonable effort to comply).

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The Act outlines the allowable uses of grant funds: Grants to States: Section 103 of the NICS Improvement Act, regarding implementation assistance to the states, provides that the grants "shall be used by the States and Indian tribal governments, in conjunction with units of local government and State and local courts, to establish or upgrade information and identification technologies for firearms eligibility determinations." In accordance with the Act, a grant to a state, territory or Indian tribes may only be used to: Create electronic systems, which provide accurate and up-to-date information which is directly related to checks under the NICS, including court disposition and corrections records; Assist states in establishing or enhancing their own capacities to perform NICS background checks; Supply accurate and timely information to the Attorney General concerning final dispositions of criminal records to databases accessed by NICS; Supply accurate and timely information to the Attorney General concerning the identity of persons who have a federally prohibiting mental health adjudication or commitment; Supply accurate and timely court orders and records of misdemeanor crimes of domestic violence for inclusion in federal and state law enforcement databases used to conduct NICS background checks; Collect and analyze data needed to demonstrate levels of state compliance with the Act; and Maintain the required relief from disabilities program in accordance with the Act however, not less than 3 percent and no more than 10 percent of each grant shall be used for this purpose. State Court Grants: Section 301 of the Act provides that grants shall be made to each state and territory, consistent with the states plans for the integration, automation, and accessibility of criminal history records, for use by the court systems to improve automation and transmittal to federal and state repositories of: (1) criminal history dispositions; (2) records relevant to determining whether a person has been convicted of a misdemeanor crime of domestic violence or a prohibiting domestic violence protection order; and (3) prohibiting mental adjudications and commitments. Further, the law provides that the amounts granted shall be used by the state court system only to: Carry out, as necessary, assessments of the capabilities of state courts to automate and transmit arrest and conviction records, court orders, and mental health adjudications or commitments to federal and state record repositories; and Implement policies, systems, procedures to automate and transmit arrest and conviction records, court orders, and mental health adjudications or commitments to federal and state record repositories.

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); U.S. Territories and possessions (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Applications must be submitted by (a) the agency designated by the Governor to administer the National Criminal History Improvement Program (NCHIP); (b) the state or territory central administrative office or similar entity designated by statute or regulation to administer federal grant funds on behalf of the jurisdiction's court system; or (c) a federally recognized Indian tribal government.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

U.S. Territories; State; Local; Public nonprofit institution/organization; Other public institution/organization; In accordance with the NICS Improvement Amendments Act (see 18 U.S.C. 922 note), there are two specific conditions that each state must satisfy before being eligible to receive grants: 1. First, each State shall provide the Attorney General with a reasonable estimate, as calculated by a method determined by the Attorney General of the number of the records subject to the NIAA completeness requirements. (Id.) 2. Second, to be eligible for a grant under this [program], a State shall certify, to the satisfaction of the Attorney General, that the State has implemented a relief from disabilities program. (Id.) For the purpose of this solicitation, a relief from disabilities program is a program that permits persons who have been adjudicated a mental defective or committed to a mental institution to obtain relief from the firearms disabilities imposed by law as a result of such adjudication or commitment. This relief must be based on a finding, in accordance with principles of due process, by a state court, board, commission, or other lawful authority, that the circumstances of the disability and the persons record and reputation are such that the person will not be likely to act in a manner dangerous to the public safety and that the granting of relief would not be contrary to the public interest. The certification form is available on the ATF website at www.atf.gov/forms/download/atf-f-3210-12.pdf. For further information, please visit NICS Improvement Act Questions and Answers on the BJS website. Further, applications submitted on behalf of state court systems must specifically assure that: (1) the court system has the capability to contribute and will transmit pertinent information to the NICS established under section 103(b) of the Brady Handgun Violence Prevention Act (18 U.S.C. 922 note), and (2) that it will coordinate the programs proposed for NARIP funding with other federally funded information technology programs, including directly funded local programs.

Credentials/Documentation:

The applicant must furnish all documentation required by the program solicitation, along with the application for an award, including: a detailed budget, a budget narrative, and a program narrative describing how funds would be utilized. Applicants must also furnish a NICS Record Improvement Plan as part of the application which reflects (a) the formation of a NICS Record Improvement Task Force, an assessment of the quality and availability of qualifying NICS records in the State, obstacles preventing full and complete transmission to the NICS of the available records, and strategies planned to address such challenges and achieve completeness goals. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

2017 A state policy initiative entitled the Multi-System, Trauma-Informed Collaborative for Children Exposed to Violence is underway in three states. The purpose of the initiative is to overcome the challenges of identifying children with trauma and then screening, assessing, and treating them regardless of which state system they present in. Three states (Washington, Illinois, and Connecticut) are receiving comprehensive training and technical assistance to state teams responsible for the well-being of affected children, youth, and their families. A major national law enforcement organization is partnering with a university-based childhood trauma center to enhance the understanding of children's exposure to violence and childhood trauma among law enforcement leaders and police officers within state, local, and tribal law enforcement agencies. The purpose of the program is improve law enforcements identification of, and response to, traumatized children by delivering comprehensive, expert training and technical

16.820 Postconviction Testing of DNA Evidence

Kirk Bloodsworth Program,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

An act appropriating funds for the Department of Justice in the current fiscal year.

OBJECTIVES:

Goals: The goal of this program is to fund projects that assist States and units of local government with postconviction DNA testing in cases of violent felony offenses where actual innocence might be demonstrated. This supports the DOJ mission to ensure fair and impartial administration of justice for all Americans. While successful exonerations to correct injustice are notable program outcomes, the careful review, consideration, and closing of cases subjected to postconviction DNA testing that do not ultimately demonstrate innocence also work to advance the public interest that justice has been fairly applied. Objectives: Funding may be used to review postconviction cases of violent felony offenses (as defined by State law), and to locate and conduct DNA analysis of biological evidence samples associated with these cases. Where a strong justification is provided, a small percentage of Federal award funds may be used for permissible case identification activities.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants (Discretionary)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Funds may be used to acquire laboratory supplies for DNA analysis of biological evidence; pay overtime for people directly engaged in case review, location of evidence, or DNA analysis of biological evidence; to hire consultants and/or temporary contract staff to conduct case reviews, locate evidence, or conduct DNA analysis of biological evidence; for contracts with accredited fee-for-service vendors to conduct DNA analysis of biological evidence; to upgrade, replace, lease, or purchase computer hardware or software that will be used exclusively for case review, location of evidence, or DNA analysis of biological evidence; for salaries and benefits of additional full- or part-time employees to the extent such employees are directly engaged in case review, location of evidence, or DNA analysis of biological evidence; and, in limited cases, for case identification activities.

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals; Other public institution/organization; U.S. Territories and possessions (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Eligible applicants are States, units of local government, and public institutions of higher education (including tribal institutions of higher education). For the purposes of agency program announcements, the term State includes the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, American Samoa, Guam, and the Northern Mariana Islands.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

U.S. Territories; Anyone/general public; Graduate Student; Scientist/Researchers; State; U.S. Citizen; Local; Other public institution/organization; Ensures the availability of fair and impartial administration of justice to Americans who may have been unjustly convicted.

Credentials/Documentation:

If an award is made, prior to receiving award funds an applicant must submit an express certification from the chief legal officer of the State (typically the Attorney General) that the State: i. Provides postconviction DNA testing of specified biological evidence under a State statute, or under State rules, regulations, or practices, to persons convicted after trial and under a sentence of imprisonment or death for a State offense of murder or forcible rape, in a manner intended to ensure a reasonable process for resolving claims of actual innocence. ii. Preserves biological evidence secured in relation to the investigation or prosecution of a State offense of murder or forcible rape, under a State statute, local ordinances, or State or local rules, regulations, or practices, in a manner intended to ensure that reasonable measures are taken by all jurisdictions within the State to preserve such evidence. Any certification that is submitted must be personally executed by the chief legal officer of the State after a determination that the certification may properly be made. While it may be submitted with the application package, submission of this certification is not required at the time of application. If an award is made, access to award funds will be withheld until this certification is received and approved by NJ. Applicants proposing postconviction DNA testing projects involving cases outside of the applicants State are to provide (prior to receiving award funds) the express certification described above executed by the chief legal officer of the appropriate State for each State for which postconviction cases are sought to be funded in response to the program announcement. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. An environmental impact assessment is required for this listing. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O.

12372. Note: An environmental impact assessment is not required at the time of application (or pre application), but is necessary for removing a withholding of funds special condition after an award is made.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. See the current fiscal years solicitation available at www.nij.gov. Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFO) for this listing will be posted on Grants.gov.

Award Procedure:

NIJ may use external peer reviewers, internal peer reviewers (DOJ employees), or a combination, to assess applications meeting basic minimum requirements on technical merit using the solicitations selection criteria. Peer reviewers ratings and any resulting recommendations are advisory only, although their views are considered carefully. Absent explicit statutory authorization or written delegation of authority to the contrary, all final award decisions will be made by the Assistant Attorney General (Office of Justice Programs), who may consider factors

16.823 Emergency Planning for Juvenile Justice

Facilities

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF
AUTHORIZATION:

The Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act, 34 U.S.C. 11131(a), and an act appropriating funds for the Department of Justice

OBJECTIVES:

The purpose of this project is to provide funding to States to develop comprehensive plans that address the specific needs of children, youth, and families involved in the justice system during an emergency. Specifically, the initiative supports implementation of the principles outlined in the OJJDP report, Emergency Planning for Juvenile Justice Residential Facilities (www.ncjrs.gov/pdffiles1/ojjdp/234936.pdf). This report is targeted to state, county, and local juvenile justice authorities charged with the custodial care and supervision of youth in the juvenile justice system, with particular focus on those authorities who oversee residential treatment and correctional and detention facilities that house juveniles via court-ordered placements. The principles outlined in this document may also apply to emergency planning for youth in out-of-home placement.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants (Discretionary)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The primary purpose of the use of these funds is to support the development of comprehensive emergency plans for juvenile facilities within the State. To accomplish this task, assistance may be used for a number of key activities to include hiring consultants to facilitate the planning process, emergency preparedness training for staff; conducting needs assessments; development of protocols for communication with families, other agencies, and the public; and arranging for effective emergency medical care and mental health services. The goal of developing the emergency plan is to help ensure the efficient continuation of operations during an emergency, the reduction of risk to the physical plant, and, most importantly, the safety and well-being of youth and staff in our nations juvenile justice residential facilities

Applicant Eligibility:

16.825 Smart Prosecution Initiative

IPI.

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

$2,500,000 is for an initiative to enhance prosecutorial decision-making., Title The Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2018, Statue 132-348, 420, Public Law 115-141

OBJECTIVES:

Goals: The goal of Innovative Prosecution Initiative is to develop a body of knowledge about data-driven strategies innovative, best practice, or evidenced-based as they are implemented by prosecutors. BJA sought applications from state, local, or tribal prosecutor agencies interested in testing data-driven approaches that address one or more of the following three goals: Promoting fair, impartial, and expeditious pursuit of justice; Ensuring safe communities; and Promoting integrity in the prosecution profession and effective coordination in the criminal justice system. Objectives: The Innovative Prosecution Initiative builds off of the lessons learned from BJAs other Innovative Suite programs and seeks to pair action researchers with prosecutor offices to develop solutions such as hot spot strategies, sophisticated crime analysis, offender-based policies, and risk and needs assessment that create prosecution strategies in an effort to break down information silos, advance communities, and increase public safety. As prosecutors implement innovative, best practices or evidenced-based approaches to address the goals listed below, there is a need to evaluate their efforts. The Innovative Prosecution Initiative seeks to encourage exploration of new solutions to public safety concerns, as well as internal operations and organizational structure, while employing research partners at the problem definition stage through assessment of strategies and solutions. Some creative solutions developed by prosecutors around the country include changing how their organizations prioritize cases, using zone/geographic prosecution, using crime analysis tools to reduce gun violence, nuisance abatement, crime prevention through environmental design, drug-free and prostitute-free zones, restorative justice, community courts, truancy abatement, diversion programs, crime analysis, and cyber-crime strategies to improve public safety. Prosecutors are becoming partnership builders who bring the police, the community, and other criminal justice and local agencies together to find ways they can work together to solve problems in their jurisdictions.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants (Discretionary)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Funding is for site-based awards and training and technical assistance (TTA). Funds may be used to test data-driven strategies innovative, best practice, or evidenced-based as they are implemented by prosecutors. Smart Prosecution applicants will identify a problem to be addressed and enlist a local research partner to help assess the effectiveness of their Smart Prosecution effort.

PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Fiscal Year 2018: Kings County District Attorneys Office (Brooklyn)PROJECT: The Brooklyn Young Adult Justice Initiative As of June 23, the site reports 1,781 open cases pending in the Adolescent Diversion Court which offers diversion instead of prosecution for young adults, 16-24 years old, charged with misdemeanor offenses, who are at the greatest risk for re-offending and/or are facing more serious Criminal consequences. Two Assistant District Attorneys joined the Bureau since June, bringing the total number of prosecutors in the unit up to five.San Diego City Attorneys OfficePROJECT: The Community Justice Initiative (CJI)CJI uses data and evidence-based practices to restore justice and increase effectiveness and efficiency through a post-plea, city-wide diversion initiative to provide accountability, early intervention, and swift consequences for participants charged with eligible misdemeanor offenses.As of June 30, the site reports that: 3,943 offers made; 2,650 offers accepted; 1,293 offers rejected; 2,048 offers completed; and 423 participants failed out of the program. These numbers reflect enrollment since November 2016. The site has also completed 224 CJI Proxy Risk Screenings and 61 CJI assessments. The site received its software platform/kiosk for client screening. The kiosks will electronically administer the proxy screen to determine high, medium, or low risk scores for program participants (a case manager previously conducted the risk assessment). The site is working with the courthouse for installation, and expects the kiosks to be up and running by September. The site is also building new software for the kiosks.District of Columbia Office of the Attorney GeneralPROJECT: Using Our Brains: Reducing Recidivism among Youth and Young AdultsThe site is furthering collaboration with the DC US Attorneys Office (USAO). Both offices plan to develop a diversion-based initiative, using restorative justice, for youth (ages 12-17) and young adults (ages 18-24) who commit certain crimes, such as theft, destruction of property and non-injury simple assault cases with victim consent. The team is evaluating USAO data for program development. The site hired a restorative justice coordinator and two facilitators who will staff their restorative justice panels. The site team, partners, and office staff will receive ongoing support and assistance for program implementation and restorative justice training from the Baltimore Community Conferencing Center. Jackson County Prosecutors Office (Kansas City) PROJECT: Jackson County Prosecutors Office Smart Prosecution InitiativeThe sites geographic-based initiative targets the East Zone, the most violent area within Kansas City. Team members will collaborate with law enforcement, community partnership specialists, and community members to assess crime-related problems in the East Zone and implement strategies to address them.A system for hot spot cases has been developed. The site has access to sophisticated mapping software.The Essex County Prosecutors Office (Newark)PROJECT: Essex County SMART Social Media Initiative A specialized unit has been developed to investigate and prosecute cases based on suspects usage of social media. The site envisions a systematic, proactive approach to social-media mining that will reduce crime, empower victims, promote fair and impartial justice, and instill the publics confidence in criminal justice.Since the beginning of the initiative, the team has experienced successful identification hearings where witnesses and victims identify defendants without law enforcement involvement. The site continues to educate the judges about this process. The site continues screening about 3-6 potential cases per week, and reports that most cases have social media connections, due to witnesses initially identifying defendants through social media. Since June, the site has 19 confirmed cases in the treatment group, and another 50 tentative cases.District Attorney of Chatham County (Savannah)PROJECT: The Chatham County Smart Prosecution ProgramThe initiative aims to reduce gun, local group, and gang violence by focusing on: identifying and targeting a geographic hot spot for gun violence in the Savannah area and most violent offenders within it; tracking and prioritizing prosecution and individuals within the hot spot; diverting non-essential cases (e.g., theft and simple drug possession) to alternative programs; and, engaging with community groups within the hot spot through meetings, social media forums, and other outreach strategies. As of June 26, there are 19 active cases in the target zone area, including both new charges and probation violations. Total cases including active and disposed cases have reached 30. The sites goal is to reach 50 active cases soon. The site continues its work with engaging community members, by attending neighborhood association meetings. The program End Violence Now is now housed under the District Attorneys office; this move will promote community engagement and allow team members to work directly with the Youth Intercept Program. The sites researchers at Georgia Southern University are developing a process evaluation tool. The researchers are also creating one-page briefs on certain topics (such as policing hot spots) that can be quickly digested and used by practitioners. The researchers are currently focusing on social network analysis and spatial analysis, and have recently received data from the Savannah Area Regional Intelligence Center.

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF
AUTHORIZATION:

P.L. 113-76, Division B, Department of Justice Appropriations Act 2014, Office of Justice Programs, State and Local Law Enforcement Assistance, Subparagraph (30); and an act appropriating funds for the Department of Justice in the current fiscal year.

OBJECTIVES:

There are several objectives related to Vision 21. These include: (1) Tribal assistance for victims of violence; (2) Funding and enhancing the provision of direct victim services; and (3) Providing funding to the States to address victims multiple legal issues through a broad and coordinated community network of wraparound pro bono legal services and to help jurisdictions build their technological infrastructure in order to improve provision of services to victims of crime.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Vision 21 is a strategic planning initiative based on an 18-month national assessment by OVC that systematically engaged the crime victim advocacy field and other stakeholder groups in assessing current and emerging challenges and opportunities facing the field. The initiative is designed to address identified needs including the need for more victim-related data, research and program evaluation; holistic legal assistance for crime victims; resources for tribal victims; and capacity building to provide technology- and evidence-based training and technical assistance. OVC will undertake several initiatives related to Vision 21. These include: (1) Tribal assistance for victims of violence; (2) Funding and enhancing the provision of direct victim services; and (3) Providing funding to the States to address victims multiple legal issues through a broad and coordinated community network of wraparound pro bono legal services and to help jurisdictions build their technological infrastructure in order to improve provision of services to victims of crime. Grantees will need to address one of these initiatives.

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program.

Award Procedure:

OJP is committed to ensuring a fair and open process for awarding grants. OVC reviews the application to make sure that the information presented is reasonable, understandable, measurable, and achievable, as well as consistent with the solicitation. Peer reviewers will review the applications submitted under this solicitation that meet basic minimum requirements. OVC may use internal peer reviewers, external peer reviewers, or a combination, to review the applications. An external peer reviewer is an expert in the subject matter of a given solicitation who is NOT a current DOJ employee. An internal reviewer is a current DOJ employee who is well-versed or has expertise in the subject matter of this solicitation. A peer review panel will evaluate, score, and rate applications that meet basic minimum requirements. Peer reviewers ratings and any resulting recommendations are advisory only. In addition to peer review ratings, considerations for award recommendations and decisions may include, but are not limited to, underserved populations, geographic diversity, strategic priorities, past performance, and available funding. The Office of the Chief Financial Officer, in consultation with OVC, reviews applications for potential discretionary awards to evaluate the fiscal integrity and financial capability of applicants, examines proposed costs to determine if the Budget Detail Worksheet and Budget Narrative accurately explain project costs, and determines whether costs are reasonable, necessary, and allowable under applicable federal cost principles and agency regulations. Absent explicit statutory authorization or written delegation of authority to the contrary, all final award decisions will be made by the Assistant Attorney General, who may consider factors including, but not limited to, underserved populations, geographic diversity, strategic priorities, past performance, and available funding when making awards.

16.827 Justice Reinvestment Initiative

JRI,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF
AUTHORIZATION:

, Title Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2018, Statue 132-348, 422, Public Law 115-141

OBJECTIVES:

Goals: Under the enacted appropriations language, the Justice Reinvestment Initiative (JRI), is to reduce crime and recidivism. JRI helps state, local, and tribal jurisdictions to identify and respond to crime and other public safety problems, explore evidence-based or innovative and cost-saving strategies, and to invest in strategies that can decrease crime and reduce recidivism. Objectives: JRI technical assistance supports states justice system stakeholders and policy leaders as they devise and implement data-driven approaches to reduce crime and recidivism, including operationalizing data results to reduce violent crime and supporting state and local agencies in their efforts to do the same. Under the JRI model, a governmental working group with bipartisan and inter-branch representation analyzes the crime, recidivism, and corrections data, and its associated costs, then develops cost-effective policy and practice options, and implements and measures those changes. JRI jurisdictions invest in high-performing initiatives that make communities safer. JRI encourages states to embrace a culture of greater collaboration, data-driven decision-making and increased use of evidence-based practices. The Justice Reinvestment: Reducing Violent Crime by Improving Justice System Performance program has been developed to support these goals by helping to build state and local jurisdictions and tribes capacity to analyze, identify, and respond to drivers of both violent crime and high cost (Category 1) and test innovative tools to facilitate coordinated information sharing and analysis among justice partners (Category 2). The objectives of the site-based JR program are the following: Category 1 Collect and analyze data, and identify and respond to crime and cost drivers. Engage stakeholders across the justice system (e.g., law enforcement, jails, treatment providers) to diagnose and develop coordinated responses. Test, establish, and/or expand innovative ideas and evidence-based strategies to prevent and respond to crime. Category 2 Break down information sharing silos and challenge current practices that may impede a community's violent crime reduction strategies. Develop comprehensive and integrated data-sharing and notification systems about violent offenders moving into, between, or being released into their communities. Build data-analysis capacity and improve justice system partners' abilities to produce a cross-system analysis that provides a better understanding of the contributions of pretrial, probation, parole, reentry, and other services to crime trends. Successful applicants are expected to follow a five-step process to meet the objectives: engage stakeholders; analyze data and the current landscape; develop a plan, procedures, and strategies; implement responses; and measure outcomes.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants, Project Grants (Discretionary)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Engagement of stakeholders, including all agencies and individuals necessary to understand and address the problem. Analyze data and the current landscape (current risk assessment tools used, data systems, policies) to determine the cause(s), symptoms, and scope of the problem, as well as the impediments to addressing the problem. Develop a comprehensive set of strategies and then documents planned activities, including the parties responsible and timelines, and secures buy-in from stakeholders. Implements the policies, plans, and strategies, testing for results and incorporating feedback into the implementation process. Identifies existing and/or potential data sources that are required to conduct outcome evaluations of the proposed project strategies. Assess the effectiveness of the implemented strategies and activities to address crime and recidivism reduction.

Applicant Eligibility:

Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; State; Justice Reinvestment Initiative: TTA -- national scope private and nonprofit organizations (including tribal nonprofit or for-profit organizations) and colleges and universities, both public and private (including tribal institutions of higher education). All recipients and sub-recipients (including any for-profit organization) must forgo any profit or management fee. Justice Reinvestment: Reducing Violent Crime by Improving Justice System Performance -- Eligible applicants are units of state government and federally recognized Indian tribal governments (as determined by the Secretary of the Interior).

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Individual/Family; Private nonprofit institution/organization; Quasi-public nonprofit organization; Other private institution/organization; Anyone/general public; Native American Organizations; State; Local; Public nonprofit institution/organization; Other public institution/organization; Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; See the current fiscal years solicitation available at the Office of Justice Programs web site at <https://ojp.gov/funding/Explore/CurrentFundingOpportunities.htm>.

Credentials/Documentation:

The application must include: Application for Federal Assistance (Standard Form 424); Program Abstract; Program Narrative; Budget and Budget Narrative;

Required certifications; indirect Cost Rate Agreement (if applicable); and Financial Management and System of Internal Controls Questionnaire. Justice Reinvestment: Reducing Violent Crime by Improving Justice System Performance must also include documents related to compliance with section 1737. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review. An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review. An applicant may find the names and addresses of State Single Points of Contact (SPOCs) at the following website: https://www.whitehouse.gov/wp-content/uploads/2017/11/Intergovernmental_Review-_SPOC_01_2018_OFFM.pdf.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Applicants must submit completed applications via the Office of Justice Programs, Grants Management System or through grants.gov following established criteria. The receipt, review, and analysis of applications will follow Office of Justice Programs policies and procedures for the administration of grant applications. Specific application instructions for solicitations are available at the Office of Justice Programs web site <https://ojp.gov/funding/Explore/CurrentFundingOpportunities.htm>. Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFO) for this listing will be posted on Grants.gov.

Award Procedure:

Upon approval by the Assistant Attorney General (for science offices, would be the Director of the applicable Office), successful applicants are notified via the Grants Management System. One copy of the grant award must be signed by the authorized official and returned to the Office of Justice Programs.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

From 90 to 120 days. See the current fiscal years solicitation available at the Office of Justice Programs web site <https://ojp.gov/funding/Explore/CurrentFundingOpportunities.htm>.

Appeals:

From 90 to 120 days. There are no appeal rights for rejection of a discretionary application. Please see 28 CFR Part 18.

Renewals:

From 90 to 120 days. Yes, a grant can be supplemented or granted a no-cost extension, subject to BJA policy and contingent upon available appropriation.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory formula is not applicable to this assistance listing. Matching Requirements: Percent: 0%. For direct grants to states, if a state has measured and reinvested savings (either projected or actual costs saved or avoided) into evidence-based strategies to reduce recidivism and make communities safer (see Selection Criteria outlined in the Solicitation for specifics), this solicitation does not require a match. If such a state proposes a voluntary match amount, however, and OJP approves the budget, the total match amount incorporated into the approved budget becomes mandatory and subject to audit. If a state has not measured and reinvested savings (see Selection Criteria outlined in the Solicitation for specifics), a match is required, and the following requirements apply: The amount of the match must equal the amount of federal funds being sought. Match funds are subject to the same regulations and restrictions as the federal funds for this program. Applicants must identify the source of the non-federal funds and how they will use the funds. If a successful applicant's proposed match exceeds the required match amount, and OJP approves the budget, the total match amount incorporated into the approved budget becomes mandatory and subject to audit. Applicants may satisfy this match requirement with cash, in-kind services, or a combination of the two. Match funds must be used for one or more of the states reinvestment strategies identified in the justice reinvestment process. For example, match funding can be used to expand or improve community-based treatment only if the JRI legislation or task force identified community-based treatment as a reinvestment priority. As another example, match funding could be used for skills-based trainings for probation officers if the states reinvestment strategies included more effective community supervision. Applicants must identify the target(s) of the reinvestment match with specificity, including, if applicable, names of agencies, service providers, or staff positions to be funded; a description of the kind of service to be provided or functions to be performed; what period of time will be covered; and amounts of funding. Applicants must document these commitments by including relevant attachments to the application. Example: For a federal award amount of $1,750,000, the required reinvestment match is $1,750,000. MOE requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing.

16.828 Swift, Certain, and Fair (SCF) Supervision Program: Including Project HOPE

SCF.

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF AUTHORIZATION:

, Title The Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2018, Statue 132-348, 421, Public Law 115-141

OBJECTIVES:

The goal of the SCF Program is to expand the SCF principles and test new implementations of SCF responses to increase probation and parole success rates. Additionally, the SCF Program seeks to reduce the number of crimes committed by those under probation and parole supervision, which may in turn reduce crime, decrease admissions to prisons and jails (in a safe and responsible manner), and save taxpayer dollars. The objectives of this SCF program are to: Develop and implement supervision strategies based on the SCF principles, including responses to positive and negative offender behavior. Evaluate the efficacy of those strategies to reduce recidivism. Increase the number of supervision decisions (e.g., assignment of conditions of supervision and responses to violations of those conditions, responses to antisocial behavior that do not rise to the level of violating conditions of supervision) that are fair and consistently applied, and with consequences that are transparent. Promote and increase collaboration among agencies and officials who work in probation, parole, pretrial, law enforcement, treatment, reentry, and related fields. Develop a plan to sustain effective SCF supervision strategies and related collaborations beyond the award period. Develop and implement strategies for the identification, targeting, supervision, and treatment of high risk/high needs offenders who are being supervised in the community. (This should include a preliminary assessment of whether those high risk/need offenders are also violent offenders who might not be suitable for community supervision). Increase the number of participants in programs, based on the SCF model, who believe that the supervision decisions are fair and consistently applied, and the consequences are transparent.

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

2018 The grantee seeks to address opioid addiction and the challenges it poses to successful completion of parole supervision. The grantees SCF initiative will target 75 opioid-involved parolees with a history of violations, employing behavioral therapy, medication-assisted treatments, a recovery coach, and other services. An array of modest sanctions, including noncustodial sanctions, will be used in response to technical violations. The initiative will be evaluated with a randomized controlled trial, against supervision as usual. 2019 The grantee seeks to implement the SCF principles of supervision within the state probation agency to reduce recidivism and prevent domestic violence homicides. The target population for this initiative will be domestic violence offenders on probation.

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

2017 To better understand girls in the local juvenile justice system, this nonprofit conducted an analysis of extensive data gathered from multiple city agencies that represent different contact points within the justice system to map girls movement and develop a profile of girls throughout the system. A Task Force of city leadership and representatives from key agencies are also working together to develop and implement recommendations to reduce girls incarceration. The Task Force is looking for solutions that will address girls needs outside of the justice system and they are re-writing policies and practice throughout city agencies so that more girls are introduced to social services and community resources and fewer are detained or confined. This grantee has also formed Youth Advisory Council that provides input to the Task Force. Interviews with girls in custody will also inform recommended changes to both policy and practice. The grantee is working with key agencies across the city to identify gaps in the continuum of services for girls, revise existing practices to fill those gaps, and procure new services where needed. 2018 The goal of this project is to strengthen and expand the use of community-based, gender responsive, trauma informed, strength-based and culturally and linguistically appropriate programs for girls at the county level and to reduce the number of girls who are held in secure confinement. To achieve this, the grantee is working with a local collaborative to enhance the countys capacity to work effectively with girls and to reduce arrests of girls who commit non-serious delinquent acts. The grantee is currently working on a strategic plan with a girls coordinating council. This group was recently created and charged with creating developmentally appropriate gender responsive services for girls and to identify and address potential gaps. The grantee hopes to increase collaboration among service providers and government agencies to address girls needs; increase understanding of why to girls become involved in the local juvenile justice system; increase the availability of services offered through the countys Girls Court.

Children of Incarcerated Parents Demonstration,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF
AUTHORIZATION:

, Title 34 U.S.C. 10631 and an act appropriating funds for the Department of Justice.

OBJECTIVES:

The goal of this program is to assist states and localities in developing or expanding services that meet the needs of incarcerated parents and their children. This program aims to reduce recidivism, protect the safety of law enforcement (correctional officers) within state and locally- managed facilities or private facilities under contract with a state or locality, and reduce violent crime. In addition to engaging incarcerated parents and their children, this program supports the delivery of transitional reentry services upon release to reduce recidivism and prevent violent crime. The objectives for this program include: (1) development of strategies and approaches to strengthen the relationships between incarcerated parents and their children; (2) reduction in the incarcerated parents behavioral infractions during incarceration and recidivism post-release; (3) provision of services that foster positive youth development for children of incarcerated parents; and (4) development of innovative approaches that enhance child/parent communication, such as the use of tele-visiting, emailing, letter writing, audio recordings, and transportation assistance for in-person visits.

16.834 Domestic Trafficking Victim Program

Domestic Trafficking Victim Program,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF
AUTHORIZATION:

Justice for Victims of Trafficking Act of 2015 (18 U.S.C. 3014(h)(2))

OBJECTIVES:

Under the Domestic Trafficking Victim Program, OVC has established the Improving Outcomes for Child and Youth Victims of Human Trafficking Program. The overarching goal of this program is to improve outcomes for children and youth who are victims of human trafficking by integrating human trafficking policy and programming at the state or tribal level and by enhancing a coordinated, multidisciplinary, and jurisdiction-wide approach to human trafficking. Under this Program, OJJDP has established the Childrens Advocacy Center Subgrant Program for Victims of Child Pornography under the Victims of Child Abuse Support for Childrens Advocacy Centers (CAC) Program. The goal of this program is to support local CACs, state chapters, and multidisciplinary teams (mdts) that provide a coordinated investigation and comprehensive response to child abuse, specifically to provide services and improve the response to children who are victims of child pornography, including those victims of child pornography who are also victims of sex trafficking. Successful applicants funded through the Improving Outcomes for Child and Youth Victims of Human Trafficking solicitation will engage in the following general activities in order to meet program goals and objectives: Develop and implement a jurisdiction-wide strategy to combat the identified greatest challenge areas in child and youth trafficking within the state or tribe; this strategy must be finalized and approved or enacted within the first year of the program start date. This strategy will also include developing a systematic method to screen for victimization across entities; developing protocols and procedures to ensure child and youth victims receive appropriate services; delivering staff training to implement and sustain the strategy jurisdiction-wide; and strengthening data collection across multiple systems of care. Develop, enhance, and coordinate programs and activities geared toward improving outcomes for child and youth victims of sex and labor trafficking. States or tribes should establish a program coordinator role to oversee program implementation and ensure coordination of anti-trafficking efforts in the state or tribal jurisdiction. Successful applicants funded through the Childrens Advocacy Center Subgrant Program for Victims of Child Pornography will: Release RFP(s) to award subgrants based on funding strategy that includes identified national needs. Provide training and technical assistance specific to the RFP as well as limited subject matter training for CACs and mdts. Subaward funds to local CACs, state chapters and mdts that demonstrate need for and capacity to improve CAC service provision and response to victims of child pornography (including victims of those victims of child pornography that are victims of sex trafficking). Provide oversight and monitoring of subaward activities.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Federal funds awarded under this program may not cover more than 75 percent of the total costs of the project. Applicants must identify the source of the 25-percent non-federal portion of the total project costs and how they will use match funds. If a successful applicants proposed match exceeds the required match amount, and OJP approves the budget, the total match amount incorporated into the approved budget becomes mandatory and subject to audit.

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

2017 One large law enforcement agency used BWC-PIP funds to deploy cameras as part of their strategy of partnership policing to enhance accountability and promote public trust through a collaborative process with stakeholders. BWC implementation was based on integrating the findings from BWC research and best practices into field tested policies and procedures. In addition, the city involved prosecutors in the BWC implementation process to develop policy and enhance the evidentiary process and value of digital media. One small law enforcement agency purchased cameras, developed BWC policy, and then deployed cameras in order to document officer and community encounters. BWCs were deployed to provide accurate accounts of events, which enabled the department to increase transparency, justify use of force, resolve police misconduct allegations and reduce citizen complaints. The grantee was able to produce additional and enhanced evidentiary documentation that proved advantageous for prosecutorial decision-making and more effective case processing. 2018 Law enforcement agencies of all sizes will procure BWCs, develop sound and comprehensive BWC policies, coordinate those policies with emerging state directives and legislation, and track outcomes, including the effect of BWC deployment on use of force, citizen complaints, and officer safety. They will work with prosecutors and other justice and community stakeholder to ensure optimal input on BWC policy development and deployment in their jurisdiction. State Administrating Agencies (SSA) and regional criminal justice consortia agencies will work with multiple sub-recipient agencies to leverage BWC purchases and program development by leveraging economies of scale and other cost saving measures. They will oversee policy development and effective implementation of BWCs in respective jurisdictions. 2019 Future BWC Policy and Implementation Program funds will be directed to support procurement and implementation of BWCs in the context of evolving technological, legal, and policy developments. A portion of funds will be allocated to support projects that demonstrate effective management and use of digital media evidence to promote improved justice outcomes and to help prosecutors address challenges associated with managing increasing volumes of digital media data resulting from BWCs and other digital technology.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

See the current fiscal years solicitation available at the Office of Justice Programs web site (<https://ojp.gov/funding/Explore/CurrentFundingOpportunities.htm>) and/or <https://www.bja.gov/funding.aspx>. In summary: 1) Provide data in support of the need for body-worn cameras. 2) Describe the demographics of your jurisdiction. 3) Demonstrate a full understanding of how officer complaints and use-of-force practices can be addressed by BWCs. 4) Demonstrate a need to leverage DME (Digital Multimedia Evidence) to help inform adjudication of cases. 5) Demonstrate a partnership with associated agencies and advocacy groups necessary to effectively utilize DME and promote the program objectives. 6) Identify methods to develop policies and tracking mechanisms that include legal liabilities of FOIA, storage, retention, redaction, and expungement as well as privacy policies addressing BWC issues involving civil rights, domestic violence, juvenile, and other victims groups.

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE ON VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN (OVW), JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2017, Public Law 115-31.

OBJECTIVES:

The Consolidated and Technical Assistance Grant Program to Address Children and Youth Experiencing Domestic and Sexual Violence and Engage Men and Boys as Allies, hereafter referred to as the Consolidated Youth Program, supports activities that were previously funded under the following four OVW grant programs: Children Exposed to Violence Program (CEV); Services to Advocate for and Respond to Youth Program (Youth Services); Services, Training, Education and Policies to Reduce Sexual Assault, Domestic Violence, Dating Violence, and Stalking in Secondary Schools Grant Program (STEP); and Engaging Men in Preventing Sexual Assault, Domestic Violence, Dating Violence, and Stalking

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

Program (Engaging Men). The Consolidated Youth Program creates a unique opportunity for communities to increase collaboration among non-profit victim services, violence prevention and children and youth-serving organizations, organizations and programs that support men's role in combating violence against women and girls, schools, and tribal and local government agencies. This program has two primary purposes and supports projects that implement one or both of these areas. First, the program supports comprehensive child- and youth-centered intervention and prevention programs that maximize community based efforts and evidence-informed practices to more fully address domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking. Comprehensive programs include victim services to youth and children exposed to violence; training to professionals to improve interventions and responses; coordinated school based strategies; supportive services to non-offending parents; and coordinated community responses to violence targeting children and youth. Second, the program supports multi-faceted prevention strategies that involve community organizing, outreach, public education and mobilization that utilize men as influencers of other men and boys and encourages them to work as allies with women and girls to prevent domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking.

16.922 Equitable Sharing Program

FEDERAL AGENCY:

CRIMINAL DIVISION, JUSTICE, DEPARTMENT OF
AUTHORIZATION:

The Controlled Substances Act, 21 USC Code 881(e). Civil Asset Forfeiture Reform Act (CAFRA), 18 USC Code 981(e)(2).

OBJECTIVES:

The Department of Justice Asset Forfeiture Program is a nationwide law enforcement initiative that removes the tools of crime from criminal organizations, deters crime and deprives wrongdoers of their criminal proceeds, and recovers property that may be used to compensate victims. Equitable sharing further enhances the law enforcement mission by fostering cooperation among federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies. Federal law authorizes the Attorney General to share federally forfeited property with participating state and local law enforcement agencies. The exercise of this authority is discretionary and limited by statute. The Attorney General is not required to share property in any case.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Direct Payments for Specified Use

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The Comprehensive Crime Control Act of 1984 authorized federal officials to implement a national asset forfeiture program. One ancillary benefit of asset forfeiture is the authorization to share federal forfeiture proceeds with cooperating state and local law enforcement agencies, which provides agencies with valuable additional resources without burdening tax payer dollars. The Guide to Equitable Sharing for State and Local Law Enforcement Agencies (Guide) outlines the policies and procedures governing the receipt, use, maintenance and reporting of forfeited funds received through the Department of Justice Equitable Sharing Program (Program). The Guide is supplemented with the National Code of Professional Conduct for Asset Forfeiture and all Program participants must ensure compliance with the Code.

Applicant Eligibility:

Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals; Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; U.S. Territories and possessions; State; A state or local law enforcement agency meeting eligibility requirements set forth in the Guide and that directly participates in an investigation or prosecution resulting in a federal forfeiture may request an equitable share of the net proceeds of the forfeiture. For purposes of equitable sharing, the Department of Justice defines a law enforcement agency as a state or local government organization authorized to engage in, as its primary function, the investigation and apprehension, or the prosecution of individuals suspected or convicted of offenses against the criminal laws of the United States or of any state, county, municipality, or territory of the United States. A state National Guard generally does not meet the law enforcement agency criteria for participation in the Program because its primary mission is a military or other non-law enforcement purpose. However, a National Guard Counterdrug unit may qualify for sharing if: (1) It is a distinct unit of a state National Guard that has counterdrug activities as its primary mission and receives funding solely for this purpose; or (2) It is a military police or similar state National Guard unit that provides support to federal law enforcement agencies in counterdrug activities.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

U.S. Territories; State; Local; Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; A state or local law enforcement agency meeting eligibility requirements set forth in the Guide and that directly participates in an investigation or prosecution that results in a federal forfeiture may request an equitable share of the net proceeds of the forfeiture.

Credentials/Documentation:

The federal deciding authority must approve all sharing requests and recommendations, including sharing percentages negotiated in a task force or other agreement, before sharing occurs. Sharing will only be awarded to agencies that are compliant Program participants in good standing with the policies set forth in the Guide. This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is not applicable.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. After the seizure or forfeiture of an identified asset, a participating state or local agency meeting all requirements set forth in the Guide may request a share of the property by submitting a Form DAG-71, Equitable Sharing Request Form, to the federal seizing agency. A separate Form DAG-71 must be completed for each asset to be shared.

Award Procedure:

Federal law authorizes the Attorney General to share federally forfeited property with participating state and local law enforcement agencies. The exercise of this authority is discretionary and limited by statute. The Attorney General is not required to share property in any case. No sharing request or recommendation is final until approved by the federal deciding authority. The equitable sharing deciding authority levels are specified in the Guide.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

From 120 to 180 days. The DAG-71 form must be submitted within 60 days of seizure of the asset. Late submissions will be accepted and reviewed on a case by case basis. Sharing determinations are generally made 120 to 180 days after forfeiture. However, longer periods may be required in complex cases.

Appeals:

Reports:

To ensure effective management, promote public confidence in the integrity of the Program, and protect the Program against potential waste, fraud, and abuse, participating agencies must follow reporting requirements in order to receive any distribution of money or property through the Program. To maintain compliance, a state or local law enforcement agency must annually submit to the Department of Justice Asset Forfeiture and Money Laundering Section (AFMLS) a signed Equitable Sharing Agreement and Certification form within 60 days after the end of the agency's fiscal year, regardless of whether funds were received or maintained during the fiscal year. The form must be signed by the heads of both the law enforcement agency and the governing body. By signing the forms Affidavit, the signatories agree to be bound by the policies that govern the Program, including but not limited to supplantation, the use, maintenance, and reporting of funds. Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503. In accordance with the provisions of OMB Circular No. A-133 (Revised, June 27, 2003), "Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations," nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance in excess of the applicable threshold in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-federal entities that expend less than the applicable threshold in a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in Circular No. A-133.

17.002 Labor Force Statistics

FEDERAL AGENCY:

BUREAU OF LABOR STATISTICS, LABOR, DEPARTMENT OF
AUTHORIZATION:

Public Laws 58-57, 62-426, 71-537, 82-203, 93-203, 93-567, 94-206, 94-311, and 94-369; 29 U.S.C. 1, 2, 2b, 5, 8, 882, 1601

OBJECTIVES:

To provide, analyze, and publish statistical data on payroll employment and the civilian labor force, employment and unemployment, persons not in the labor force, labor demand and turnover, wages, hours, earnings, occupational employment, time use, and employment projections. Data are for the nation, states, metropolitan areas, and counties. Data can be monthly, quarterly, or annual.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Dissemination of Technical Information, Project Grants, Salaries and Expenses

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Funds in the form of cooperative agreements are available to state agencies designated by the Governor, usually State Workforce Agencies (SWA), for staffing, travel, equipment, expenses, and indirect costs of statistical business process operations such as sample refinement, data collection, non-response follow-up, data review and editing, estimation, data analysis, and data dissemination.

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Anyone/general public; SWAs designated under Section 4 of the Wagner-Peyser Act (as amended by the Workforce Investment Act and subsequently the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act) are eligible to apply for cooperative agreement funding to operate the Current Employment Statistics (CES), Local Area Unemployment Statistics (LAUS), Quarterly Census of Employment and Wages (QCEW), and Occupational Employment Statistics (OES) programs in the states. BLS may select an alternative applicant if a SWA declines to apply for cooperative agreement funding or otherwise substantially fails to meet BLS application and performance requirements. Requests for technical information may be made by the general public.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Anyone/general public; General public may request information from the SWAs and the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Credentials/Documentation:

The purpose of this revision is to update the language for BLS program 17.002 in the CFDA to reflect the applicability of OMB Circular A-87. Although no credentials or documentation are required, we discovered that the language in the CFDA for program 17.002 incorrectly states that OMB Circular A-87 does not apply to this program. The BLS LMI grantees are subject to the requirements of OMB Circular A-87. BLS Cooperative Agreements and other Administrative Memorandum reference OMB Circular A-87. Specifically, BLS agreements include an assurance that the grantees will comply with the required financial and compliance audits in accordance with the Single Audit Act. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372. Preapplication coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Draft and final applications for cooperative agreement funding are submitted to the appropriate regional office of the Bureau of Labor Statistics according to a schedule of key dates. Requests for information may be made to the nearest regional office of the Bureau of Labor Statistics listed in Appendix IV of the Catalog.

Award Procedure:

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

Upon submission of an acceptable application and after negotiation of specific program deliverables and costs, the Bureau of Labor Statistics awards cooperative agreement funding to the SWA.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

From 60 to 90 days. The typical process would include guidelines and application materials being mailed to SWA in early summer, with initial drafts required by mid-summer, and final applications due by late summer. Cooperative agreements are executed and become effective October 1.

Appeals:

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Cooperative agreement funding generally is for a single fiscal year. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: quarterly

Reports:

LMI Cooperative Agreement reporting requirements are based on the SWAs Cost Accounting System (CAS) reports or their Financial Accounting and Reporting System (FARS) equivalents. CAS report 65, or FARS Report 11, is submitted monthly. CAS reports 61, and 94B, or FARS Report 12A and 17, are submitted quarterly. SWAs choosing not to use the CAS- or FARS- generated reports must submit the LMI Cooperative Statistics Financial Report in lieu of CAS reports 61, 65 and 94B or FARS reports 11, 12A and 17. This report is submitted monthly for data which would appear on CAS report 65 or FARS report 11, and quarterly for CAS reports 61 and 94B, or FARS reports or 12A and 17. Federal Financial Reports are required and submitted on a quarterly basis.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503. TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Dissemination of Technical Information, Salaries and Expenses

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Provides for Consumer Price Indexes (CPI) which measure the average change in prices of goods and services consumed by all urban households as well as urban wage earners and clerical workers. As the basis for most estimates of changes in the purchasing power of the consumer's dollar, the CPI is a Principal Federal Economic Indicator and has widespread use in escalation adjustments in both the private and public sectors. Provides for Producer Price Indexes (PPI) which measure the average change in selling prices that domestic producers of goods, services, and construction receive for their output and which are widely cited within price escalation clauses of long term sales contracts to protect both parties against inflation. Provides for Export and Import Price Indexes which measure the average change in import and export prices, which are used to adjust international trade data and to measure the effect these price changes have on the competitiveness of the U.S. economy. Provides for Consumer Expenditure Surveys (CE), which supply periodic updates to the market basket and the weights used to calculate the CPI. In addition, the CE supplies information on consumers' spending and income by characteristics such as income, age, race, family size, and region.

17.150 Employee Benefits Security Administration

(EBSA),

EMPLOYEE BENEFITS SECURITY ADMINISTRATION, LABOR,
DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, Public Law 93-406

OBJECTIVES:

The Employee Benefits Security Administration (EBSA) is responsible for the administration and enforcement of the civil and criminal provisions of Title I of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA) as well as related provisions of other Federal laws (e.g., Title 18 USC federal criminal statutes). EBSA is also responsible for assuring compliance with the fiduciary responsibility provisions of the Thrift Savings Plan under the Federal Employees' Retirement System Act of 1986 (FERSA). The Employee Benefits Security Administration (EBSA) is committed to educating and assisting the 149 million workers, retirees and their families covered by approximately 685,000 private retirement plans, 2.2 million health plans, and similar numbers of other welfare benefit plans holding approximately $9.3 trillion in assets; as well as plan sponsors and members of the employee benefits community. EBSA balances proactive enforcement with compliance assistance and works diligently to provide quality assistance to plan participants and beneficiaries. It is the policy of EBSA to provide the highest quality of service to its customers. The mission of the Employee Benefits Security Administration is to assure the security of the retirement, health and other workplace related benefits of America's workers and their families. We will accomplish this mission by developing effective regulations; assisting and educating workers, plan sponsors, fiduciaries and service providers; and vigorously enforcing the law.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Dissemination of Technical Information, Salaries and Expenses

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

EBSA's compliance assistance program provides information to assist plan participants including, beneficiaries, sponsors, service providers and other interested parties in understanding and complying with the requirements of ERISA as it applies to the administration of employee retirement, health and other welfare benefit plans. This enables participants to better understand and exercise their rights under the law and, when possible, to recover any benefits to which they may be entitled. This also allows plan administrators and practitioners the opportunity to better understand and comply with the law.

Applicant Eligibility:

Individual/Family; Plan administrators, trustees, participants, beneficiaries of employee benefit plans, or others involved in plan administration may obtain assistance in complying with the Act. Interested persons may obtain certain plan documents which are required to be filed by plan administrators.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

OBJECTIVES:

To promote, engage, and assist industry in the development, expansion, and improvement of Registered Apprenticeship. This program is designed to: provide skilled workers required by U.S. employers, ensure equal employment opportunities, and ensure the quality of all new and existing Registered Apprenticeship programs.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Advisory Services and Counseling, Project Grants, Project Grants (for specified projects), Salaries and Expenses, Training

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The Registered Apprenticeship system has been utilized to meet the needs of America's skilled workforce for more than 75 years. It is a unique, flexible training system that combines job-related-technical instruction with structured on-the-job learning experiences. Registered Apprenticeship is a leader in preparing American workers to compete in a global 21st Century economy because the system keeps pace with advancing technologies and innovations in training and human resource development. Under the Office of Apprenticeship (OA), apprenticeship training programs and apprentices are registered in 25 States. OA also provides technical assistance and works closely with State Apprenticeship Agencies (SAAs) in the remaining 25 States, the District of Columbia, Guam, and two territories that register programs and apprentices in accordance with Federal standards. OA provides information on existing and recommended standards of training in Registered Apprenticeship. The wage rates of apprentices in registered programs (Federal and State) are exempt from the prevailing wage requirements of the Davis-Bacon Act and the Service Contract Act. Registered programs are driven directly by the demands of the labor market. The training is industry-recognized, voluntarily sponsored by an individual business or an employer association, and may be partnered with a labor organization through a collective bargaining agreement. OA brings these entities together, as appropriate, to formulate Registered Apprenticeship training programs which meet the federal standards. There are no grant funds available to employers for construction of training facilities, curricula development, and apprentices' subsidies. Apprentices start working from day one with incremental wage increases as they become more proficient on the job. Apprenticeships range from one to six years. The "Earn and Learn" training model of Registered Apprenticeship provides an assigned mentor for the on-the-job learning. The related instruction, technical training, or other certified training is provided by training centers, technical schools, community colleges and/or institutions employing distance and computer-based learning approaches. The goal is to provide workers with advanced skill sets that meet the specific needs of employers. Upon completion of a Registered Apprenticeship program, participants receive an industry issued, nationally-recognized credential that certifies occupational proficiency, is portable, and can provide a pathway to the middle class. In many cases, these programs provide apprentices with the opportunity to simultaneously obtain secondary and post-secondary degrees. Registered Apprenticeship is highly active in traditional industries such as construction and manufacturing but it is also instrumental in training and development in high-growth industries such as advanced manufacturing, energy, health care, homeland security, information technology, telecommunications, and more. The Registered Apprenticeship system provides the opportunity for workers seeking high-skilled, high-paying jobs and for employers seeking to build a quality workforce. In this regard, the Registered Apprenticeship system meets the needs of both workers and employers.

associations); Employers, unions, and other workforce intermediaries can be eligible to start and maintain Registered Apprenticeship programs. The vast majority of programs are not funded by Federal grant funds. The OA and SAAs provide technical assistance. OA also administers two grant programs, as follows: I. Women in Apprenticeship and Non-Traditional Occupations (WANTO) grants fund innovative projects to community-based organizations (CBOs) that are designed to improve women's participation in Registered Apprenticeship programs for nontraditional occupations in a broad range of industries. WANTO grants were awarded for Program Year (PY) 2015 and PY 2016 to three CBOs to establish regional/multi-state Technical Resource Centers to assist Registered Apprenticeship program sponsors to improve the recruitment, hiring, training, employment, and retention of women in apprenticeships. PY 2013 and PY 2014 funds were similarly awarded to three CBOs for the same purposes. Future funding was not requested for PY 2017. These grants are jointly administered by the Department of Labor's Women's Bureau and the Employment and Training Administration. See http://www.doleta.gov/grants/grants_awarded.cfm. II. ApprenticeshipUSA State Accelerator Grants/State Expansion Grants Registered Apprenticeship has made available $60 million in grants to help state governments integrate apprenticeship into their education and workforce systems; engage industry and other partners at scale to expand apprenticeship to new sectors and new populations; support state capacity to conduct outreach and work with employers to start new programs; provide support to promote greater inclusion and diversity in apprenticeship, and implement state innovations, incentives and system reforms. By investing in state strategies for growing Registered Apprenticeship opportunities, these funds will help strengthen the foundation for the rapid and sustained expansion of quality apprenticeship nationwide. These grants are covered under CFDA 17.285 .

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Student/Trainee; Women; Youth (16-21); Welfare Recipient; Registered Apprenticeship program sponsors identify the minimum qualifications to apply into their apprenticeship programs. Individuals applying for acceptance into an apprenticeship program must be at least 16 years old. To be an apprentice in a hazardous occupation, the individual must usually be 18 years. Program sponsors may also identify additional minimum qualifications and credentials to apply, e.g., education, ability to physically perform the essential functions of the occupation, ability to complete the related technical instruction, proof of age. Along with the completed application form, each prospective apprentice may be required by the program sponsor to submit a transcript of school subjects and grades, proof of age, an honorable military discharge (if applicable), and a high-school diploma or equivalence certificate (if applicable). References from all previous employers may be required.

For Program Registration: Prospective program sponsors must meet with an OA or SAA field representative, as appropriate, for technical assistance to develop a set of apprenticeship training program standards. These include the age and educational background of apprentices, and a schedule of the work processes and related technical instruction subjects to be covered during the training program. The program will be registered if it meets Federal requirements covering (a) the apprenticeability of the occupation(s) and (b) the suitability of the training standards for providing apprentices with sufficient knowledge to become skilled workers. For Grants: Funding Opportunity Announcements (FOAs) are published in the Federal Register and announced on the Employment and Training Administration's (ETA's) Internet website at <http://www.doleta.gov>. Projects are awarded on a competitive basis. To compete for a grant, organizations develop a proposal and budget that demonstrate how the organization will provide services to a targeted population. 17.207 Employment Service/Wagner-Peyser Funded Activities

Wagner- Peyser Act of 1933.,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING ADMINISTRATION, LABOR,

DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) of 2014., Public Law 113-128

OBJECTIVES:

The Employment Service (ES) program brings together individuals looking for employment and employers looking for job seekers. It does this by providing a variety of services, which are available to all individuals. The program provides job seekers with career services, including labor exchange services, job search assistance, workforce information, referrals to employment, and other assistance. Employers can use the ES to post job orders and obtain qualified applicants.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Formula Grants, Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

FORMULA GRANTS: Wagner-Peyser Employment Services Grants: The Wagner-Peyser Act of 1933 established a nationwide system of public employment offices collectively known as the Employment Service (ES). The Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA), amended Wagner-Peyser, making the Employment Service part of the American Job Center (AJC) Network, also known as the One-Stop Career Center delivery system. AJCs provide an integrated array of high-quality services which allow workers, job seekers, and businesses to access services under one roof, with many services also offered through self-service electronic access, both at the Centers and remotely on the Internet. These services provide universal access to all including persons with barriers to employment. For Wagner-Peyser Employment Services Grants to States, funds must be used for career services, including labor exchange activities and the provision of labor market information. Training is not an allowable activity. Services available include assessments of career interests, career guidance when appropriate, job search workshops, and referral to jobs or training as appropriate. Services offered to employers in addition to referral of job seekers to job openings, include matching job requirements with applicants' experience, skills and other attributes; helping with special recruitment needs; assisting employers with hard-to-fill job orders; assisting with job restructuring; and helping employers assist laid-off workers. Under WIOA, the ES has increased its reemployment services to Unemployment Insurance (UI) claimants. Under Wagner-Peyser Act Section 7(b), 10 percent of the total sums allotted to each state workforce agency (SWA) are reserved for use by the Governor to provide performance incentives, services for individuals with special needs, and for the extra costs of exemplary models for enhancing state workforce staff with professional development and career advancement opportunities. Labor Market Information Grants to States: These fund the provision of state and local workforce information to job seekers, employers, and educators, job trainers, economic developers and others. Such information includes job opportunities, employment projections, workforce trends, career guidance, wage rates, and other data and information. The amended Wagner-Peyser Act under WIOA has enhanced collaboration among employment and training programs by States mandating co-location of ES offices with the one-stop offices. WIOA aligns the service delivery, planning and performance data within the one-stop delivery system.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. FORMULA GRANTS: Under WIOA, Wagner-Peyser is a "core" program, in which the Governor submits a single Unified State Plan or Combined State Plan in accordance with the respective Planning Guidance, issued through the Federal Register. The Planning Guidance provides detailed instruction on what must be included in the State Plan. The Unified Planning Guidance provides a framework for collaboration across programs and integration of services, including WIOA Title I programs and Wagner-Peyser Activities, and WIOA Titles II and IV programs overseen by the Department of Education. The Combined Plan includes these programs as well as other non-DOL programs. The plan is submitted to the Federal Coordinator for Plan Review and Approval (currently Heather Fleck), Division of WIOA Adult Services and Workforce System, Office of Workforce Investment, Employment and Training Administration, Department of Labor, 200 Constitution Avenue, NW, Room S-4209, Washington, DC 20210.

Award Procedure:

Those portions of the State Plan over which the Assistant Secretary for Employment and Training exercises authority are reviewed and approved by the Employment and Training Administration. Formula funds are awarded to the states based on a statutory formula provided in the authorizing legislation or, as in the case of LMI grants, based on an administrative formula. The State Plans include services to persons with barriers to employment, including persons with disabilities.

FEDERAL AGENCY:

EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING ADMINISTRATION, LABOR,
DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Unemployment Compensation for Ex-Servicemembers, 5 USC Code 8521 et seq.. Federal Unemployment Tax Act, 26 USC Code 3301 et seq.. The Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) (Pub. L. 113-128) was passed on July 22, 2014. It supersedes titles I and II of the Workforce Investment Act of 1998, and amends the Wagner-Peyser Act and the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. The law went into effect on July 1, 2015. Also, unless otherwise stipulated, recipients are subject to Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards; Final Rule on December 26, 2013 and found at 2 CFR Part 200 along with the OMB approved exceptions for DOL at 2 CFR Part 2900 published on December 19, 2014 in the Federal Register., Public Law 113-128, Social Security Act (Titles III, IX, XI, XII) 42 USC 501-504; 1101-1110; 1320b-7; 1321-1324, 42 USC Code 501-504. Federal-State Extended Unemployment Compensation Act, Title II, Section 201 et seq., Public Law 91-373, 26 USC Code 3304(a)(11)note. Unemployment Compensation for Federal Civilian Employees, 5 USC Code 8501 et seq., Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act, 42 USC Code 5177.

OBJECTIVES:

To oversee unemployment insurance programs for eligible workers through federal and state cooperation, including unemployment compensation for federal employees or ex-service members, Disaster Unemployment Assistance, and to assist in the oversight of Trade Adjustment Assistance and Alternative Trade Adjustment Assistance, and Reemployment Trade Adjustment Assistance programs.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Direct Payments with Unrestricted Use, Formula Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The states have the direct responsibility for establishing and operating their own unemployment insurance programs, while the federal government finances the cost of administration. State unemployment insurance tax collections are used solely for the payment of benefits. Federal unemployment insurance tax collections are used to finance expenses deemed necessary for proper and efficient administration of the state unemployment insurance laws; to reimburse state funds for one-half the costs of extended benefits paid under the provisions of state laws which conform to the provisions of the Social Security Act and the Federal Unemployment Tax Act; and to make repayable advances to states when needed to pay benefit costs. Funds used for benefit payments may not be used for any program administration costs nor for training, job search, and job relocation payments. Disaster Unemployment Assistance (DUA) is paid out of funds provided by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). Benefits for former Federal civilian employees, including postal workers, and former members of the Armed Forces are paid out of the Federal Employees Compensation Account (FECA) in the Unemployment Trust Fund, subject to reimbursement by the former employing agency. Trade Adjustment Assistance payments are made by states for workers adversely affected by trade imports or shifts in production.

Applicant Eligibility:

U.S. Territories and possessions (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); State; State workforce agencies, including those in the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and Virgin Islands. The Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) (Pub. L. 113-128) was passed on July 22, 2014. It supersedes titles I and II of the Workforce Investment Act of 1998, and amends the Wagner-Peyser Act and the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. The law went into effect on July 1, 2015. Also, unless otherwise stipulated, recipients are subject to Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards; Final Rule on December 26, 2013 and found at 2 CFR Part 200 along with the OMB approved exceptions for DOL at 2 CFR Part 2900 published on December 19, 2014 in the Federal Register.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Individual/Family; Anyone/general public; Veteran/Service person/Reservist (including dependents; Unemployed; All workers whose wages are subject to state unemployment insurance laws, federal civilian employees, ex-service members, and workers whose unemployment is caused by a presidentially declared disaster under the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act, are eligible if they are involuntarily unemployed, able to work, available for work, meet the eligibility and qualifying requirements of the state law, and are free from disqualifications. Some states provide Short Time Compensation or Self Employment Assistance for eligible individuals. Workers who became unemployed or underemployed because of the adverse effect of increased imports or because of shifts in production outside the U.S. may be eligible for Trade Readjustment Allowance, Alternative Trade Adjustment Assistance or Reemployment Adjustment Assistance and other types of Trade Adjustment Assistance (see program 57.001). Individual state information on eligibility requirements is available from local American Job Centers or at <http://www.servicelocator.org/>.

Credentials/Documentation:

Awards of grants to states are conditioned on the Secretary of Labor's determination that the states' unemployment compensation laws are in conformity with the Social Security Act and the Federal Unemployment Tax Act and that state practices substantially comply with these laws. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is not applicable. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Eligible applicants are furnished applications (State Quality Service Plan) by the Employment and Training Administration for this program. States submit the plans to apply for grants to the appropriate regional office of the Employment and Training Administration based on target performance levels pursuant to nationally-developed workload estimates. All plans are to be constructed in terms of selected workloads to be undertaken and the resources and numbers of employees needed to accomplish them.

Award Procedure:

The Regional Administrator for Employment and Training issues a preliminary approval for a state within the dollar target provided by the ETA national office, based on the state plan submitted.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

From 30 to 60 days. At the national office level 30 to 60 days. Approximately 45 days at the regional office level.

Appeals:

Other. Contact federal agency. A hearing is required if state law is not certified to be in conformity. Funding is based on workload formula.

Renewals:

Not Applicable.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory formula is not applicable to this assistance listing. Matching requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing. MOE requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Annual grants for base operation of programs are based on workload projections pursuant to economic assumptions and nationally developed workload estimates. Additional quarterly funding is based on actual workloads. Financing of administrative costs is accomplished through letter of credit draw downs needed to meet immediate cash requirements. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: letter

Reports:

Weekly, monthly, quarterly and yearly statistical reports of unemployment insurance workloads are required. Cash reports include the following transactions: Federal cash receipts/disbursements; Federal expenditures and un-obligated balance; recipient share of obligations and expenditures; program income.

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

Additional expenditure data required includes other federal funds expended and real property proceeds expended. The comprehensive performance management system requires that a State Quality Service Plan (SQSP) be submitted as part of the application. Where performance is below the established minimum criteria, a corrective action plan (CAP) is required as part of the SQSP. The CAP identifies state activities and planning targets for performance improvement activities. Separate quarterly financial status reports are required for grants used for administration of each type of program. Data and progress towards performance targets are reviewed by the regional and national office staff. The SQSP and CAPs are reviewed quarterly by regional office staff.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503. State workforce agencies are subject to audits by the Department of Labor or other authorized government agencies.

Records:

State laws and requirements are to be in conformity with Federal statutes. States are expected to report any legislative and regulatory changes to the Federal agency. National office staff provides guidance on the time frame for data submission and corrections to data reports. The state determines the time period to maintain tax records; however, the IRS recommends 4 years after the date tax is due or is paid, whichever is later. The recommendation for performance records is 3 years.

17.235 Senior Community Service Employment Program

Senior Community Employment Program (SCSEP),

FEDERAL AGENCY:

EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING ADMINISTRATION, LABOR,
DEPARTMENT OF
AUTHORIZATION:

Older Americans Act of 1965, Older Americans Act of 2016 Unless otherwise stipulated, entities carrying out the project are subject to Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards found at 2 CFR Part 200 along with the OMB approved exceptions for DOL at 2 CFR Part 2900 published on December 19, 2014 in the Federal Register; Older Americans Act Reauthorization Act of 2016 published April 22, 2016; Interim Final Rule published December 1, 2017; Final Rule published December 26, 2010; and Training and Employment Guidance Letters., Title V, Statue 79-218, Public Law 89-73, 42 USC Code 3056.

OBJECTIVES:

To provide unemployed, low-income persons, who are age 55 or older (and not job ready), with training at community service employment assignments in public and non-profit organizations so that they can gain work experience and on-the-job training. These employment assignments promote economic self-sufficiency, and serve as bridges to unsubsidized employment.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Formula Grants, Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Entities carrying out the project use the funds to create and pay for part-time job training and work experience in community service assignments for unemployed persons age 55 and above whose income is not more than 125 percent of the poverty level. The individuals who are enrolled in the program receive work experience and skills training at host agencies, which are public agencies and/or private nonprofit organizations exempt from taxation under 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986. A portion of the funds may be used to provide participants with additional trainings, such as occupational skills training, on-the-job experience training, etc. (outside of the normal job-training assignments at a host agency) and supportive services. Participants may not train in projects involving political or sectarian activities, nor may participants displace any employed worker, nor perform work which impairs existing contracts for service. Entities carrying out the project must consult with appropriate area agencies on aging, with the State workforce development board and local workforce development board, and with other appropriate agencies and entities to promote coordination of activities. Additionally, each local project is required to coordinate its activities with training and other service providers under title I of the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act, including utilizing the one-stop delivery system of the local workforce development areas involved to recruit eligible individuals to ensure that the maximum number of eligible individuals will have an opportunity to participate in the project.

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Other public institution/organization; U.S. Territories and possessions (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals; Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; Minority group; Native American Organizations (includes Indian groups, cooperatives, corporations, partnerships, associations); The following types of organizations are eligible to receive grants: (1) States; (2) U.S. territories; (3) Public and nonprofit private agency and organizations; and (4) Public or nonprofit national Indian aging organizations and public or nonprofit Pacific Island and Asian American aging organizations. Unless otherwise stipulated, entities carrying out the project are subject to Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards found at 2 CFR Part 200 along with the OMB approved exceptions for DOL at 2 CFR Part 2900 published on December 19, 2014 in the Federal Register; Older Americans Act Reauthorization Act of 2016 published April 22, 2016; Interim Final Rule published December 1, 2017; Final Rule published December 26, 2010; and Training and Employment Guidance Letters available via https://www.doleta.gov/Seniors/html_docs/TechAssist.cfm.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Senior Citizen (60+); Unemployed; Low Income; SCSEP applicants must be unemployed adults 55 years or older with a family income that is not more than 125 percent of the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) poverty level. Prospective participants must provide documentation relevant to age and income, which is required to determine whether the individual is program eligible. With certain exceptions, the Census Bureau's Current Population Survey definition of income governs the determination of SCSEP applicants income eligibility. Section 518 (a)(3)(A) of the OAA-2016 specifies that any income that is unemployment compensation, a benefit received under title XVI of the Social Security Act; a payment made to or on behalf of veterans or former members of the Armed Forces under the laws administered by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs, or 25 percent of a benefit received under title II of the Social Security Act, is excluded from SCSEP income eligibility determinations.

Credentials/Documentation:

Applicants must meet the eligibility test under Section 514(c) and the responsibility test under Section 514(d) of the Older Americans Act. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review. The distribution of funds under this project is a division between national grants (public and nonprofit private agency and organization grantees) and grants to states. Funds are allotted to States at 22 percent and to National organizations and agencies at 78 percent.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. National nonprofit organizations are required under Section 502(d) of the Older Americans Act to submit an application to the state agency, in addition to the Department of Labor. The Office of Workforce Investment in the Employment and Training Administration will provide information concerning proper application, format, and content and furnish standard application forms. Governors may comment on SCSEP grant proposals prior to award and may make recommendations to the Secretary of Labor to improve the distribution of SCSEP services.

Award Procedure:

Awards are made directly to eligible applicants by the Employment and Training Administration of the Department of Labor.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

From 30 to 60 days. The approval range for formula grants is approximately 30 to 60 days.

Appeals:

From 1 to 15 days. Appeals may be filed according to the regulations at 20 CFR 641.900.

Renewals:

Other. Grantees must meet the eligibility and responsibility test each year in order to be funded. In addition, grantees must meet negotiated performance measures described in Section 513(b) of OAA-2016, in administrative guidance, and in the Final Rule on SCSEP Performance Accountability published September 1, 2010.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory Formula: Title Older Americans Act 2016 Amendments, Chapter 20 CFR 641.100 of the 2010 Final Rule, Part , Subpart ,Public Law P.L. 114-144.Matching Requirements: Percent: 0%. Requirement: Matching requirements are voluntary. The grantee must contribute matching, in cash or in-kind, of not less than 10 percent of the total cost of the project, except that the Federal Government may pay all costs of any project that is an emergency or disaster project; or b. a project located in an economically depressed area as determined by the Secretary of Labor in consultation with the Secretary of Commerce and the Director of the Office of Community Services of the Department of Health and Human Services; c. a project which is exempt by law (42 USC 3056(c)). This program has MOE requirements, see funding agency for further details. Additional Information: .

17.245 Trade Adjustment Assistance

FEDERAL AGENCY:

EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING ADMINISTRATION, LABOR,
DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

The Trade Adjustment Assistance Reauthorization Act of 2015 (TAARA 2015), title IV of the Trade Preferences Extension Act of 2015 (Public Law 114-27), was signed into law by President Barack Obama on June 29, 2015. Unless otherwise stipulated, recipients are subject to Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards; Final Rule on December 26, 2013 and found at 2 CFR Part 200 along with the OMB approved exceptions for DOL at 2 CFR Part 2900 published on December 19, 2014 in the Federal Register., Public Law 114-27

OBJECTIVES:

The Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA) for Workers Program is a federal entitlement program that assists workers impacted by foreign trade. Through the provision of a number of employment-related benefits and services, the TAA Program provides trade-affected workers with opportunities to obtain the support, resources, skills, and credentials they need to return to the workforce in a good job in an in-demand industry. The program services include training, employment and case management services, job search allowances, relocation allowances, wage supplements for workers aged 50 and older, and Trade Readjustment Allowances (TRA).

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Formula Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

State Workforce Agencies (SWAs) serve as agents of the United States and administer the worker adjustment assistance benefit provisions of the Trade Act. SWAs, through their American Job Centers (AJC), formerly known as One-Stop Career Centers or by a different name, and other local offices, provide assessments, employment counseling, and job placement services; job search and relocation assistance; and training. The weekly subsistence payments and wage supplements of TRA and A/RTAA are administered under the Unemployment Insurance program (see CFDA 17.225). State unemployment compensation and extended benefits must be exhausted before TRA is paid to eligible claimants. Trade impacted workers are eligible to receive job search and relocation allowances. In addition to the costs of training, they may be paid subsistence and transportation allowances to attend approved training outside the normal commuting distance of a worker's regular place of residence.

Applicant Eligibility:

Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Small business (less than 500 employees); Profit organization; Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Quasi-public nonprofit institution/organization; Other private institutions/organizations; State; Anyone/general public; For a worker to be eligible to apply for TAA, the worker must be part of a group of workers that are the subject of a petition filed with the Department. Three workers of a company, a company official, a union or other duly authorized representative, or an AJC operator or partner may file that petition with the Department. In response to the filing, the Department initiates an investigation to determine whether foreign trade was an important cause of the workers job loss or threat of job loss. If the Department determines that the workers meet the statutory criteria for group certification of eligibility for the workers in the group to apply for TAA, the Department grants the petition and issues a certification.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Individual/Family; Unemployed; Once a member of a worker group is covered by a certification for eligibility to apply for TAA, the workers individually apply for benefits and services through the American Job Centers. TAA benefits and services have specific individual eligibility criteria that must be met, such as previous work history, unemployment insurance eligibility, and individual skill levels. The TAA program currently offers the following benefits and services to eligible individuals: training, weekly income support in the form of TRA, out-of-area job search and relocation allowances, case management and employment services, and wage supplement for qualified older workers through RTAA.

Credentials/Documentation:

Petition for Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA) (OMB No. 1205-0342) 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is not applicable. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. This program is excluded from coverage under OMB Circular No. A-102. This program is excluded from coverage under OMB Circular No. A-110. To apply for TAA under the Trade Act of 1974, as amended, a "Petition for Trade Adjustment Assistance" must be filed directly with the Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance and with the State official or organization designated by the Governor of the State in which the workers' firm or subdivision is located. OTAA and State contact information, as well as petition forms in English and Spanish, are available through the State Workforce Agencies or from the Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance. The petition forms may also be downloaded from the TAA web-site, or filed online, at: <http://www.doleta.gov/tradeact>.

Award Procedure:

A Certification of Eligibility to apply for TAA may be issued by the Secretary of Labor to groups of workers who have been found by the Department of Labor to have met the group eligibility requirements of TAARA 2015. Certifications will be posted in the Federal Register and on the TAA website. Individual workers covered by the certification will be notified by the state and can apply to their local American Job Center for individual determinations of eligibility to receive benefits and services.

Deadlines:

17.258 WIOA Adult Program

Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA), Adult Programs,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING ADMINISTRATION, LABOR,
DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) of 2014.The Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) was signed into law on July 22, 2014, and went into effect on July 1, 2015. It amends the Wagner-Peyser Act and the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. The regulations were published in the Federal Register on August 19, 2016. The regulations for the Title I WIOA Adult, Dislocated Worker and Youth programs are at 20 CFR Parts 680 through 683, as well as the joint Department of Labor and Department of Education regulations found at 20 CFR parts 676 through 678., Public Law 113-128, Public Law 113-128

OBJECTIVES:

The Adult Program is one of the six core programs authorized by Title I of the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA). The program serves individuals and helps employers meet their workforce needs. It enables workers to obtain good jobs by providing them with job search assistance and training opportunities. Under WIOA, the Adult Program will ensure that the unemployed and other job seekers have access to high-quality workforce services, and that priority for services will be given to those who are public assistance recipients, low-income individuals, and/or basic skills deficient. In addition, the program will provide individuals with disabilities access to high quality workforce services, and better prepare them for competitive, integrated employment. Performance program measures include: 1. Employment Rate, 2nd Quarter After Exit; 2. Employment Rate, 4th Quarter After Exit; 3. Median Earnings; 4. Credential Rate; 5. Measurable Skills Gains. The employment goals are measured by using the

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

Unemployment Insurance Wage Records Information System whenever possible.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Formula Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

WIOA specifies that most services for adults will be provided through the American Job Center Network, also known as one-stop career centers or workforce centers. It authorizes that funds be used to provide career services, which are classified into two categories: basic and individualized services. Basic services are available to all job seekers and include labor exchange services, labor market information, job listings, and information on partner programs. Individualized services include training and supportive services, such as child care and needs-related payments. These are made available to individuals after an interview, assessment or evaluation determines that the individual requires training to obtain employment. These training services will be linked to job opportunities in their communities, including occupational training, work-based training and basic skills training. To promote customer choice and involvement in career decisions, some participants use an "Individual Training Account (ITA)" to select an appropriate training program from an eligible training provider.

Applicant Eligibility:

Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals; U.S. Territories and possessions; State; Under WIOA, the entities eligible to receive funding from the Department are the 50 States, Puerto Rico, the District of Columbia and the outlying areas. Funds are allotted based on a statutory formula. The states in turn allocate funds to local workforce development boards which are responsible for operating American Job Centers (approximately 2,400 nationwide).

Beneficiary Eligibility:

U.S. Territories; Individual/Family; Minority group; Specialized group (e.g. health professionals, students, veterans); Small business; Profit organization; Private nonprofit institution/organization; Other private institution/organization; Anyone/general public; Health Professional; Education Professional; Student/Trainee; Graduate Student; Scientist/Researchers; Artist/Humanist; Engineer/Architect; Builder/Contractor/Developer; Farmer/Rancher/Agriculture Producer; Industrialist/ Business person; Small Business Person; Black; American Indian; Spanish Origin; Asian; Other Non-White; State; Migrant; U.S. Citizen; Refugee/Alien; Veteran/Service person/Reservist (including dependents; Women; Disabled (e.g. Deaf, Blind, Physically Disabled); Physically Afflicted (e.g. TB, Arthritis, Heart Disease); Mentally Disabled; Senior Citizen (60+); Unemployed; Welfare Recipient; Pension Recipient; Low Income; All adults 18 years of age and older are eligible to receive career services. Several populations receive priority, with States and local areas being responsible for establishing procedures for applying the priority requirements. Priority of service is given to veterans and other covered persons. Priority for career and training services must be given to public assistance recipients, other low income populations, and low-skilled individuals.

Credentials/Documentation:

Formula-funded programs must submit a Governor/Secretary Agreement and a State Plan. States also sign a grant document agreeing to comply with the Act and regulations. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. The Governor must submit a single WIOA Unified or Combined State Plan in accordance with planning guidance issued through the Federal Register. The planning guidance provides detailed instruction on what must be included in the State Plan, and provides a framework for collaboration across programs and integration of services, including the WIOA Title I programs, Title III Wagner-Peyser Activities, and WIOA Titles II and IV programs housed with the Department of Education. The Combined State Plan includes the six "core" programs of the Unified Plan as well as other workforce development programs administered by the Department of Labor, the Department of Education, Health and Human Services, the Department of Agriculture, and the Department of Housing and Urban Development. States submit the Unified or Combined State Plan to the Federal Coordinator for Plan Review and Approval (currently Heather Fleck), Division of WIOA Adult Services and Workforce System, Office of Workforce Investment, Employment and Training Administration, Department of Labor, 200 Constitution Avenue, NW, Room S-4209, Washington, DC 20210.

Award Procedure:

Those portions of the State Plan over which the Assistant Secretary for Employment and Training exercises authority are reviewed and approved by the Employment and Training Administration. Formula funds are awarded to the states based on a statutory formula provided in the authorizing legislation.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

From 60 to 90 days. State plans will be reviewed in accordance with 20 CFR 661.220(e), which provides that the Secretary must approve all state plans within 90 days of their submission, unless the Secretary determines in writing that: (1) the State Plan is inconsistent with the provisions of Title I of WIOA or the WIOA regulations, including 29 CFR Part 37; or (2) the portion of the State Plan impacting the Wagner-Peyser Act plan does not satisfy the criteria for approval in Section 8(d) of the Wagner-Peyser Act or the Wagner-Peyser Act regulations at 20 CFR Part 652.

Additionally, Section 129(c)(4) prioritizes work experiences with the requirement that local areas must spend a minimum of 20 percent of non-administrative local area funds on work experience.

Applicant Eligibility:

State; Under WIOA, 50 states, Puerto Rico, the District of Columbia, and the outlying areas are identified as the recipients of youth training activities funds. For a state to be eligible to receive youth funds, the governor of the state will submit a Unified or Combined State Plan to the Secretary of DOL that outlines a 4-year strategy for the States workforce development system.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

U.S. Territories; State; To be eligible to participate in the WIOA youth program, an individual must be an Out-of-School Youth or an In-School Youth. Under WIOA, an out-of-school youth is an individual who is: (a) Not attending any school (as defined under State law); (b) Not younger than age 16 or older than age 24 at time of enrollment. Because age eligibility is based on age at enrollment, participants may continue to receive services beyond the age of 24 once they are enrolled in the program; and (c) One or more of the following: (1) A school dropout; (2) A youth who is within the age of compulsory school attendance, but has not attended school for at least the most recent complete school year calendar quarter. School year calendar quarter is based on how a local school district defines its school year quarters. In cases where schools do not use quarters, local programs must use calendar year quarters; (3) A recipient of a secondary school diploma or its recognized equivalent who is a low-income individual and is either basic skills deficient or an English language learner; (4) An offender; (5) A homeless individual aged 16 to 24 who meets the criteria defined in sec. 41403(6) of the Violence Against Women Act of 1994 (42 U.S.C. 14043e2(6)), a homeless child or youth aged 16 to 24 who meets the criteria defined in sec. 725(2) of the McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act (42 U.S.C. 11434a(2)) or a runaway; (6) An individual in foster care or who has aged out of the foster care system or who has attained 16 years of age and left foster care for kinship guardianship or adoption, a child eligible for assistance under sec. 477 of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 677), or in an out-of-home placement; (7) An individual who is pregnant or parenting; (8) An individual with a disability; or (9) A low-income individual who requires additional assistance to enter or complete an educational program or to secure or hold employment. Under WIOA, An in-school youth (ISY) is an individual who is: (a) Attending school (as defined by State law), including secondary and postsecondary school; (b) Not younger than age 14 or (unless an individual with a disability who is attending school under State law) older than age 21 at time of enrollment. Because age eligibility is based on age at enrollment, participants may continue to receive services beyond the age of 21 once they are enrolled in the program; (c) A low-income individual; and (d) One or more of the following: (1) Basic skills deficient; (2) An English language learner; (3) An offender; (4) A homeless individual aged 14 to 21 who meets the criteria defined in sec. 41403(6) of the Violence Against Women Act of 1994 (42 U.S.C. 14043e2(6)), a homeless child or youth aged 14 to 21 who meets the criteria defined in sec. 725(2) of the McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act (42 U.S.C. 11434a(2)), or a runaway; (5) An individual in foster care or who has aged out of the foster care system or who has attained 16 years of age and left foster care for kinship guardianship or adoption, a child eligible for assistance under sec. 477 of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 677), or in an out-of-home placement; (6) An individual who is pregnant or parenting; (7) An individual with a disability; or (8) An individual who requires additional assistance to complete an educational program or to secure or hold employment.

Credentials/Documentation:

WIOA requires the Governor of each State to submit a Unified or Combined State Plan to the Secretary of DOL that outlines a 4-year strategy for the States workforce development system. States must have approved State Plans (Section 102(a) of WIOA) in place to receive funding for a core program under WIOA the youth program (Title I of WIOA). 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

17.265 Native American Employment and Training

WIA / WIOA, Section 166, Native American Employment and Training Program,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING ADMINISTRATION, LABOR, DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) of 2014The Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) was signed into law on July 22, 2014. It supersedes the Workforce Investment Act of 1998, and amends the Wagner-Peyser Act and the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. The regulations implementing WIOA were published in the Federal Register on August 19, 2016., Title I, Part SubtitleD, Section 166, Public Law 113-128, The Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act, Public Law 113-128

OBJECTIVES:

To support employment and training services for Native Americans, Alaska Natives, and Native Hawaiian individuals in order to develop more fully the academic, occupational, and literacy skills of such individuals; to make such individuals more competitive in the workforce and to equip them with the entrepreneurial skills necessary for successful self-employment; and to promote the economic and social development of Native Americans, Alaska Natives, and Native Hawaiian communities in accordance with the goals and values of such communities. All programs assisted under this section shall be administered in a manner consistent with the principles of the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (25 U.S.C. 450 et seq.) and the government-to-government relationship between the Federal Government and Indian tribal governments. Supplemental youth funding is also awarded to help low-income Native American youth and Native Hawaiian youth, between the ages of 14 and 24, acquire the educational and occupational skills needed to achieve academic and employment success and transition to careers and productive adulthood.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Formula Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Funds may be utilized for employment and training programs and services, including classroom training, on-the-job training, training assistance, work experience, youth employment programs, day care, health care, job search, relocation, rent assistance and transportation allowances designed to help eligible participants to obtain employment. There are specified restrictions on the amount of grant funds which can be used for administrative costs (15% but can be up to 20% with prior agency approval). Supplemental youth funds may be utilized to provide employment and training activities that assist youth in achieving academic and employment success. Such activities may include; mentoring, career exploration, work experience / summer employment, community service, education programs including cultural education, leadership development, and supportive services. Funds are restricted to Native Americans, Alaska Natives, and Native American youth and Native Hawaiian youth, between the ages of 14 and 24, living on or near reservations and the States of Oklahoma, Hawaii, and Alaska. Administrative costs are limited to 15% but are negotiable up to 20% upon prior agency approval. Participants of the program must be American Indian, as defined by the organization, which at a minimum must include enrolled members of any Federally Recognized Tribe. For the Adult program, participants must also be unemployed, underemployed or low-income individuals. For the youth program, participants must be between the ages of 14 - 24 and must be low-income unless the grant recipient's service area is located in a "high poverty area" as defined in the WIOA regulations at 684.130. Federally-recognized Indian Tribal Governments, bands or groups, Alaska Native villages or groups (as defined in the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act, 43 U.S.C. 1602(b)), Native Hawaiian organizations meeting the eligibility criteria, and Native American Organizations (public bodies or private nonprofit agencies) are selected by the Secretary on a competitive basis to run programs in designated service areas. However, funds are allocated to entities (selected from the competitive process) using a funding formula.

Applicant Eligibility:

Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; Native American Organizations (includes Indian groups, cooperatives, corporations, partnerships, associations); Federally-recognized Indian Tribal Governments, bands or groups, Alaska Native villages or groups (as defined in the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act, 43 U.S.C. 1602(b)), Native Hawaiian organizations meeting the eligibility criteria, and Native American Organizations (public bodies or private nonprofit agencies) are selected by the Secretary on a competitive basis. Tribes, bands, and groups may also form consortia in order to qualify for designation as a grantee. Detailed requirements for consortium grantee applicants are set forth in the WIOA Final Rule at 684.200(e). Supplemental funding is automatically awarded to Federal Recognized Tribes and Tribal consortiums selected through the competitive process. However, there are a few exceptions in which non-profit entities receive youth funds. Youth funds are also based on a funding formula and is restricted to Native American, Alaska Native and Native Hawaiian youth living on or near reservations, OTSA areas in Oklahoma, Alaskan villages and the state of Hawaii.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Native American Organizations; American Indian; Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; Eligibility requirements for the adult program are provided in the WIOA Final Rule at 684.300. To be eligible for services under the adult program, Individuals must meet the definition of an Indian, as determined by a policy of the Native American grantee. American Indians are generally considered members (or descendants) of federally- recognized Indian tribes, bands, and groups or members of well-established state recognized tribes such as, but not limited to, the Homa Indians in Louisiana and the Lumbee Indians in North Carolina. Applicants must also be low-income according to HHS poverty income guidelines or unemployed, or underemployed or the recipient of a bona fide lay-off notice or an individual who is employed, but is determined by the grantee to be in need of employment and training services to obtain or retain employment that allows for self-sufficiency. Eligibility requirements for the youth program are provided in the WIOA Final Rule at 684.430. To be eligible for services under the youth program, individuals must meet the definition of an Indian, as determined by a policy of the Native American grantee and must be between the ages of 14 and 24 and live on or

17.267 Incentive Grants - WIA Section 503

WIA Incentive Grants,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING ADMINISTRATION, LABOR,
DEPARTMENT OF
AUTHORIZATION:

Adult Education and Family Literacy Act; Unless otherwise stipulated, recipients are subject to Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards; Final Rule on December 26, 2013 and found at 2 CFR Part 200 along with the OMB approved exceptions for DOL at 2 CFR Part 2900 published on December 19, 2014 in the Federal Register., 20 USC Code 9211. Workforce Investment Act of 1998, Title I, Part B, Section 174, 503, Public Law 105-220, 20 USC Code 9273.

OBJECTIVES:

To carry out innovative programs consistent with the purposes of Title I of WIA (Workforce Investment Systems), Title II of WIA (Adult Education and Family Literacy Act (AEFLA), 20 U.S.C. 9201 et seq.), the Carl D. Perkins Vocational and Applied Technology Education Amendments of 1998 (Public Law 105-332, 20 U.S.C. 2301 et seq.) or a combination of two or more of these acts. This is the last year of incentive grants. The new legislation, Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA), Public Law 113-128, did not authorize these grants.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

States have great flexibility in using these funds and are not limited to conducting only one type of innovative program. However, the use of grant funds must be consistent with WIA Section 503, including the requirement that they be used for innovative programs which further the purposes of WIA Titles I and II, AEFLA and/or the Perkins Act. In addition, grantees must comply with the requirements of whichever program the innovation affects. For example, if the incentive funds will be used for innovations in the delivery of youth activities under WIA Title I, the program must be consistent with WIA Title I provisions applicable to youth activities and the WIA regulations at 20 CFR part 664. States must submit a plan describing the innovative activities to be funded with this grant. States are expected to use funds for services and activities: (1) beyond those provided with regular funds from the three programs, particularly those authorized by one of these programs and another program; (2) which serve the needs of populations intended to be served by one or more of these programs; and (3) targeted to improving the performance of State systems of employment, training, and education. In addition, States are encouraged to plan activities that promote cooperation and collaboration among the agencies administering WIA Title I, AEFLA, and Perkins Act programs.

Applicant Eligibility:

U.S. Territories and possessions; State; A listing of States eligible to receive incentive grants for Program Year 2013 performance was published in the Federal Register on May 1, 2015. This is the last year that incentive grants will be awarded to states. WIOA does not authorize these grants. Under WIA, to qualify for a grant, a State must have exceed performance levels agreed to by the Secretary of Education, the Secretary of Labor, the Governor, and the State Education Officer, for outcomes in Titles I and II of the Workforce Investment Act (WIA) and the American Education and Family Literacy Act (AEFLA), which include placement after training, retention in employment, and improvement in literacy levels, among other measures.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Individual/Family; Minority group; Specialized group (e.g. health professionals, students, veterans); Student/Trainee; Black; American Indian; Spanish Origin; Asian; Other Non-White; State; U.S. Citizen; Veteran/Service person/Reservist (including dependents); Women; Disabled (e.g. Deaf, Blind, Physically Disabled); Local; Youth (16-21); Low Income; Education (0-8); Education (9-12); Education (13+); Regulations at 20 CFR 666.210 authorize the state to use its incentive grant award to carry out an innovative program consistent with the requirements of any one or more of the programs within Title IB or Title II of WIA or the Perkins Act. See Training and Employment Guidance Letter (TEGL) 20-01, Change 13 for additional information

(http://wdr.doleta.gov/directives/attach/TEGL/TEGL%2020-01,Change%2013_Acc.pdf).

Credentials/Documentation:

Documentation of the exceeded performance measures must be available via the annual performance report. See Training and Employment Guidance Letter 8-99 (<http://wdr.doleta.gov/directives/attach/TEGL8-99.pdf>) for additional information on the incentives process. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372. The application must include assurances that: the State legislature was consulted with respect to the development of the application; the application was approved by the Governor, the eligible agency for adult education, as defined in WIA Section 203(4) (20 U.S.C. 9202(4)); and the State agency responsible for vocational and technical education programs, as defined in Perkins Act Section 3(9) (20 U.S.C. 2302(9)); and the State and the eligible agency, as appropriate, exceeded the State adjusted levels of performance for WIA Title I, the State adjusted levels of performance for AEFLA, and the performance levels established for Perkins Act programs. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Grants for projects were awarded each year to those states and territories that exceed their WIA and AEFLA performance measures. A Federal Register Notice (FRN) was published announcing the award winning states as well as the amount of the award. A Training and Employment Guidance Letter (TEGL) was published to provide guidance for the submission of the application. The FRN and the TEGL were published on the Performance Web site at https://www.doleta.gov/performance/results/incentives_sanctions.cfm. States develop a proposal and budget that demonstrate how they will provide services in accordance with the WIA, AEFLA and or Perkins IV laws. ETA coordinates the review of applications with the Department of Education.

Award Procedure:

States must exceed performance for WIA Adult, Dislocated Worker and Youth programs as well as meet performance in AEFLA. Representatives from DOL and Education review states' performance and compile a list of those states meeting both sets of performance requirements. States are allocated a share of the incentive funds based on their proportionate share of WIA and AEFLA title funds. States must submit an application indicating they will meet all requirements of WIA and AEFLA as well as Perkins IV before funds can be granted. See USDOL ETA guidance TEGL 20-01, Change 13 at: http://wdr.doleta.gov/directives/corr_doc.cfm?DOCN=3981 for the PY 2013 (last round) guidance.

Deadlines:

May 01, 2015 - June 15, 2015. 45 days from FRN posting Specified in the applicable TEGL, but generally 45 days from announcement in the Federal Register.

17.268 H-1B Job Training Grants

FEDERAL AGENCY:

EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING ADMINISTRATION, LABOR,
DEPARTMENT OF
AUTHORIZATION:

American Competitiveness and Workforce Improvement Act of 1998 Unless otherwise stipulated, recipients are subject to Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards; Final Rule on December 26, 2013 and found at 2 CFR Part 200 along with the OMB approved exceptions for DOL at 2 CFR Part 2900 published on December 19, 2014 in the Federal Register., Section 414(c), Public Law 105-227

OBJECTIVES:

The H-1B Job Training Grant Program funds projects that provide training and related activities to workers to assist them in gaining the skills and competencies needed to obtain or upgrade employment in high-growth industries or economic sectors. Over time, these education and training programs will help businesses reduce their use of skilled foreign professionals permitted to work in the U.S. on a temporary basis under the H-1B visa program.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants, Project Grants (Discretionary)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Funds are to be used to provide job training services and related activities to assist workers in gaining the skills and competencies needed to obtain or upgrade employment positions in high-growth industries and economic sectors which currently use H-1B visas to employ foreign workers. Grant opportunities are published in the Federal Register. Please refer to the Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA) for specific eligibility requirements.

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Grants may be awarded to a partnership of private and public sector entities as defined in the American Competitiveness and Workforce Improvement Act (ACWIA). Applicants may generally be public and non-profit organizations. See the Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA) for specific requirements.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Individual/Family; Minority group; Specialized group (e.g. health professionals, students, veterans); Anyone/general public; Student/Trainee; Black; American Indian; Spanish Origin; Asian; Other Non-White; Veteran/Service person/Reservist (including dependents; Women; Unemployed; Moderate Income; Education (13+); The scope of potential trainees under these programs can be very broad. Please review the Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA) for specific requirements. Training may be targeted to a wide variety of populations including unemployed individuals and incumbent workers.

Credentials/Documentation:

Generally grantees must demonstrate an adequate organizational capacity, both fiscally and programmatically, including a project management structure. Additionally, grantees must provide evidence of the use of data systems to track outcomes in a timely and accurate manner. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

Pre-application coordination is not applicable.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Grants for projects are awarded on a competitive basis, announced in Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA) in the Federal Register and also on ETA's Internet Web site at <http://www.doleta.gov>. To compete for a grant, organizations develop a proposal and budget that demonstrate how the organization will provide services to a targeted population. The FOAs provide all of the necessary information for applying for federal assistance.

Award Procedure:

Procedures for each project are specified in the applicable request for proposals. Generally, the procedure is as follows: A technical review panel composed of staff from ETA program offices as well as peer reviewers evaluates eligible submitted applications. The panel prepares a report for the ETA Grant Officer identifying the strengths and weaknesses of the application and the cumulative rating. Selections are made based on the best rated proposals, as well as other factors cited in the FOA. Once selections are made by the Grant Officer, an Award Notification is sent through the appropriate congressional channels for notification. After awardees are notified, the list of awardees is posted on the ETA website at www.doleta.gov. If an application is rejected, a letter is sent to the applicant as notification that they were not selected as a recipient of the grant.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

From 90 to 120 days. ETA announces grant recipients once the paneling process is complete, generally 90 to 120 days after the application deadline.

Appeals:

Other. Procedures for each project are specified in the applicable Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA).

Renewals:

Other. Renewals with funds are generally not available. However, with significant justification ETA may elect to exercise its option to award no-cost extensions to these grants for an additional period at its own discretion, based on the success of the program and other relevant factors.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory formula is not applicable to this assistance listing. Matching requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing. MOE requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Most projects last three to four years. Payments to grantees are usually made by Letter of Credit draw-down procedures. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: letter

Reports:

Grantees are required to submit quarterly reports within 45 days of the end of the calendar quarter regarding the status of their project. Quarterly financial reports are required within 45 days of the end of the quarter. Regional Federal Project Officers conduct performance monitoring using risk assessments, desk reviews, and on-site monitoring. Final project reports are due to ETA 45 days after the grant ends.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503

Records:

Recipients are required to maintain books, records, documents, and other evidence of accounting procedures and practices sufficient to reflect properly all direct and indirect costs of whatever nature claimed to have been incurred for the performance of the grant. Records are to be retained for three years from the date of final payment unless the grant officer authorizes earlier disposal.

Account Identification:

17.272 Permanent Labor Certification for Foreign Workers

FEDERAL AGENCY:

EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING ADMINISTRATION, LABOR,
DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952, as amended, Sections 101 (a) (15) H (II), 214 (c) and 212 (a) (5) (A). Unless otherwise stipulated, recipients are subject to Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards; Final Rule on December 26, 2013 and found at 2 CFR Part 200 along with the OMB approved exceptions for DOL at 2 CFR Part 2900 published on December 19, 2014 in the Federal Register., Statute 66-163, Public Law 82-414, 8 USC Code 1101 et seq.

OBJECTIVES:

To ensure that the admission of foreign labor does not adversely affect the wages, working conditions, and employment opportunities of U.S. workers. To ensure that adequate working and living conditions are provided for foreign and domestic workers. To assist U.S. employers seeking to hire temporary foreign workers when no able, willing, and qualified U.S. workers are available.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Provision of Specialized Services, Salaries and Expenses

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Employers may, upon meeting certain conditions of employment, use this assistance to seek the admission of foreign workers for positions in the United States, provided that the employment of such foreign workers will not adversely affect the wages and working conditions of similarly-employed U.S. workers.

Applicant Eligibility:

Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Other public institution/organization; Small business (less than 500 employees); Profit organization; Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Quasi-public nonprofit institution/organization; Other private institutions/organizations; Under Section 212 (a)(5)(A) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, foreign workers who seek to immigrate to the United States for employment shall be excluded from admission unless the Secretary of Labor determines and certifies to the Secretary of State and Secretary of Homeland Security that there are not sufficient U.S. workers available for the position and that the employment of such foreign workers will not adversely affect the wages and working conditions of similarly-employed U.S. workers. The certified employer must hire the foreign worker as a full-time employee; there must be a bona fide job opening available to U.S. workers; and job requirements must adhere to what is customarily required for the occupation in the U.S. and may not be tailored to the foreign worker's qualifications. In addition, the employer shall document that the job opportunity has been and is being described without unduly restrictive job requirements, unless adequately documented as arising from business necessity. The employer must pay at least the prevailing wage for the occupation in the area of intended employment.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Small business; Profit organization; Private nonprofit institution/organization; Quasi-public nonprofit organization; Other private institution/organization; Any employer who is unable to find qualified U.S. workers to meet his or her needs and seeks to hire a foreign worker to fill a given job vacancy on a permanent basis is eligible to file an application for permanent labor certification with the Department of Labor. An employer who seeks to employ a foreign worker whose category of employment is included in the Department of Labor, Schedule A list of pre-certified occupations contained in Part 656, Title 20, Code of Federal Regulations is eligible to file an application directly with the appropriate U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services Office.

Credentials/Documentation:

Employers seeking labor certification, and thereafter filing an immigration petition to sponsor a foreign worker for employment-based permanent residency, must document that worker's education, experience, and job qualifications to the satisfaction of the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372. Prior to filing the application for permanent employment certification, the employer must request a prevailing wage determination from the National Prevailing Wage Center (NPWC). When filing, the employer must attest, in addition to a number of other conditions of employment, to having conducted recruitment prior to filing the application.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Employers must file labor certification applications for permanent employment directly with the Atlanta National Processing Center (except for Schedule A occupations). See <https://www.foreignlaborcert.doleta.gov/perm.cfm> for additional details.

Award Procedure:

If the Office of Foreign Labor Certification approves the application, the application form is "certified" (approved) by the Certifying Officer and returned to the employer/agent who submitted the application. The labor certification is then filed by the sponsoring employer in support of its immigrant worker petition with the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS).

17.273 Temporary Labor Certification for Foreign Workers

FEDERAL AGENCY:

EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING ADMINISTRATION, LABOR,
DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952, as amended, Sections 101(a)(15)(H), 212(n), 214(c) and 214(i), Section 101, 212, 214, Statue 66-163, Public Law 82-414, 8 USC Code 1101 et seq. Immigration Act of 1990, Statue 104-4978, Public Law 101-649, 8 USC Code 1182(n), 1184. Omnibus Insular Areas Act of 1991, Statue 105-1733, Public Law 102-232, 8 USC Code 1182. Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, Statue 100-3359, Public Law 99-603, 8 USC Code 1186.

OBJECTIVES:

To ensure that the admission of foreign labor does not adversely affect the wages, working conditions, and employment opportunities of U.S. workers. To ensure that adequate working and living conditions are provided for foreign and domestic workers. To assist U.S. employers seeking to hire temporary foreign workers when no able, willing, and qualified U.S. workers are available.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Federal Employment, Formula Grants, Provision of Specialized Services

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Employers may, upon meeting certain conditions of employment, use this assistance to seek the admission of foreign workers for positions in the United States, provided that the employment of such foreign workers will not adversely affect the wages and working conditions of similarly-employed U.S. workers. Assistance may also be used by States and U.S. Territories to conduct required activities under the Immigration and Nationality Act in support of the foreign labor certification programs. These activities include, but are not limited to, reviewing and placing job orders to recruit U.S. workers; providing assistance to employers in the effective recruitment of U.S. workers; conducting safety inspections of employer-provided housing for workers in the H-2A Temporary Agricultural Program; and performing the prevailing practice and wage surveys used to set the wages and standards for a number of occupations within their state.

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Other public institution/organization; U.S. Territories and possessions; Small business (less than 500 employees); Profit organization; Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Quasi-public nonprofit institution/organization; Other private institutions/organizations; H-2A Program: An agricultural employer who anticipates a shortage of U.S. workers needed to perform agricultural labor or services of a temporary or seasonal nature may apply to the Department of Labor under the H-2A program. The employer may be an individual proprietorship, a partnership, or a corporation. An association of agricultural producers may file as a sole employer, a joint employer with its members, or as an agent of its members. An authorized agent or attorney, whether an individual or an entity (e.g., an association), may file an application on behalf of an employer. Associations may file master applications on behalf of their members.H-2B Program: The job and the employer's need must be one-time, seasonal, peak load or intermittent; the job must be for less than one year; and there must be no qualified and willing U.S. workers available for the job. An employer must file an application for employment certification with the Department of Labor. The National Prevailing Wage Center issues prevailing wage determinations to employers considering whether or not to hire foreign workers on a temporary or permanent basis.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

U.S. Territories; Small business; Profit organization; Private nonprofit institution/organization; Quasi-public nonprofit organization; Other private institution/organization; State; Public nonprofit institution/organization; Other public institution/organization; .

Credentials/Documentation:

In the major temporary employment certification programs, employers sponsoring foreign workers to fill a temporary need file the certification from the Department of Labor as documentation in support of their respective I-129 nonimmigrant worker petitions with the Department of Homeland Security, United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS). In the H-1B1 and E-3 programs, a USCIS petition is not needed for initial visa issuance and the foreign national may use proof of a labor condition application certification in support of the visa application. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is not applicable. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. States and U.S. territories receive grant funds to support federal foreign labor certification activities. The grantees submit work plans each year to obtain continued eligibility for the grant. Employers who participate in foreign labor certification programs do not receive funding from these grants, but do benefit from the services offered by these state agencies to recruit U.S. workers for positions before they apply to hire a foreign worker. See <https://www.foreignlaborcert.doleta.gov/> for more information on specific programs.

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

Award Procedure:

Employers must prove they qualify for foreign labor certification before they can move to the next step of the employment-based immigration process. Certifications are sent to the employer in support of the petition to be filed with the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services which determines admissibility and visa classification. The employer, via the ETA Form 9142, advises as to the type of visa supported by the application. Certified copies of accepted attestations for the D-1 Crewmember program are returned to the employer and the USCIS is notified of the filing in writing. State Workforce Agencies receive grant funds upon acceptance of their annual work plans.

Deadlines:

Not Applicable.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Other. H-1B: From one to seven days. H-2A: Statute requires an initial acceptance by ETA within seven days of filing and a final determination 30 days prior to the employer's date of need. 8 U.S.C. Section 1188(c).

Appeals:

Other. There is no procedure for appealing Employment and Training Administration determinations to accept or reject a Labor Condition Application submitted for the H-1B, H1-B1, and E3 Programs. Complaints regarding misrepresentation in the attestation or failure of the employer to carry out the terms of the attestation may be filed with the Wage and Hour Division of the Department of Labor.

Renewals:

Other. Treated as the filing of a new labor condition application.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory formula is not applicable to this assistance listing. Matching requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing. MOE requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Employer applications may be filed at any time. The Employment and Training Administration also issues grants to State Workforce Agencies for activities supporting the federal labor certification programs. These grants are issued on a fiscal year basis. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: other

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is not applicable. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Grants for projects are awarded on a competitive basis, announced in Funding Opportunity Announcements (FOAs) on ETA's Internal Web site at <http://www.doleta.gov/grants> and via www.grants.gov. To compete for a grant, organizations develop a proposal and budget that demonstrate how the organization will provide services to a targeted population. The FOA provides all of the necessary information for applying for Federal assistance. Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFO) for this listing will be posted on Grants.gov.

Award Procedure:

Procedures for each project are specified in the funding opportunity announcement. Generally, the procedure is as follows: A technical review panel composed of staff from ETA program offices as well as peer reviewers evaluates eligible submitted applications. The panel prepares a report for the ETA Grant Officer identifying the weaknesses of the application and the cumulative rating. Once selections are made by the Grant Officer, an Award Notification is sent through the appropriate congressional channels for notification. After awardees are notified, the list of awardees is posted on the ETA Web site at www.doleta.gov/grants. If an application is rejected, a letter is sent to the applicant as notification that they were not selected as a recipient of the grant.

Deadlines:

American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (Public Law 111-5), Trade Act of 1974 (Public Law 93-618), as amended; Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA) Reform Act of 2002 (Public Law 107-210), as reauthorized by the TAA Extension Act of 2011; as reauthorized by the TAA Reauthorization Act of 2015 (Public Law 114-27), Public Law 111-5

OBJECTIVES:

To provide health insurance coverage assistance and support related services to eligible Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA) recipients and eligible ATAA/RTAA recipients, as authorized under the Trade Adjustment Assistance Reauthorization Act of 2015 (TAARA 2015), title IV of the Trade Preferences Extension Act of 2015 (Public Law 114-27), which amends Subparagraph (B) of section 35(b)(1) of the Internal Revenue code of 1986.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

There is currently only one type of HCTC DWG: infrastructure. Infrastructure DWG funds can be used to help states establish the systems and procedures needed to make healthcare benefits available for eligible individuals. States may request HCTC Infrastructure DWG funds to cover administrative costs for activities related to the transmittal of records of eligible TAA and ATAA/RTAA recipients to the IRS via the Unemployment Insurance (UI) Interstate Connection Network (ICON). Upon receipt of the state workforce agency (SWAs) information, the IRS determines whether the eligible TAA and ATAA/RTAA recipients are also eligible for HCTC.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Applications submitted requesting funding for administrative costs must contain four separate and distinct parts: (1) SF-424 Application for Federal Assistance; (2) SF-424A Budget Information Form; (3) Budget Narrative; and (4) Project Narrative. It is each states responsibility to ensure that the funding amount requested is consistent across all parts and sub-parts of the application. A. SF-424, Application for Federal AssistanceA state must complete the SF-424, Application for Federal Assistance OMB Control No. 4040-0004 An SF-424 electronically submitted through grants.gov constitutes the official signed document. Upon confirmation of an award, the individual signing the SF-424 on behalf of the applicant is considered the Authorized Representative of the applicant. B. Project BudgetA state must complete the SF-424A Budget Information Form OMB Control No. 4040-0006. C. Budget NarrativeThe budget narrative must provide a description of costs associated with each line item on the SF-424A, demonstrating how grant funds will be used. It must also include a description of leveraged resources provided (as applicable) to support grant activities. Note that the SF-424, SF-424A, and budget narrative must include the entire Federal grant amount requested (not just for one year). Do not show leveraged resources on the SF-424 and SF-424A. A state should describe leveraged resources in the budget narrative. The requested Federal grant amount listed on the SF-424, SF-424A, and budget narrative must be the same. The funding amount included on the SF-424 will be considered the official funding amount requested if any inconsistencies are found. D. Project Narrative The Project Narrative must demonstrate the states capability to implement the grant project in accordance with the provisions of this announcement. It must provide a comprehensive framework and description of all aspects of the proposed project. It must be succinct, self-explanatory, and well-organized so that reviewers can understand the proposed project. Examples of activities for which funding may be requested include (but are not limited to): 1) outreach to notify eligible individuals regarding the availability of the advance credit option of HCTC; 2) process improvements to ensure eligible TAA and ATAA/RTAA recipients are correctly identified; 3) development/implementation of information technology systems related to the requirements this advisory; and 4) HCTC staff training. E. Reporting Each grant recipient is required to submit a ETA 9130, Quarterly Financial Status Report (OMB Control Number 1205-0461) until such time as all funds has been expended or the grant period has expired. Quarterly reports are due 45 days after the end of each calendar year quarter. On the final Financial Status Report, grant recipient must include any sub-award amounts so that applicable final indirect costs may be calculated. The ETA 9130 report must be submitted using the Departments Online Electronic Reporting System. Specific instructions on how to use that system will be provided after award. Applications for funding under this project must be submitted through www.grants.gov. Applications will be accepted on rolling basis as long as funds remain available or until September 30, 2019. To submit the required documents, States must follow the Apply for Grants link on grants.gov, and download the links for the grant application package. States should not follow the Find Grants link, as this is not a competitive funding opportunity.

Award Procedure:

The Grant Officer issues a Notice of Obligation to the grantee providing the dollar amount, purpose of the funds and the terms and conditions of the grant, based on the information provided in the application.

17.278 WIOA Dislocated Worker Formula Grants

Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) Dislocated Worker Program,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING ADMINISTRATION, LABOR,
DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) of 2014. The Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) was signed into law on July 22, 2014, and went into effect on July 1, 2015. It amends the Wagner-Peyser Act and the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. The regulations were published in the Federal Register on August 19, 2016. The regulations for the Title I WIOA Adult, Dislocated Worker and Youth programs are at 20 CFR Parts 680 through 683, as well as the joint Department of Labor and Department of Education regulations found at 20 CFR parts 676 through 678., Public Law 113-128

OBJECTIVES:

The purpose of the WIOA Dislocated Worker program is to help dislocated workers become reemployed. It provides them with job search assistance, career services, and/or training that builds their skills to meet labor market needs. Dislocated Worker services are targeted for workers who are unemployed and have lost a job through no fault of their own, or who have exhausted their Unemployment Compensation. The program's success is measured by the following core indicators of performance: 1. Employment Rate - 2nd Quarter After Exit; 2. Employment Rate - 4th Quarter After Exit; 3. Median Earnings; 4. Credential Rate; 5. Measurable Skill Gains.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Formula Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

WIOA specifies that most services for adult and dislocated workers will be provided through the American Job Center (AJC) Network, also known as the one-stop career center system. It authorizes that funds be used to provide career services, which are classified into two categories: basic and individualized services. While some job seekers may only need self-service or other basic career services such as labor exchange services, others may need more comprehensive services, such as individualized services, which include career planning, and developing an individual employment plan outlining needs and goals of the job seeker. Participants will also receive training services linked to job opportunities in their communities. To promote customer choice and involvement in career decisions, participants use an "Individual Training Account" (ITA) to select an appropriate training program from an eligible training provider list (ETPL). WIOA also authorizes the provision of supportive services (e.g. transportation and child care assistance) to enable an individual to participate in the program.

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); U.S. Territories and possessions; Under WIOA, the entities eligible to receive formula-based funding from the Department are the 50 states, Puerto Rico, the District of Columbia and the outlying areas. Funds are allotted based on a statutory formula and states, in turn, allocate funds to local workforce development boards (approximately 600), which are responsible for operating comprehensive American Job Centers (approximately 2,400 nationwide).

Beneficiary Eligibility:

U.S. Territories; State; Unemployed; Individuals eligible for assistance through the Act are workers who have lost their jobs, including those dislocated as a result of plant closings or mass layoffs, and are unlikely to return to their previous industry or occupation; formerly self-employed individuals; and displaced homemakers who depend on income of another family member, but are no longer supported by that income. Priority of Service is given to veterans and other covered persons.

Credentials/Documentation:

Formula-funded programs are subject to an agreement between the Governor and Secretary and an approved State Plan. States sign a grant document agreeing to comply with the Act and regulations for the formula-allotted program. Cost principles apply to this program. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review. Contact Regional Office for more information.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. The Governor must submit a single WIOA Unified or Combined State Plan in accordance with planning guidance issued through the Federal Register. The planning guidance provides detailed instructions on what must be included in the State Plan, and provides a framework for collaboration across programs and integration of services, including the WIOA Title I programs and Wagner-Peyser Activities, as well as WIOA Titles II and IV programs housed with the Department of Education. The Combined State Plan includes the six "core" programs of the Unified Plan as well as other workforce development programs administered by the Department of Labor, the Department of Education, Health and Human Services, the Department of Agriculture, and the Department of Housing and Urban Development. States submit the Unified or Combined State Plan to the Federal Coordinator for Plan Review and Approval (currently Heather Fleck), Division of WIOA Adult Services and Workforce System, Office of Workforce Investment, Employment and Training Administration, Department of Labor, 200 Constitution Avenue, NW, Room S-4209, Washington, DC 20210.

Award Procedure:

Those portions of the State Plan over which the Assistant Secretary for Employment and Training exercises authority are reviewed and approved by the Employment and Training Administration. Formula funds are awarded to the states based on a statutory formula provided in the authorizing legislation.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

From 60 to 90 days. State plans will be reviewed in accordance with 20 CFR 661.220(e), which provides that the Secretary must approve all state plans within 90 days of their submission, unless the Secretary determines in writing that: (1) the state plan is inconsistent with the provisions of Title I of WIOA or the WIOA regulations, including 29 CFR Part 37; or (2) the portion of the state plan impacting the Wagner-Peyser Act plan does not satisfy the criteria for approval in section 8(d) of the Wagner-Peyser Act or the Wagner-Peyser Act regulations at 20 CFR Part 652.

17.282 Trade Adjustment Assistance Community College and Career Training (TAACCCT) Grants

FEDERAL AGENCY:

EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING ADMINISTRATION, LABOR,
DEPARTMENT OF
AUTHORIZATION:

Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act of 2010, Public Law 111-152, Trade Act of 1974 as amended by the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009Unless otherwise stipulated, recipients are subject to Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards; Final Rule on December 26, 2013 and found at 2 CFR Part 200 along with the OMB approved exceptions for DOL at 2 CFR Part 2900 published on December 19, 2014 in the Federal Register., Public Law 111-5, 19 USC Code 2372a(b).

OBJECTIVES:

The TAACCCT program seeks to increase the number of workers who attain certificates, degrees, and other industry-recognized credentials, helping to meet the college graduation goal of increasing the percentage of adults with a post-secondary credential by 2020. The overarching goals of the program are to: (1) increase attainment of degrees, certifications, certificates, diplomas, and other industry-recognized credentials that match the skills needed by employers to better prepare workers eligible for training under the Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA) for Workers Program (TAA-eligible workers) of chapter 2 of title II of the Trade Act of 1974, 19 U.S.C. 2271-2323, and other adults for high-wage, high-skill employment or re-employment in growth industry sectors; (2) introduce or replicate innovative and effective methods for designing and delivering instruction that address specific industry needs and lead to improved learning, completion, and other outcomes for TAA-eligible workers and other adults; and (3) demonstrate improved employment outcomes.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants (Discretionary)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act includes $2 billion over four years for the Trade Adjustment Assistance Community College and Career Training grant program. The grants awarded under this Solicitation will help eligible institutions expand and improve their ability to deliver education and career training programs that can be completed in two years or less, and are suited for workers who are eligible for training under the TAA for Workers program, and other adults. The Department of Labor is implementing this program in partnership with the Department of Education. Specific rules and requirements are published in the Solicitation for Grant Application. Approximately one hundred percent of available funds are used for discretionary activities. Grant opportunities are published in the Federal Register. Eligible institutions are institutions of higher education as defined in Section 102 of the Higher Education Act of 1965 (20 U.S.C. 1002) which offer programs that can be completed in not more than 2 years. Please refer to the Solicitation for Grant Application for specific eligibility.

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); See Uses Section Above

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Private nonprofit institution/organization; Other private institution/organization; Student/Trainee; Black; American Indian; Spanish Origin; Asian; Other Non-White; Migrant; Veteran/Service person/Reservist (including dependents; Women; Disabled (e.g. Deaf, Blind, Physically Disabled); Unemployed; Education (13+); Public nonprofit institution/organization; Other public institution/organization; See Information Above

Credentials/Documentation:

Grantees must demonstrate an educational capacity need in their community and the impact that the new capacity will have on training workers in that community. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372. Section 278 of the Trade Act of 1974 as amended by the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 requires community outreach to employers and other entities such as the workforce system, including Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA) programs, to identify shortcomings in existing educational and career training opportunities available to workers in the community and any future employment opportunities within the community.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Grants for projects are awarded on a competitive basis, announced in Solicitation for Grant Applications (SGAs) in the Federal Register and also on ETA's Internet Web site at <http://www.doleta.gov>. To compete for a grant, organizations develop a proposal and budget that demonstrate how the organization will provide services to a targeted population. The SGA provides all of the necessary information for applying for federal assistance.

Award Procedure:

Applications were accepted during the four years of funding and are no longer being accepted, although grants already awarded continue through September 2018. Procedures for each project were specified in the applicable request for proposals. Generally, the procedure was as follows: A technical review panel composed of federal staff and peer reviewers evaluates eligible submitted applications. The panel prepares a report for the ETA Grant Officer identifying the strengths and weaknesses of each application and the cumulative rating. Selections are made based on the best rated proposals, as well as other factors as cited in the SGA. Once selections are made by the Grant Officer, an Award Notification is sent through the appropriate congressional channels for notification. After awardees are notified, the list of awardees is posted on the ETA website at www.doleta.gov. If an application is rejected, a letter is sent to the applicant as notification that they were not selected as a recipient of the grant.

Deadlines:

Not Applicable.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

From 90 to 120 days. ETA announces grant recipients once the paneling process is complete (see above).

Appeals:

Reports:

Quarterly progress reports are required within 45 days following the end of the quarter. Quarterly financial reports are required within 45 days following the end of the quarter. Annual performance reports are required within 45 days following the end of each project year. Final progress reports are required no later than 90 days after all grant funds have been expended, or the period of grant funds availability has expired. Regional Federal Project Officers conduct monitoring using risk assessments, desk monitoring, and on-site reviews.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503

17.285 Apprenticeship USA Grants

Apprenticeship USA Expansion and Innovation Grants,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING ADMINISTRATION, LABOR,
DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

National Apprenticeship Act of 1937 (Fitzgerald Act) and The FY 2016 Omnibus Budget, Public Law 075-75-308, 29 USC Code 1-4.

OBJECTIVES:

The objectives for grant funding are three fold: 1) Make Registered Apprenticeship a mainstream education and career pathway option, one that can help each state, and the country as a whole, maintain its prominence in building the strongest, most adaptable, and most credentialed workforce in the world. 2) Support integrated, 21st Century statewide apprenticeship strategies that promote and scale apprenticeships, as well as, critical investments in State capacity to keep pace with industry demand for new programs, including apprenticeships in both traditional and non-traditional industries such as, IT, Healthcare, Advanced Manufacturing, Skilled Trades, Cybersecurity, Business Services, among others. 3) Develop and utilize state strategies that offer innovative approaches to significantly increase apprenticeship opportunities for all American workers, particularly underrepresented populations in apprenticeship including young people, women, minorities, veterans, including transitioning service members, and persons with disabilities to prepare for and successfully enter careers that provide long-term employment and family-sustaining wages in growing industries and occupations within the State and regional economies.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants (Discretionary)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Funding will be used to help states develop and implement comprehensive strategies to drive apprenticeship expansion; engage industry and other partners to expand apprenticeship to new sectors and new populations; enhance state capacity to conduct outreach and work with employers to start new programs; and expand participation in apprenticeship through state innovations, incentives and system reforms. By launching the ApprenticeshipUSA Expansion and Innovation grant initiative, the department is taking a critical first step in charting a new path forward for ApprenticeshipUSA, with States as the key facilitators.

Applicant Eligibility:

U.S. Territories and possessions; State; - ApprenticeshipUSA State Expansion (i.e., development of new Registered Apprenticeship Programs)- Statewide Promotion and Outreach to engage industry and business partners in Registered Apprenticeship - State Alignment of Registered Apprenticeship, Workforce (WIOA) , Education and Economic Development - Increased Employer Demand through Incentives- Job Training and supportive services- ApprenticeshipUSA pilots and demonstrations to increase diversity in Registered Apprenticeship- Modernized Apprenticeship Data Collection and Reporting - Program Administration- Program Evaluation

17.286 Hurricanes and Wildfires of 2017 Supplemental National Dislocated Worker Grants

Hurricanes and Wildfires Supplemental NDWG,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING ADMINISTRATION, LABOR,
DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Public Law 115-Public Law No: 115-123

OBJECTIVES:

The purpose of the National Dislocated Worker Grant program is to temporarily expand service capacity at the state and local levels by providing time-limited funding assistance in response to significant dislocation events. Significant events are those that create a sudden need for assistance that cannot reasonably be expected to be accommodated within the on-going operations of the formula-funded Dislocated Worker program, including the discretionary resources reserved at the state level. Disaster Recovery DWGs provide funding to create temporary employment opportunities to assist with clean-up and recovery efforts, when an area impacted by disaster is declared eligible for public assistance by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), or declared or otherwise recognized as an emergency or disaster of national significance by a Federal agency with authority or jurisdiction over Federal response to the emergency or disaster. Disaster Recovery DWGs provide disaster relief and humanitarian assistance employment to minimize the employment impact of these disasters, in addition to employment and training services.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants (for specified projects)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Eligible circumstances for funding include: Disasters - Both Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA)-declared disasters and other emergency events of national significance as designated by another Federal Agency. Supplemental Appropriation funds are only available for award to those states and territories impacted by Hurricanes Harvey, Irma, and Maria, as well as the California wildfires of 2017.

Applicant Eligibility:

U.S. Territories and possessions; State; Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; Native American Organizations (includes Indian groups, cooperatives, corporations, partnerships, associations); Entities that are eligible to receive a Disaster Recovery National Dislocated Worker Grant include: designated state Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) program grantee agencies; and a designated organization receiving WIOA funding through the Native American Program provisions of WIOA. Funds can be used to provide disaster relief employment as well as employment and training services (including some supportive services) to eligible participants. Individuals who are eligible for assistance vary by type of National Dislocated Worker Grant project; however, they must meet the criteria provided in the Training and Employment Guidance Letter No. 2-15.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

N/A.

Credentials/Documentation:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Applications for DWGs are submitted via the DWG Electronic Application System. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

17.307 Coal Mine Workers' Compensation

(Black Lung),

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF WORKERS COMPENSATION PROGRAM, LABOR,
DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Black Lung Benefits Act, as amended, 30 USC Code 901 et seq..

OBJECTIVES:

To provide benefits to coal miners who have become totally disabled due to coal workers' pneumoconiosis (CWP), and to widows and other surviving dependents of miners who have died of this disease.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Direct Payments with Unrestricted Use

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Monthly cash benefits are paid to coal miners disabled from coal workers' pneumoconiosis and to widows and other survivors of miners who have died of this disease. There are no restrictions on the use of these benefits by a beneficiary.

Medical payments for treatment related to coal workers' pneumoconiosis are available to miners only after January 1, 1974.

Applicant Eligibility:

Individual/Family; The miner (including some workers involved in coal transportation in and around mines and coal mine construction workers) must have worked in the Nation's coal mines or a coal preparation facility and become "totally disabled" (as defined in the Act) from pneumoconiosis. The applicant may be able to work in areas other than coal mines and still be eligible for benefits. Benefits to miner shall be reduced on account of excess earnings as determined under sections 203(b) through (1) of the Social Security Act for claims filed on or after January 1, 1982. Widows and other surviving dependents of coal miners whose death resulted from coal workers' pneumoconiosis are also eligible for benefits with earnings offsets applicable to certain classes of dependents. Applicants can reside anywhere in the world at the time they apply.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Individual/Family; Disabled coal miners, widows and other surviving dependents of the deceased.

Credentials/Documentation:

17.791 Department of Labor Chief Evaluation Office

Department of Labor Evaluation Grants,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

DEPARTMENTAL MANAGEMENT, LABOR, DEPARTMENT OF AUTHORIZATION:

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2017, Title I, Section Division H, Statue 244-379

OBJECTIVES:

A key way that the Department of Labor (DOL) examines the impact of the agencies programs and policies is by conducting rigorous research and evaluation studies that allow DOL to learn systematically about and improve the effectiveness of programs and services. These grants are designed to increase the capacity of educational institutions and researchers to rigorously examine critical issues in labor and workforce for the benefit of the general public. The purpose of these grants is to increase awareness and build the capacity of the American people to understand critical issues in labor.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants (Discretionary)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

These grants are for researchers and research institutions to undertake research and evaluation on topics related to the labor force and the American worker. Applicants are encouraged to propose innovate and relevant research projects for these grants. The applicant must demonstrate capability to conduct rigorous evaluation methods to conduct research envisioned in the grants.

Applicant Eligibility:

Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Other public institution/organization; Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; U.S. Territories and possessions (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Native American Organizations (includes Indian groups, cooperatives, corporations, partnerships, associations); The following organizations are eligible to apply: Public/State Controlled Institution of Higher Education Alaska Native and Native Hawaiian Serving Institutions Asian American and Native American Pacific Islander-Serving Institutions Indian/Native American Tribal Government (Federally Recognized) Indian/Native American Tribal Government (Other than Federally Recognized) Indian/Native American Tribally Designated Organization Private Institution of Higher Education Hispanic-serving Institution Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs) Tribally Controlled Colleges and Universities (TCCUs)

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Education Professional; Student/Trainee; Graduate Student; Scientist/Researchers; None.

Credentials/Documentation:

The applicant must provide information on the applicant institutions current mission, structure, staffing, and relevant experience. The applicant should describe how these factors contribute to the ability of the institution to conduct the research and meet grant expectations. The applicant shall also identify the grants key research staff. Curriculum Vitae (CVs) of proposed staff members shall be included as a separate attachment to the application. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is not applicable. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program.

Award Procedure:

A technical merit review panel will carefully evaluate applications against the selection criteria to determine the merit of applications. These criteria are based on the policy goals, priorities, and emphases set forth in this FOA. Up to 100 points may be awarded to an applicant, depending on the quality of the responses provided. The final scores (which may include the mathematical normalization of review panels) will serve as the primary basis for selection of applications for funding. The panel results are advisory in nature and not binding on the Grant Officer. The Grant Officer reserves the right to make selections based solely on the final scores or to take into consideration other relevant factors when applicable. Such factors may include the geographic distribution of funds and/or other relevant factors. The Grant Officer may consider any information that comes to his/her attention. The government may elect to award the grant(s) with or without discussions with the applicant. Should a grant be awarded without discussions, the award will be based on the applicants signature on the SF-424, including electronic signature via E-Authentication on <http://www.grants.gov>, which constitutes a binding offer by the applicant.

17.806 Veteran's Preference in Federal Employment

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Veteran's Employment and Training Service, LABOR, DEPARTMENT OF AUTHORIZATION:

Veterans Preference Act of 1944, Public Laws 78-359, 93-508, 94-502, 95-520, 95-454, 97-72, 97-306, 98-543, 99-576, 101-237, 102-16, 102-568, 105-339, and 106-117; 109-163; Executive Order 11521, March 26, 1970

OBJECTIVES:

To provide assistance to preference eligible individuals who believe that their rights under veterans' preference statutes and regulations have been violated. Recognizing their sacrifice, Congress enacted laws to prevent veterans seeking Federal employment from being penalized for their time in military service. Veterans' preference recognizes the economic loss suffered by citizens who have served their country in uniform, restores veterans to a favorable competitive position for Government employment, and acknowledges the larger obligation owed to disabled veterans. Veterans' preference is not so much a reward for being in uniform as it is a way to help make up for the economic loss suffered by those who answered the nation's call to arms. Historically, preference has been reserved by Congress for those who were either disabled or who served in combat areas. Eligible veterans receive many advantages in Federal employment, including preference for initial employment and a higher retention standing in the event of layoffs. However, the veterans' preference laws do not guarantee the veteran a job, nor do they give veterans' preference in internal agency actions such as promotion, transfer, reassignment, and reinstatement. By law, veterans who are disabled or who served on active duty in the Armed Forces during certain specified time periods or in military campaigns are entitled to preference over others in hiring from competitive lists of eligibles and also in retention during reductions-in-force. Preference applies in hiring for virtually all Federal jobs, whether in the competitive or excepted service. In addition to receiving preference in competitive appointments, veterans may be considered for special noncompetitive appointments for which only they are eligible.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Federal Employment

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

To assist persons who perform service in the uniformed services to secure Federal employment and to ensure a higher retention standing in the event of a reduction-in-force. To provide information and assistance to veterans, employers, labor organizations, and other elements of the community concerned with veterans' preference in Federal employment and retention. The Department of Labor - Veterans' Employment and Training Service investigates complaints with the goal of voluntary resolution of veterans' preference problems. Unresolved complaints can be pursued by the complainant veteran to the Merit Systems Protection Board.

Applicant Eligibility:

Specialized group (e.g. health professionals, students, veterans); (1) Five-point preference is given to those honorably separated veterans (this means an honorable or general discharge) who served on active duty (not active duty for training) in the Armed Forces: During any war (this means a war declared by Congress, the last of which was World War II); during the period April 28, 1952, through July 1, 1955; for more than 180 consecutive days, any part of which occurred after January 31, 1955, and before October 15, 1976; during the Gulf War period beginning August 2, 1990, and ending January 2, 1992; for more than 180 consecutive days, any part of which occurred during the period beginning on September 11, 2001, and ending on the date prescribed by Presidential proclamation or by law as the last date of Operation Iraqi Freedom; or in a campaign or expedition for which a campaign medal has been authorized, such as El Salvador, Lebanon, Granada, Panama, Southwest Asia, Somalia, and Haiti. Medal holders and Gulf War veterans who originally enlisted after September 7, 1980, or entered on active duty on or after October 14, 1982, without having previously completed 24 months of continuous active duty, must have served continuously for 24 months or the full period called or ordered to active duty. Effective on October 1, 1980, military retirees at or above the rank of major or equivalent, are not entitled to preference unless they qualify as disabled veterans. Ten-point preference is given to those honorably separated veterans who: (1) Qualify as disabled veterans because they have served on active duty in the Armed Forces at any time and have a present service-connected disability or are receiving compensation, disability retirement benefits, or pension from the military or the Department of Veterans Affairs; or (2) are Purple Heart recipients; the spouse of a veteran unable to work because of a service-connected disability; the unmarried widow of certain deceased veterans; and the mother of a veteran who died in service or who is permanently and totally disabled. When applying for Federal jobs, eligible veterans should claim preference on their application or resume. Applicants claiming 10-point preference must complete form SF- 15, Application for 10-Point Veteran Preference. Veterans who are still in the service may be granted 5 points tentative preference on the basis of information contained in their applications, but they must produce a DD Form 214 prior to appointment to document entitlement to preference. Note: Reservists who are retired from the Reserves but are not receiving retired pay are not considered "retired military" for purposes of veterans' preference. (2) Veterans who have been separated from the armed forces under honorable conditions shortly before completion of 3 years, or completion of 3 years or more of active duty military service are eligible to compete for vacant Federal positions for which the agency making the announcement will accept applications from individuals outside its own workforce under merit promotion procedures. This does not make them preference eligible, but allows access to certain Federal job openings for which they would otherwise not be entitled to apply. (3) Public Law 94-502 authorizes Federal agencies to provide unpaid training or work experience, as a part of the Department of Veterans Affairs vocational rehabilitation for a disabled veteran. Such training may be designed to provide noncompetitive appointment.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Specialized group (e.g. health professionals, students, veterans); Pension Recipient; Non-disabled veterans, disabled veterans and certain wives or husbands, widows, widowers, and mothers of veterans.

Credentials/Documentation:

For veterans' preference, general proof of honorable separation such as discharge certificate or DD Form 214. In addition, for 10-point preference, a letter from the Department of Veterans Affairs or military department certifying existence of service-connected disability. When the 10-point preference is based on the award of a Purple Heart, official documentation of the award is sufficient. This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372. None

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Application forms are available from Service Centers of the Office of Personnel Management and from Federal agency personnel offices. Veterans eligible for noncompetitive appointment should make personal contact with the Federal agency where they would like to be considered for employment. Veterans who believe that they have not been properly accorded their rights have several different avenues of complaint, depending upon the nature of the complaint and the individual's veteran status: The Veterans Employment Opportunities Act of 1998 allows preference and other eligibles to file a complaint with the Department of Labor's Veterans' Employment and Training Service (VETS) when the person believes an agency has violated his or her rights under any statute or regulation relating to veterans' preference. Eligible veterans seeking employment who believe that an agency has not properly accorded them their veterans' preference, or failed to provide special placement consideration noted above, may file a complaint with the local Department of Labor VETS representative (located at State employment service offices). To be eligible to file a complaint a veteran must: Have served on active duty for more than 180 days and have other than a dishonorable discharge; have a service-connected disability; or served on active duty during a period of war, or received a campaign badge or expeditionary medal (e.g., the Southwest Asia Service Medal). The Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act of 1994 (USERRA) prohibits discrimination in employment, retention, promotion, or any benefit of employment on the basis of a person's service in the uniformed services. Complaints under this law should also be filed with the local Department of Labor VETS representative (located at State employment service offices). Since a willful violation of a provision of law or regulation pertaining to veterans' preference is a Prohibited Personnel Practice, a preference eligible who believes his or her veterans' preference rights have been violated may file a complaint with the local department of Labor VETS representative, as noted above. A disabled veteran who believes he or she has been discriminated against in employment because of his or her disability may file a handicapped discrimination complaint with the offending agency under regulations administered by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

MORRIS K. UDALL SCHOLARSHIP AND EXCELLENCE IN NATIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY FOUNDATION

85.400 Morris K. Udall Scholarship Program

Udall Undergraduate Scholarship,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

MORRIS K. UDALL SCHOLARSHIP AND EXCELLENCE IN NATIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY FOUNDATION

AUTHORIZATION:

Morris K. Udall Scholarship and Excellence in National Environmental and Native American Public Policy Act of 1992, Statue 106-78, Public Law 102-259, 20 USC Code 5601-5609.

OBJECTIVES:

To honor former Arizona Congressman Morris K. Udall and Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall through the operation of internship, scholarship, and fellowship programs, financed by a permanent trust fund endowment, to develop increased opportunities for young Americans to prepare for and pursue careers related to the environment and to American Indians and Alaska Natives who intend to pursue careers in health care and tribal public policy. Assistance is intended for the use of scholars only.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Direct Payments for Specified Use

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Assistance is intended for the use of scholars only. Scholars must be a sophomore or junior-level student at the time of the award, enrolled full-time at a two-year or four-year accredited institution of higher education in the United States, pursuing a bachelor's or associate's degree.

Applicant Eligibility:

Individual/Family; Specialized group (e.g. health professionals, students, veterans); Applicants must be: (1) College sophomores or juniors in the current academic year having outstanding potential and intending to pursue careers in the environment; or (2) American Indian and Alaska Native students who are college sophomores or juniors in the current academic year and have outstanding potential and intend to pursue careers in health care or tribal public policy. Students must be nominated by accredited colleges or universities recognized by the Department of Education.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Individual/Family; Specialized group (e.g. health professionals, students, veterans); Student/Trainee; American Indian; U.S. Citizen; Education (13+); To be eligible, students must meet all of the following criteria: Be committed to a career related to the environment, OR committed to a career in tribal public policy OR Native American health care. Be a sophomore or junior-level student, enrolled full-time at a two-year or four-year accredited institution of higher education in the United States, pursuing a bachelor's or associate's degree. "Sophomore" is defined as a student who has completed at least one year of full-time undergraduate study and intends at least two more years of full-time undergraduate study at the time of application. "Junior" is defined as a student who intends at least one more year of full-time undergraduate study at the time of application. Meet the following requirements: Have a college grade-point average of at least a "B" or the equivalent. Be pursuing full-time study during academic year following the award. Be a U.S. citizen, U.S. national, or U.S. permanent resident.

Credentials/Documentation:

Applicants must be nominated by their university via an online application. Current transcripts and transfer transcripts are required. Applicants must also submit three letters of recommendation. American Indians and Alaska Native students in tribal public policy or health care must submit copies of relevant enrollment forms or descent documentation (for more information, see our Frequently Asked Questions). Members of the First Nations of Canada must submit proof of U.S. permanent residency. U.S. permanent residents must submit a copy of their permanent resident ("green") card and a letter of intent to declare U.S. citizenship (First Nations are excepted). This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372. Each September the chief executive officers of accredited U.S. colleges and universities are invited to appoint a Udall Scholarship faculty representative to manage the selection and nomination of up to six students for the upcoming year's Udall Scholarships. The faculty representative of an institution is the key person in the Udall Scholarship selection process and serves as liaison between his/her institution and the Foundation. The faculty representative is responsible for publicizing the Udall Scholarships on campus, soliciting recommendations of students with significant commitment to the environment and outstanding Native American and Alaska Native students that demonstrate a commitment to pursue a career related to health care or tribal public policy from members of the faculty; establishing the process to select the best qualified candidates to be nominated; helping nominees prepare for the competition; and ensuring that the institutions nominations are complete and are forwarded to the Udall Scholarship Review Committee by the stated deadline.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. To access the online application, the faculty representative must register applicants as potential nominees. All applicants must use the online application; the Foundation will not accept paper applications. The application consists of: An 11-question application form that affirms the nominee's wish to be considered for the scholarship; provides biographical information about the nominee's background, interests and plans, and provides a statement about the nominee's intent to enter an eligible career and specifies how the student's educational plans will provide preparation for that career; An 800-word essay on a speech, legislative act, book, or public policy statement by either Morris K. Udall or Stewart L. Udall and its impact on the applicant's interests and goals; A current official college transcript and transcripts for other colleges attended; Three letters of recommendation.

Award Procedure:

The Udall Foundation will select individuals from the academic and professional community to serve as the Udall Review Committee. Udall Foundation staff will verify the applications for completeness and eligibility. The Review Committee meets at a designated location for one weekend to review and select 50 scholars and 50 honorable mention recipients. Students will be evaluated on the basis of: (a) Outstanding leadership capabilities and public service, (b) academic excellence, (c) the appropriateness of student's plan of study to prepare for a career in the environment, health care, or tribal public policy, and (d) dedication to the values exemplified by Morris Udall and Stewart Udall during their careers, i.e., civility, integrity, and consensus. The Review Committee has sole discretion in the selection of the 50 scholars.

Deadlines:

March 05, 2015.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

From 15 to 30 days. Early March of each year for receipt of nominations; March of each year for selection of scholars by Udall Review Committee; May of each year for announcement of Udall scholars.

FEDERAL AGENCY:

NATIONAL ARCHIVES AND RECORDS ADMINISTRATION

AUTHORIZATION:

National Archives and Records Administration Act of 1984, Statute 98-2280, Public Law 98-497

OBJECTIVES:

Objectives: To provide professional reference service to members of the general public and employees of the Federal government who are conducting research in Federal records or in historical materials in Presidential Libraries; provide advice and information to the public through conferences, workshops and other outreach activities on the availability and use of Federal records and publications in NARA's custody.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Advisory Services and Counseling, Dissemination of Technical Information, Salaries and Expenses, Use of Property, Facilities, and Equipment

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The assistance provided by NARA is designed to assist the public in obtaining access to information contained in records which are in the custody of the National Archives. Restrictions on the use of accessioned records in the National Archives of the United States are divided into two categories: general restrictions and specific restrictions. General restrictions apply to all records regardless of origin and apply to types of information or classes of records exempt from disclosure under the Freedom of Information Act, for example, national security information. Specific restrictions are specified by the transferring agency or donor and apply only to records in a particular record group or a portion of that record group. Access to records in the records center operations within NARA's regional records services facilities; in the National Personnel Records Center; and in the Washington National Records Center is controlled by the agency which created the records.

NATIONAL CREDIT UNION ADMINISTRATION

44.002 Community Development Revolving Loan Fund Program for Credit Unions

Loan Program for Low-Income Designated Credit Unions Grant Program for Low-Income Designated Credit Unions Office of Small Credit Union Initiatives Grant and Loan Program (CDRLF)(CDCU),

FEDERAL AGENCY:

NATIONAL CREDIT UNION ADMINISTRATION

AUTHORIZATION:

Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1981, as amended, Sections 623,633, and 681. 42 U.S.C 9812,9822 and 9910, Statue 494,498,518, Public Law 115-244, 42 USC Code 9812, 9822,9910.

OBJECTIVES:

Congress created NCUAs CDRLF program to stimulate economic development in low income communities served by credit unions. Credit unions play a significant role in providing needed financial services to low-wealth, underserved consumers. Through the CDRLF, credit unions have access to reduced-rate loans and technical assistance grants. Low-income credit unions use these funds to develop relevant products and services for low-wealth individuals. This support results in improved access to financial services, an opportunity for increased member savings, and improved employment opportunities in low-income communities. NCUAs Office of Small Credit Union Initiatives administers and manages the Community Development Revolving Loan Fund. NCUA does not use funds for the administration of the CDRLF. All administrative costs associated with the program are borne by the agency's Operating Fund. NCUAs Office of Small Credit Union Initiatives serves as the administrator of the CDRLF. The overall objectives for the CDRLF, including its operating principles, are outlined in Part 705 of NCUAs Rules and Regulations. To summarize, the objective of the fund is to support low-income designated credit unions in their efforts to: 1) Provide basic financial and related services to its members and their communities; 2) Enhance their capacity to better serve their members and the communities in which they operate; and 3) Respond to emergencies.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Direct Loans, Direct Payments for Specified Use, Project Grants (Special)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

In order to meet the objectives of the Community Development Revolving Loan Program for Credit Unions, an applicant must be certified as low-income credit union approved for participation must provide a variety of financial and related services designed to meet the particular needs of the low-income community served. Federal grants and loans under the program may generally be used for services that include 1) Provide basic financial and related services to its members and their communities; 2) Enhancing their capacity to better serve their members and the communities in which they operate; 3) Responding to emergencies. The aforementioned are subject to initiatives offered for funding each year.

Applicant Eligibility:

Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); All State and federally chartered credit unions with a low-income designation are eligible. Congress established the fund to provide grants and loans to credit unions serving low-income communities. For details regarding the low-income designation, see 12 CFR 701.34

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Individual/Family; Minority group; Small business; Private nonprofit institution/organization; Anyone/general public; Small Business Person; Consumer; Homeowner; Child (6-15); Youth (16-21); Senior Citizen (60+); Low Income; Education (0-8); Education (9-12); Education (13+); Public nonprofit institution/organization; A credit union wishing to participate must serve a field of membership which is comprised primarily of low-income individuals. To participate in the CDRLF Program, a federally chartered credit union must be currently designated as a low-income credit union as set forth in NCUAs Rules and Regulations. A state-chartered credit union must have the equivalent low-income designation from its respective state supervisory authority and concurrence from NCUA. 12 CFR 701.34A low-income designated credit union is one in which more than half of its members meet the NCUA definition for a low-income member.

Low-income members are those who earn 80 percent or less than the median family income for the metropolitan area where they live, or the national metropolitan area, whichever is greater. Low-income designated credit unions have offices and serve members throughout the United States, Puerto Rico, Guam, and the U.S. Virgin Islands, and on military bases around the world. Depending on the charter type, these credit unions serve occupational groups, associations and communities.

Credentials/Documentation:

Evidence of Chartering from the National Credit Union Administration Evidence of Low Income Designation (12 CFR 701.34) Applicants must obtain a Data Universal Number System (DUNS) number and be registered in the System for Award Management (SAM) before an Application is considered complete. Additionally, Applications must include a valid and current Employer Identification Number (EIN) issued by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service (IRS). If an Applicant does not fully comply with these requirements, NCUA may deem the Application incomplete and disqualify the Applicant. Other submission requirements include disclosure agreements and mandatory clauses which are specified in the grant guidelines and web-based application system. DUNS Number - Applicants can obtain a DUNS number by visiting the Dun & Bradstreet (D&B) website or calling 1-866-705-5711 to register or search for a DUNS number. Registering for a DUNS number is FREE. Active SAM Registration - Applicants can register by visiting the SAM website. An active SAM account status and CAGE number is required to apply for the OSCUI Grant Program. The SAM registration process is FREE. DUNS Number This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is not applicable.

Application Procedures:

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

The Community Development Revolving Loan Fund Program will use the following to base its consideration for awards on the following priorities: (1) Purpose; (2) Financial Factors and (3) Non-Financial Factors as listed in the application for funds. Details provided in the Notice of Funding Opportunity and/or published guidelines. 1. Criteria: Each grant initiative consists of unique criteria NCUA will use to evaluate Applications. The criteria is distinct from the eligibility criteria that are addressed before an Application is accepted for review. Specific details about the selection criteria are described further in the grant guidelines. 2. Review and Selection Process: i. Eligibility and Completeness Review: NCUA will review each Application to determine whether it is complete and that the Applicant meets the eligibility criteria described in the Regulations, this NOFO, and the grant guidelines. An incomplete Application or one that does not meet the eligibility criteria will be declined without further consideration. ii. Substantive Review: After an Applicant is determined eligible and its Application is determined complete, NCUA will conduct a substantive review in accordance with the criteria and procedures described in the Regulations, this NOFO, and the grant guidelines. NCUA reserves the right to contact the Applicant during its review for the purpose of clarifying or confirming information contained in the Application. If so contacted, the Applicant must respond within the time specified by NCUA or NCUA, in its sole discretion, may decline the application without further consideration. iii. Evaluation and Scoring: The evaluation criteria for each initiative will be more fully described in the grant guidelines. iv. Input from Examiners: NCUA may not approve an award to a credit union for which its NCUA regional examining office or State Supervisory Agency (SSA), if applicable, indicates it has safety and soundness concerns. If the NCUA regional office or SSA identifies a safety and soundness concern, OSCUI, in conjunction with the regional office or SSA, will assess whether the condition of the Applicant is adequate to undertake the activities for which funding is requested, and the obligations of the grant and its conditions. NCUA, in its sole discretion, may defer decision on funding an Application until the credit unions safety and soundness conditions improve. v. Award Selection: NCUA will make its award selections based on a consistent scoring system where each Applicant will receive a ranking position. NCUA will also consider the impact of funding and rank Applications based on the factors listed in the grant guidelines.

44.003 Community Development Revolving Loan Fund Access for Credit Unions

CDRLF Program,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

NATIONAL CREDIT UNION ADMINISTRATION

AUTHORIZATION:

12 - Banks and Banking USC Code 1756, 1757(5)(D), and (7)(I), 1766, 1772c-1, 1782, 1784, 1785 and 1786..

OBJECTIVES:

The purpose of the Community Development Revolving Loan Fund (CDRLF) program is to assist low-income designated credit unions (LICUs) in providing basic financial services to their members to stimulate economic activities in their communities. Through the CDRLF program, the NCUA provides financial support in the form of technical assistance grants and reduced-rate loans to LICUs serving predominantly low-income members. The CDRLF program consists of Congressional appropriations that are administered by the NCUA.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Direct Loans, Project Grants (Special)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

In order to meet the objectives of the CDRLF program, an applicant must be certified as a low-income credit union, and provide a variety of financial and related services designed to meet the particular needs of the low-income community served. Federal grants and loans under the program may generally be used for services that include 1) Provide basic financial and related services to its members and their communities; 2) Enhancing their capacity to better serve their members and the communities in which they operate; 3) Responding to emergencies.

Applicant Eligibility:

Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Federal and state chartered credit unions that have a low-income designation from the NCUA and/or appropriate state regulator pursuant to NCUA Rules and Regulation at 701.34(a)(1) or 741.204. In the case of a non-federally insured, state-chartered credit union, a low-income designation from a state regulator, made under appropriate state standards with the concurrence of NCUA. Services to low-income members must include, at a minimum, offering share accounts and loans.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Individual/Family; Minority group; Small business; Specialized group (e.g. health professionals, students, veterans); Student/Trainee; Graduate Student; Small Business Person; Homeowner; Consumer; Low Income; Anyone/general public; Public nonprofit institution/organization; A credit union wishing to participate must serve a field of membership which is comprised primarily of low-income individuals. To participate in the CDRLF Program, a federally chartered credit union must be currently designated as a low-income credit union as set forth in NCUA's Rules and Regulations. A state-chartered credit union must have the equivalent low-income designation from its respective state supervisory authority and concurrence from NCUA. 12 CFR 701.34 A low-income designated credit union is one in which more than half of its members meet the NCUA definition for a low-income member. Low-income members are those who earn 80 percent or less than the median family income for the metropolitan area where they live, or the national metropolitan area, whichever is greater. Low-income designated credit unions have offices and serve members throughout the United States, Puerto Rico, Guam, and the U.S. Virgin Islands, and on military bases around the world. Depending on the charter type, these credit unions serve occupational groups, associations and communities.

Credentials/Documentation:

Evidence of Chartering from the National Credit Union Administration. Evidence of Low Income Designation (12 CFR 701.34). DUNS Number - An active DUNS Number for the Applicant is required to apply. Active SAM.gov Account - An active SAM.gov account status and CAGE number is required to apply. This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is not applicable. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Process for Grants: (1)

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

Credit unions fulfill all application responses and requirements for the grant and submit the request online. (2) NCUA will thoroughly review the application according to the selection process in the grant guideline. (3) NCUA will make a final decision and notify the credit union whether the request is approved or denied via email. (4) If the request is approved, then the credit union may initiate the project that was applied for. (5) After the project is completed and the credit union fulfills all of the grant requirements then they may submit a reimbursement request to the NCUA. Process for Loans: (1) Credit unions fulfill all application responses and requirements for the loan and submit the request online. (2) NCUA will thoroughly review the application according to the criteria established in NCUA Rules and Regulations 12 CFR 705.7(c). (3) NCUA will make a decision and notify the credit union whether the request is tentatively approved or denied via email. (4) If the request is tentatively approved, NCUA will provide credit unions with instructions to complete the necessary loan documentation. (5) Credit unions review, sign, and submit the required loan documentation including, but not limited to, a loan agreement, promissory note, and amortization schedule. (6) NCUA will review and sign the loan documentation, then notify the credit union of the final approval via email. (7) NCUA will provide the credit union with copies of the signed loan documentation. (8) NCUA deposits the funds into the credit unions account on the effective date of the loan.

Award Procedure:

The award procedure generally involves two or three steps of review by different staff. The final approval authority is completed by the Director (or designee) of the NCUA's Office of Credit Union Resources and Expansion. Three Step Review Process: The Initial Reviewer (IR) evaluates the request and determines if it satisfies the criteria for approval set forth in program guidelines. Then the Grant Administrator (GA) reviews the IRs recommendation to either confirm the recommendation or make another recommendation. Lastly, the Office Director or Deputy Director (OD) reviews the GAs recommendation to either confirm or deny the GAs recommendation, which results in a official final decision. Two Step Review Process: This process follows the same protocols as the Three Step Review Process. However, the GA initiates the evaluation of the request and determines if it satisfies the criteria for approval set forth in program guidelines. Then, the OD reviews the GAs recommendation to either confirm or deny the GAs recommendation, which results in a official final decision. The difference in this step is that the GA bypasses the IRs step during this process and is used for faster response on more simplified applications.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

From 60 to 90 days.

Appeals:

From 15 to 30 days. Appeals of non-qualification: A Qualifying Credit Union whose application for a loan or technical assistance grant has been denied under 705.7(f) for failure to satisfy any of the conditions set forth in 705.7(c), including any additional criteria set forth in the related notice of funding opportunity, may request the Director of the Office of Credit Union Resources and Expansion to reconsider the denial and/or appeal that decision to the NCUA Board in accordance with the procedures set forth in subpart B to part 746 of this chapter, subject to the following limitations: (1) Scope: The scope of the Board's review is limited to the threshold question of qualification and not the issue of whether, among qualified applicants, a particular loan or technical assistance grant is funded. (2) Appeals procedures inapplicable: The foregoing procedure applies during an open period in which funds are available and NCUA has called for applications. NCUA will reject any application submitted during a period in which NCUA has not called for applications, except for applications submitted under 705.8. Such rejections are not subject to appeal or review by the NCUA Board. Appeals of technical assistance grant reimbursement denials: Pursuant to NCUA Interpretative Ruling and Policy Statement 11-1, any Participating Credit Union may appeal a denial of a technical assistance grant reimbursement to NCUA's Supervisory Review Committee. All appeals of technical assistance grant reimbursements must be submitted to the Supervisory Review Committee within 30 days from the date of the denial. The decisions of the Supervisory Review Committee are final and may not be appealed to the NCUA Board.

Renewals:

Other. Grant Extensions If a grant award has not been used prior to the grant expiration date then credit unions may submit a request to extend the grants performance period by emailing a completed grant extension request form to the NCUA. Extensions may be authorized for a maximum of 18 months only (within 18 months after the original grant expiration date). The NCUA will approve or reject the grant extension request and notify the credit union by email. Renewals are not available for CDRLF awards.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory Formula: Title 12: Banks and Banking, Chapter VII, Part 705, Subpart A, Public Law. Matching Requirements: Percent: 0%. Requirement: Matching requirements are voluntary. NCUA may require (in some rare cases) credit unions to match the loan. If necessary, the credit union will be notified as part of the approval process. MOE requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Technical Assistance Grants Credit unions approved for grant funds must utilize the funds and submit a reimbursement request by the grant expiration date provided at the time of approval (approval letter). Grant expiration dates range from 12 to 18 months. A grant extension may be permitted upon written request, for up to 12 months from the original date of expiration. CDRLF grant awards are reimbursements and disbursed as a lump sum when the credit unions reimbursement request is reviewed and approved. Loans Financial assistance made available in this program will be in the form of a loan which is to be deposited in the credit union as either a non-member deposit or as a note payable and must be repaid to the Revolving Loan Program at the specified rate at the time of the loan (refer to the NCUA's CDRLF Loan Interest Rate Policy for current rate). The term of a loan will not exceed 5 years from the date of award of the loan. CDRLF loans are disbursed as a lump sum on the effective date of the note. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: lump sum.

Reports:

Project Impact Narrative: Discuss how the grant helped the credit union assist underserved members and impact the community. Project Outcome: Select the project outcome the credit union achieved through the project. Available outcomes include (1) Added New Products/Services, (2) Developed Employee Skills & Talent, (3) Enhanced Cybersecurity & Data Protection, (4) Increased Loan Growth, (5) Increased Membership Growth, (6) Leveraged Technology to Scale Products/Services, and/or (7) Positioned Credit Union for Future Growth. Project Outcome Narrative: Discuss how the grant helped the credit union achieve the selected project outcome. Include specific metrics that were measured. The status updates are a required deliverable of the grant and must be completed whether or not work has occurred on your project. Not submitting a complete progress report by the deadline defined in the grant agreement may result in any subsequent reimbursement request being delayed or denied. The NCUA will notify Awardees about the status update and the deadline to complete it by email. Status updates should reflect implementation activities for the duration of the project thus far. Below are the components of the status update. Status of Project to Date: Indicate if the project is one of the following: (1) Completed, (2) On Target for Completion, or (3) Off Schedule and Requires an Extension. Status Update Summary: Provide a summary of the work completed to date (at least 3-5 sentences). Challenges Encountered: Describe any issues that have made or will make completing the project on time difficult. Remaining Work: Provide a summary of the work remaining to complete the project. Date Expected to Submit Reimbursement Request: Provide the date the credit union expects to submit the reimbursement request to the NCUA. The final post-award activity is the reimbursement request. All NCUA grants are reimbursements. Awardees must use their own funds for the approved project according to the terms and conditions of the grant agreement, then request a reimbursement for the eligible expenses incurred. In general, each reimbursement request requires Awardees to provide a narrative outcome summary, proof of payment and purchase documents, and certification the grant funds were used accordingly. The NCUA may request additional information to support the reimbursement for an Awardees project. Narrative outcome summaries that are not detailed and do not reflect the impact of the grant will cause delays in the reimbursement process. The NCUA will not approve incomplete reimbursement requests. However, if the NCUA has additional inquiries regarding the request then the credit union will be notified by email to address the matter. For CDRLF Loans Credit unions that receives a CDRLF loan must report on the progress of providing needed community services to the Participating Credit Union's members once a year, either at the annual meeting or in a written report sent to all members.

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

Credit unions must also submit to NCUA the written report or a summary of the report provided to members.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503

Records:

CDRLF awardees are required to keep all financial, business and program reports necessary for program review and audit to ensure that funds have been expended in accordance with the applicable regulations, guidelines, agreements, and terms & conditions.

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

2018 Expansion of financial access to underserved communities through digital products. Protecting credit union information from cybersecurity threats. Promote professional development in the credit union industry. Prepare credit unions for success in the event of leadership transition. Enhance the operational and leadership skills of credit union staff and board members. Developing innovative outreach strategies that will improve the financial well-being of individuals living in underserved areas.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

The selection process for CDRLF grants includes the following steps. Some grant initiatives may not require a certain step. In addition, the evaluation performed for each initiative may differ for each step but the overall description of each step outlines the activity conducted by NCUA. Eligibility Review Step: The NCUA will review each application to determine if the credit union meets the eligibility requirements. Credit unions are not ranked during this step. However, credit unions that do not meet the eligibility requirements are unable to proceed to the next step. Project Objective Review Step: The NCUA will use information and responses from the application to determine if the credit unions project goals align with the objective of the initiative. Credit unions that apply for projects that do not align with the objective of the grant initiative are unable to proceed to the next step. Application Ranking Order Step: The NCUA will score each application according to the ranking order criteria established in the grant guideline for the respective initiative. Compliance Review Step: The NCUA will assess each credit unions past adherence to reporting requirements and guidelines for previous CDRLF awards. In addition, the NCUA may assess a credit unions examinations or reports and findings from an audit if deemed necessary by a reviewer. Some credit unions may not proceed to the next step, depending on the results of the compliance review. Grant Amount Determination Step: The NCUA will determine the recommended grant amount for each application based on various factors such as the specific project, amount requested, funding availability, and the compliance review results. Funding will be distributed until the grant allocation is exhausted. The selection process for CDRLF loans includes the following steps. Eligibility Review Step: The NCUA will review each application to determine if the credit union meets the eligibility requirements. Substantive Review Step: The purpose of the substantive review step is to determine whether the NCUA should support and fund the loan request. During this phase of the review, the NCUA reviews the credit unions prior financial and operational performance, the collateral offered to securitize the loan (if applicable), and its longevity in operation. The preliminary results of the substantive review is determined by using a structured decision process. Regional Office and/or State Supervisory Authority (SSA) Review Step: The respective NCUA regional office and/or SSA determines whether they concur with the results of the substantive review. Loan Amount Determination Step: The NCUA will determine the recommended loan amount for each application based on various factors such as the specific project, amount requested, funding availability, and the substantive review results. Funding will be distributed, subject to funds availability.

45.025 Promotion of the Arts Partnership Agreements

FEDERAL AGENCY:

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE ARTS

AUTHORIZATION:

National Foundation on the Arts and the Humanities Act of 1965, as amended, Public Law 089-209, 20 USC Code 951 et seq..

OBJECTIVES:

To develop and maintain partnerships with the state and jurisdictional arts agencies (SAAs) and their regional arts organizations (RAOs) to advance the mission of the National Endowment for the Arts. Partnerships with the SAAs and RAOs enable the support of a variety of arts activities in communities across the nation.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Advisory Services and Counseling, Project Grants, Project Grants (with Formula Distribution)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Partnership Agreements support elements of a state or regional plan addressing state or regional priorities that: 1) enhance opportunities for the creation of art that meets the highest standards of excellence; 2) foster public engagement with, and access to, various forms of excellent art across the nation; 3) provide Americans at all stages of life with opportunities to learn in the arts; 4) integrate the arts into the fabric of community life; and 5) promote public knowledge and understanding about the contributions of the arts. Limited Partnership funds also are available for national services provided by membership organizations of SAAs and RAOs.

Applicant Eligibility:

Interstate; State; U.S. Territories and possessions; Agencies that are officially designated as the state arts agency by the state government in each of the 50 States and six special U.S. jurisdictions, and that meet the National Endowment for the Arts' eligibility requirements for SAAs as outlined in the Partnership Agreements guidelines on our website; regional arts organizations that represent state arts agencies and that meet the National Endowment for the Arts' eligibility requirements for RAOs as outlined in the Partnership Agreements guidelines on our website; and organizations providing support services to state and regional arts agencies at a national level.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

U.S. Territories; Interstate; State; The official arts agencies of the 50 states and six U.S. jurisdictions, regional arts organizations, and organizations providing support services to SAAs and RAOs at the national level. Through activities and services supported, beneficiaries include the general public, local arts agencies, nonprofit organizations, and artists.

Credentials/Documentation:

The State Partnership Agreement requires that the agency be legally designated as the official state arts agency and that it meet all National Endowment for the Arts eligibility requirements. The Regional Partnership Agreement stipulates that the regional organization must be authorized by three or more state arts agencies to apply for funds on their behalf and that it meet all National Endowment for the Arts eligibility requirements. An SAA can belong to only one RAO. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review. Applicants should consult the Partnership Agreements guidelines (available at www.arts.gov).

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Applicants must obtain current Partnership Agreements guidelines at www.arts.gov and adhere to instructions. Applications must be submitted through Grants.gov and the NEA's Applicant Portal (if applicable).

Award Procedure:

Applications receive three independent levels of review. First, they are reviewed by an independent, national panel of individuals with expertise in the arts and the state and regional arts agency field. Panel recommendations are forwarded to the National Council on the Arts, which then makes recommendations to the Chairman of the National Endowment for the Arts. The Chairman reviews the Council's recommendations and makes the final decision on all grant awards. Partnership Agreements receive panel review on a three-year cycle -- one-third of the SAAs and RAOs are reviewed each year -- with funding subject to annual recommendation and approval by the Council and the Chairman.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Other. The Partnership Agreements deadline is in late September. Applications are generally reviewed by the National Council on the Arts and approved by the National Endowment for the Arts Chairman in late March. See our website at www.arts.gov for specific dates.

Appeals:

Other. Information on requests for reconsideration may be obtained from the headquarters office.

Renewals:

Other. The National Endowment for the Arts uses staggered, multi-year review for Partnership Agreements. Funding is subject to annual review and approval.

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

2018 State humanities councils are the public humanities in action. Councils offer a wide array of thought-provoking programming that makes rich humanities ideas accessible for general public audiences, fosters discussion, and promotes civic engagement. The work they do is tailored to the resources, demographics, interests, and concerns of their state or jurisdiction. Councils sponsor book festivals, literacy campaigns, speakers bureaus, teacher development, cultural tourism, humanities publications, films, exhibitions, and Chautauqua performances. They also help extend the reach of NEH-funded projects, and ensure NEH remains connected to local and regional communities. Through council initiatives and grant-making, state councils enrich lives through the humanities with an emphasis on the specific needs of the communities they represent.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

Each State council sets its own guidelines and criteria for assessing proposals, which are widely disseminated within the State. The criteria for State council funding from NEH are established in the National Foundation on the Arts and the Humanities Act of 1965, as amended, 20 U.S.C. Section 950, 956, and by the NEH Federal/State Partnership.

45.130 Promotion of the Humanities Challenge Grants

FEDERAL AGENCY:

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE HUMANITIES

AUTHORIZATION:

National Foundation on the Arts and the Humanities Act of 1965, as amended, Public Law 89-209, 20 U.S.C. 956 et seq.

OBJECTIVES:

To strengthen the institutional base of the humanities by supporting infrastructure development and capacity building. For awards up to $500,000, there is a 3:1 matching requirement; awards in excess of $500,000 require a 4:1 match. Eligible community colleges, Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs), Hispanic-serving institutions of higher education, and Tribal Colleges and Universities, are required to raise two times the federal award in new donations from third-party non-federal sources.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

Through these awards organizations can increase their humanities capacity with funds invested in a restricted, short-term endowment or other investment fund (or spend-down funds) that generate expendable earnings to support and enhance ongoing program activities. Eligible activities include the documentation of cultural heritage materials that are lost or imperiled; the preservation and conservation of humanities materials; and the sustaining of digital scholarly infrastructure. Challenge grants may also support the purchase of equipment and software; the design, purchase, construction, restoration, or renovation of facilities needed for humanities activities; and collections sharing. Such expenditures bring long-term benefits to the institution and to the humanities more broadly. Up to 10 percent of total grant funds (federal matching funds plus certified gifts) may be used for fundraising costs during the period of performance.

Applicant Eligibility:

Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); U.S. public and nonprofit 501(c)(3) organizations (including institutions of higher education), state and local governmental agencies, and federally recognized Native American tribal governments. The following eligible entities are subject to the one-to-one matching requirement: public and 501(c)(3) nonprofit community colleges and post-secondary two-year institutions of higher education; public and nonprofit 501(c)(3) U.S. historically black colleges or universities, as defined by Executive Order 13532; public and nonprofit 501(c)(3) Hispanic-serving institutions of higher education; and U.S. tribal college or university, as defined by Executive Order 13270.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Private nonprofit institution/organization; Public nonprofit institution/organization; All applicant organizations and institutions and all users of their humanities resources, programs, or activities; humanities scholars, and the general public.

Credentials/Documentation:

Eligible HBCUs are those included in the current U.S. Department of Education's "Accredited HBCU listing." Eligible Hispanic-serving institutions of higher education are those listed in the current U.S. Department of Education's "Eligibility Matrix." Eligible tribal colleges or universities must be included in the U.S. Department of Education's "list of Tribal Colleges and Universities." 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. An environmental impact assessment is required for this listing. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372. Section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act (NHPA), 16 USC 470f, and its implementing regulations, 36 CFR Part 800, require NEH to consider the effects of projects awarded NEH funding on historic properties, and when applicable, to provide the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation (ACHP) an opportunity to comment on such projects prior to the expenditure of Federal funds. Other pre-application coordination is not required, but preliminary discussion with Endowment staff and the submission of a draft application at least six weeks before the deadline are strongly encouraged.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Applications to NEH must be submitted via Grants.gov. Additional application information is available online at <https://www.neh.gov/grants/preservation/infrastructure-and-capacity-building-challenge-grants> Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFO) for this listing will be posted on Grants.gov.

Award Procedure:

Knowledgeable persons outside NEH will read each application and advise the agency about its merits. NEH staff comments on matters of fact or on significant issues that otherwise would be missing from these reviews, then makes recommendations to the National Council on the Humanities. The National Council meets at various times during the year to advise the NEH chairman. The chairman takes into account the advice provided by the review process and, by law, makes all funding decisions.

Deadlines:

See <https://www.neh.gov/grants/preservation/infrastructure-and-capacity-building-challenge-grants>.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

>180 Days. Seven months (approximately 210 days) after the deadline

Appeals:

Not Applicable. None, but applicants may request written reasons for rejection and reapply at the next appropriate deadline with a revised proposal.

Renewals:

>180 Days. Eligibility to apply for a subsequent award begins in the third year after the close of the previous challenge grant.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory formula is not applicable to this assistance listing. Matching Requirements: Percent: 0%. Requirement: Matching requirements are mandatory. - Recipients must raise non-federal third-party funds of three times the amount of federal funds offered for grants up to $500,000, and four times the amount of federal funds offered for grants in excess of $500,000. For example, a $500,000 grant requires a $1.5 million match; a $600,000 grant requires a $2.4 million match. HBCUs, Tribal Colleges and Universities, Hispanic-serving institutions of higher education, and eligible community colleges are required to match federal funds on a one-to-one basis. Preference is given to projects that provide free, online access to digital materials produced with grant funds.

45.160 Promotion of the Humanities Fellowships and Stipends

FEDERAL AGENCY:

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE HUMANITIES

AUTHORIZATION:

National Foundation on the Arts and the Humanities Act of 1965, as amended, Public Law 89-209, 20 U.S.C. 956 et seq.

OBJECTIVES:

Fellowships and Summer Stipends provide support for scholars to undertake full-time independent research and writing in the humanities. Grants are available for six to 12-month fellowships and two months of summer study. Awards for Faculty programs support research work conducted by faculty at Historically Black Colleges and Universities, Hispanic-Serving institutions of higher education, and Tribal Colleges and Universities for periods of two to 12 months.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants, Project Grants (Fellowships)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Fellowships and Summer Stipends: Projects may contribute to scholarly knowledge or to the general public's understanding of the humanities. The proposed study or research may be completed during the grant period or it may be part of a longer project. Supported applications typically result in publication. The Awards for Faculty program assist faculty members as they engage in advanced research in the humanities. These awards are restricted to faculty members at Historically Black Colleges and Universities, Hispanic-Serving institutions of higher education, and Tribal Colleges and Universities as designated by the White House offices charged with the implementation of Executive Orders 12876, 13230, 13021. Applications for planning institutional curricula, for educational research projects, for the creation or performance of works of art, and that lack humanities content or methodology are not eligible.

Applicant Eligibility:

Individual/Family: All applicants must be U.S. citizens, native residents of U.S. jurisdictions, foreign nationals who have been legal residents in the U.S. or its jurisdictions for at least the three years immediately preceding the application deadline. Fellowships: Faculty members at colleges and universities, individuals affiliated with other institutions, independent scholars, and others who work in the humanities are eligible. Applicants need not have advanced degrees, but they must have completed their formal academic training. Active candidates for degrees and persons seeking support for work leading to degrees are not eligible. Summer Stipends: University and college faculty members must be nominated by their academic institutions. Faculty members with terminating appointments, independent scholars, and nonfaculty college and university staff members are exempt from nomination and may apply directly. Awards for Faculty are offered to full-time faculty members at Historically Black Colleges and Universities, Hispanic-Serving Institutions, and Tribal Colleges and Universities as designated by the White House offices charged with the implementation of Executive Orders 12876, 13230, 13021.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

2018 Past recipients of Promotion of the Humanities Research awards may be found by using the NEH's Funded Projects Query Form available online at <https://securegrants.neh.gov/publicquery/main.aspx>.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

For Collaborative Research, the principal criteria considered by evaluators are: (1) Intellectual significance of the project, including its potential contribution to scholarship in the humanities; the likelihood that it will stimulate new research; its relationship to larger themes in the humanities; and the significance of the material on which the project is based. (2) Pertinence of the research questions being posed, the appropriateness of research methods or conference design; the appropriateness of the technology employed in the project; the feasibility of the work plan; and the appropriateness of the field work to be undertaken, the archival or source materials to be studied, and the research site. (3) Qualifications, expertise, and levels of commitment of the project director and key project staff or contributors. (4) Soundness of the dissemination and access plans, including benefit to the audience identified in the proposal and the strength of the case for employing print, digital format, or a combination of media; and in the case of archaeology projects, the likelihood that the project will produce an interpretive study. All other considerations being equal, preference will be given to projects that provide free, online access to digital materials produced with grant funds. (5) Potential for success, including the likelihood that the work proposed will be completed within the projected time frame; where appropriate, the project's previous record of success; and the reasonableness of the proposed budget in relation to anticipated results. For Scholarly Editions and Translations, the principal criteria considered by evaluators are: (1) The intellectual significance of the proposed work, including its potential contribution to scholarship in the humanities; the likelihood that it will stimulate new research; its relationship to larger themes or issues in the humanities; and the significance of the material on which the project is based. (2) The appropriateness of the research methods, critical apparatus, and editorial policies; in the case of translation projects, the translation approaches; the appropriateness of selection criteria; the thoroughness and feasibility of the work plan; the quality of the samples, e.g., their content, accuracy; readability, and the clarity and helpfulness of annotation. (3) The qualifications, expertise, and levels of commitment of the project director and key project staff or contributors. (4) The soundness of the dissemination and access plans, including benefit to the audience identified in the proposal; the strength of the case for producing print volumes, electronic format, or a combination of media; and the appropriateness of the technology to be used. All other considerations being equal, preference will be given to projects that provide free, online access to digital materials produced with grant funds. (5) The potential for success, including the likelihood that the proposed project will be successfully completed within the projected time frame; when appropriate, the edition or translations previous record of success; and the reasonableness of the budget in relation to its likely results. For Fellowship Programs at Independent Research Institutions, the principal criteria considered by evaluators are: (1) How important to the advancement of the humanities is the fellowship program for which funding is requested? (2) Are fellows likely to pursue their research more successfully because of the research collections, facilities, services, and other resources provided by the applicant institution? In the case of centers with residential programs, does the application provide evidence that the fellows' projects benefit significantly from the location of the center and the intellectual exchange among the fellows? (3) How strong is the institution's previous record in offering fellowships? Have former fellows been productive? Have the scholarly contributions resulting from their FPIRI fellowships been of value to scholars and general audiences in the humanities? (4) Is the fellowship selection process, including the choosing of selection committee members, expert and objective? (5) Does the application make a persuasive case for the amount of NEH support requested for fellowships? (6) How effective is the publicity for the competition for fellowships? (7) How effective is the administration of the fellowship program? Is the institution's research misconduct policy adequate? (8) Are there ways in which the fellowship program could be improved?

45.162 Promotion of the Humanities Teaching and Learning Resources and Curriculum Development

FEDERAL AGENCY:

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE HUMANITIES
AUTHORIZATION:

National Foundation on the Arts and the Humanities Act of 1965, as amended, Public Law 89-209, 20 U.S.C. 956 et seq.

OBJECTIVES:

Humanities Initiatives at Historically Black, Hispanic-Serving Institutions, and Tribal Colleges and Universities are designed to strengthen humanities teaching and learning at these institutions. Enduring Question Course Grants support the development of new humanities courses at the undergraduate level that examine fundamental questions of the humanities.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Humanities Initiatives at Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs), Hispanic-Serving institutions of higher education, and Tribal Colleges and Universities provide funds for faculty study programs, institutional planning, and the acquisition of library and advanced technology resources that can assist institutions in enhancing humanities opportunities for their students and their communities, typically through strengthening the capacity of faculty to engage student or community beneficiaries in substantive study of the humanities. Enduring Questions Course Grants encourage faculty and students at the undergraduate level to grapple with the most fundamental concerns of the humanities, and to join together in deep, sustained programs of study in order to encounter influential thinkers over the centuries and into the present day; these questions include What is friendship? What is dignity? What is good government? What are the limits of scientific understanding? What are the origins of the modern world?.

Applicant Eligibility:

Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Public and nonprofit U.S. Historically Black Colleges or Universities (HBCU) as defined by Executive Order 13532, Hispanic-serving institutions of higher education (HSI) recognized by the U.S. Department of Education, tribal colleges or universities as defined by Executive Order 13270, and public and nonprofit 501(c)(3) community colleges.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

See the program guidelines for detailed criteria. For Humanities Initiatives at Historically Black Colleges and Universities, Hispanic-Serving Institutions, and Tribal Colleges and Universities, projects will be selected for funding on the basis of the quality of planned activities and the potential of these activities to strengthen the humanities capacity of the institution; the ability of the institution to carry out the proposed plan; the qualifications of project leaders and consultants; and the cogency of the plan to evaluate the outcomes of the project. For Enduring Questions, projects will be selected for funding based on their intellectual content, feasibility and impact on the intended academic audience.

45.163 Promotion of the Humanities Professional Development

FEDERAL AGENCY:

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE HUMANITIES

AUTHORIZATION:

National Foundation on the Arts and the Humanities Act of 1965, as amended, Public Law 89-209, 20 U.S.C. 956 et seq.

OBJECTIVES:

Seminars and Institutes promote better teaching and research in the humanities through faculty development. Landmarks of American History and Culture promote better teaching of American history and culture through intensive, rigorous faculty and staff development workshops at historical sites, colonial settlements, battlefields, artists' and writers' homes--while enabling the participants to gain experience in conveying the importance of historical places and while enhancing their teaching materials.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Grants support Summer Seminars and Institutes, Landmarks of American History and Culture Workshops. Awards support direct costs, including salaries, participant stipends, selection costs, travel, and supplies. Projects should engage participants in deepening the knowledge of the subjects they teach and strengthen their capacity to engage students in substantive study of the humanities. Projects that deal solely with pedagogical theory or that are intended to improve writing, speaking, or thinking skills apart from a focus on specific humanities content are not normally supported.

Applicant Eligibility:

Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Distinguished scholar/teachers in the humanities may apply through a sponsoring institution to direct a seminar or institute for college teachers or school teachers. For Landmarks in American History and Culture, the following may apply: U.S. public and nonprofit 501(c)(3) organizations (including institutions of higher education), state and local governmental agencies, and federally recognized Native American tribal governments.

Pre-application coordination is not applicable. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Applications to NEH must be submitted via Grants.gov. Additional application information is available online (<https://www.neh.gov/divisions/public>). Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFO) for this listing will be posted on Grants.gov.

Award Procedure:

Knowledgeable persons outside NEH will read each application and advise the agency about its merits. NEH staff comments on matters of fact or on significant issues that otherwise would be missing from these reviews, and then makes recommendations to the National Council on the Humanities. The National Council meets at various times during the year to advise the NEH chairman. The chairman takes into account the advice provided by the review process and, by law, makes all funding decisions.

Deadlines:

See <https://www.neh.gov/divisions/public>.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

A successful application will demonstrate national significance or impact, outreach to groups of Americans not often engaged in public humanities projects, collaboration among cultural institutions and organizations as well as other similar or different groups, and use of a broad spectrum of the most effective formats, technologies, and venues for lifelong learning in the humanities. Although every proposal will not be expected to meet all of the criteria outlined above, the Division will give priority to applications that further these objectives. See program guidelines for details.

45.169 Promotion of the Humanities Office of Digital Humanities

FEDERAL AGENCY:

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE HUMANITIES

AUTHORIZATION:

National Foundation on the Arts and the Humanities Act of 1965, as amended, Public Law 89-209, 20 U.S.C. 956 et seq.

OBJECTIVES:

To support innovative humanities projects that utilize or study the impact of digital technology for research, preservation, access, education, and public programming.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Grants support large-scale training institutes or seminars on advanced topics in the digital humanities that explore new technology-driven methodologies; innovative start-up projects that are in the first phases of planning, brainstorming, and creating prototypes that explore the use or impact of digital technology for the humanities; the broader implementation of innovative projects in the digital humanities that have moved beyond the start-up phase; projects that explore and enrich humanities materials using digital technology, thereby enhancing teaching, research, and public access. Expenses may include salaries and wages, consultant and other services, supplies and limited equipment purchases, and travel and per diem.

Applicant Eligibility:

Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); U.S. public and 501(c)(3) nonprofit organizations (including institutions of higher education); state and local governmental agencies and Native American tribal organizations.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Private nonprofit institution/organization; Public nonprofit institution/organization; U.S. public and nonprofit organizations (including institutions of higher education); state and local governmental agencies and Native American tribal organizations; U.S. citizens; and humanities scholars.

Credentials/Documentation:

2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372. Prior to submitting a proposal, applicants are encouraged to contact program officers who can offer advice about preparing the proposal, and review draft proposals. These comments are not part of the formal review process and have no bearing on the final outcome of the proposal, but applicants in other programs have found them helpful in strengthening their applications. Program staff recommend that draft proposals be submitted six weeks before the deadline. Time restraints may prevent staff from reviewing draft proposals submitted after that date. Draft proposals may be submitted by E-mail attachment (odh@neh.gov).

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Applications for this program must be submitted via Grants.Gov. Before using Grants.gov for the first time, each organization must register with the Web site to create an institutional profile. See <https://www.neh.gov/divisions/odh> for additional application

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

The criteria used to determine funding priorities include the (1) intellectual significance of the long-term project, including its potential to enhance research, teaching, and learning in the humanities; the likelihood that it will stimulate new research or approaches to the humanities or use new digital technologies to communicate humanities scholarship to broad audiences; its relationship to larger themes in the humanities; and the significance of the material on which the project is based; (2) the appropriateness of the proposed methods; the appropriateness of the technology employed in the project; the feasibility of the work plan; (3) qualifications, expertise, and levels of commitment of the project director and key project staff or contributors; (4) promise of quality, usefulness to the targeted audience, and/or impact on scholarship of the long-term project; soundness of the dissemination plans, including benefit to the audience identified in the proposal and the strength of the case for employing print, microform, digital format, or a combination of media; (5) quality of the assessment and evaluation of the activities, and the potential contribution of this evaluation to the realization of the long-term goals; and (6) potential for success, including the likelihood that the work proposed will be completed within the projected time frame; where appropriate, the project's previous record of success; and the reasonableness of the proposed budget in relation to anticipated results.

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

47.041 Engineering Grants

(ENG),

FEDERAL AGENCY:

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

AUTHORIZATION:

National Science Foundation Act of 1950, as amended, 42 U.S. C. 1861 et seq.

OBJECTIVES:

NSF's Directorate for Engineering (ENG) seeks to improve the quality of life and the economic strength of the Nation by fostering innovation, creativity, and excellence in engineering education and research. Specifically, ENG enables the Nation's long-term capacity to perform by: (1) Investing in the creation of new engineering knowledge and the development of human capital within disciplines and at their interfaces; (2) making critical investments to enable an intelligent, agile and adaptable physical infrastructure for engineering education and research; (3) improving the quality and effectiveness of engineering education and research through the integration of and systemic reform of these processes; and (4) enabling knowledge transfer connections among diverse constituencies and communities. Areas of research include: tissue engineering; metabolic pathway engineering; bioinformatics; protein drug processing, fluid flow; combustion; heat transfer; fuel cells; sensors; integrated modeling of the behavior of materials and structures; civil infrastructure; structures and mechanical systems; engineering in geologic materials; reducing risks of natural and technological hazards; enterprise-level integration technologies; innovative design strategies; manufacturing processes and materials; production systems; microelectronic, nanoelectronic, micromagnetic, photonic, and electromechanical devices and their integration into circuits and microsystems; design and analysis of systems and the convergence of control, communications and computation; Engineering Research Groups through the Emerging Frontiers in Research and Innovation (EFRI) program; Engineering Research Centers; Industry/University Cooperative Research Centers; Engineering Education; Human Resources Development; cross cutting activities and special studies and analyses. Support is also provided for undergraduate student research, graduate research fellowships, Broadening Participation in Engineering (BPE), research equipment and instrumentation, Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR), Small Business Technology Transfer (STTR) and Grant Opportunities for Academic Liaison with Industry (GOALI). ENG also provides support for NSF-wide programs including the NSF Innovation Corps (I-Corps™) program, Faculty Early Career Development (CAREER) program, NSF Research Traineeships (NRT), Risk and Resilience, Understanding the Brain (UtB), Innovations at the Nexus of Food, Energy, and Water Systems (INFEWS), and the Inclusion across the Nation of Communities of Learners that have been Underrepresented for Diversity in Engineering and Science (NSF INCLUDES) program.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Funds may be used for paying costs to conduct research, such as salaries and wages, equipment and supplies, travel, publication costs, other direct costs, and indirect costs. This program does not provide support for inventions, product development, marketing, pilot plant efforts, technical assistance, or research requiring security classifications. Primary responsibility for general supervision of all grant activities rests with the grantee institution; the principal investigator is responsible for the scientific work. Funds may not be used for purposes other than those specified in the proposal.

Applicant Eligibility:

Federal; State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Small business (less than 500 employees); Profit organization; Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); State; Native American Organizations (includes Indian groups, cooperatives, corporations, partnerships, associations); Except where a program solicitation establishes more restrictive eligibility criteria, individuals and organizations in the following categories may submit proposals: Universities and colleges; Non-profit, non-academic organizations; for-profit organizations; State and local governments; and unaffiliated individuals. See the NSF Grant Proposal Guide, Chapter I.E. for a full description of eligibility requirements: www.nsf.gov/publications/pubsumm.jsp?odskey=gpg.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Federal; Individual/Family; Profit organization; Private nonprofit institution/organization; Scientist/Researchers; Engineer/Architect; State; Local; Public nonprofit institution/organization; NA

Credentials/Documentation:

Proposals must be signed electronically by an official authorized to commit the institution or organization in business and financial affairs and who can commit the organization to certain proposal certifications. Costs will be determined in accordance with OMB Circular Nos. A-21 (2 CFR Part 220) for educational institutions, No. A-87 (2 CFR Part 225) for State and local governments, and A-122 (2 CFR Part 230) for nonprofit organizations. Applicants for fellowship support must show evidence of ability such as academic records, letters of recommendation, graduate record examination scores, and grade point average. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review. Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. By electronic submission via FastLane or Grants.gov of a formal proposal, and, in some programs, a preliminary proposal, describing the planned project and the proposed amount of the grant. For guidelines, see specific funding opportunities and the Grant Proposal Guide. <http://www.nsf.gov/publications/pubsumm.jsp?odskey=gpg>

Award Procedure:

NSF staff members review and evaluate all proposals based on a set of criteria established by the National Science Board and, if applicable, solicitation-specific review criteria. In most cases reviews are undertaken with the advice of scientists, engineers, educators, and other appropriate persons who are specialists in the fields covered by the proposals. NSF makes awards on a competitive basis. Notification of an award is transmitted electronically to the submitting organization by a NSF Grants and Agreements Officer in the Division of Grants and Agreements.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Not Applicable. Many NSF programs accept proposals at any time. Other programs, however, establish due dates for submission of proposals. NSF uses target dates, deadline dates, and submission windows. Consult the Grant Proposal Guide, Chapter I.F. for further information about these types of due dates: <http://www.nsf.gov/publications/pubsumm.jsp?odskey=gpg>.

Appeals:

Not Applicable. The principal investigator may request, in writing, within 90 days of a declination or return, that NSF reconsider its action in declining or returning any proposal or application.

Renewals:

Other. A renewal proposal competes with all other proposals and must be developed fully as though the proposer is applying for the first time. Renewal proposals must be submitted at least six months before additional funding is required or consistent with an established deadline, target date or submission window. Principal investigators are encouraged to discuss renewal proposals with the NSF program officer prior to submission.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory formula is not applicable to this assistance listing. Matching requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing. MOE requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Award durations of up to 5 years. Method of awarding assistance: Standard or continuing grant, fellowship, or cooperative agreement. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: lump sum.

Reports:

Unless otherwise specified in the award, Annual Project Reports should be submitted at least 90 days prior to the end of the current budget period. Within 90 days following the expiration of the award, a Final Project Report and a Project Outcomes Report for the General Public must be submitted. Grantees are required to report the status of funds received from NSF on a quarterly basis through the submission of a Federal Financial Report (FFR). Information about reporting requirements is contained in the Award and Administration Guide: <http://www.nsf.gov/publications/pubsumm.jsp?odskey=aag>.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

Proposals received by NSF are assigned to the appropriate NSF program where they will be reviewed if they meet NSF proposals preparation requirements. All proposals are carefully reviewed by a scientist, engineer, or educator serving as an NSF Program Officer, and usually by three to ten other persons outside NSF who are experts in the particular fields represented by the proposal. These reviewers are selected by Program Officers charged with the oversight of the review process. Proposers are invited to suggest names of persons they believe are especially well qualified to review the proposal and/or persons they would prefer not review the proposal. These suggestions may serve as one source in the reviewer selection process at the Program Officers discretion. Submission of such names, however, is optional. Care is taken to ensure that reviewers have no conflicts of interest with the proposal. All NSF proposals are evaluated through use of the two National Science Board (NSB)-approved merit review criteria: intellectual merit and the broader impacts of the proposed effort. In some instances, however, NSF will employ additional criteria as required to highlight the specific objectives of certain programs and activities. The two NSB-approved merit review criteria are listed below. The criteria include considerations that help define them. These considerations are suggestions and not all will apply to any given proposal. While proposers must address both merit review criteria, reviewers will be asked to address only those considerations that are relevant to the proposals being considered and for which the reviewer is qualified to make judgments. Relevant questions are: (1) What is the intellectual merit of the proposed activity?; (2) How important is the proposed activity to advancing knowledge and understanding within its own field or across different fields?; (3) How well qualified is the proposer (individual or team) to conduct the project? (If appropriate, the reviewer will comment on the quality of the prior work.); (4) To what extent does the proposed activity suggest and explore creative, original, or potentially transformative concepts; (5) How well conceived and organized is the proposed activity?; (6) Is the sufficient access to resources?; (7) What are the broader impacts of the proposed activity?; (8) How well does the activity advance discovery and understanding while promoting teaching, training, and learning?; (9) How well does the proposed activity broaden the participation of underrepresented groups (e.g., gender, ethnicity, disability, geographic, etc.)?; (10) To what extent will it enhance the infrastructure for research and education, such as facilities, instrumentation, networks, and partnerships?; (11) Will the results be disseminated broadly to enhance scientific and technological understanding?; and (12) What may be the benefits of the proposed activity to society?NSF staff will give careful consideration to the following in making funding decisions: Integration of Research and Education One of the principal strategies in support of NSF's goals is to foster integration of research and education through the programs, projects, and activities it supports at academic and research institutions. These institutions provide abundant opportunities where individuals may concurrently assume responsibilities as researchers, educators, and students and where all can engage in joint efforts that infuse education with the excitement of discovery and enrich research through the diversity of learning perspectives. Integrating Diversity into NSF Programs, Projects, and Activities Broadening opportunities and enabling the participation of all citizens women and men, underrepresented minorities, and persons with disabilities is essential to health and vitality of science and engineering. NSF is committed to this principle of diversity and deems it central to the programs, projects, and activities it considers and supports.

(MPS).

FEDERAL AGENCY:

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

AUTHORIZATION:

National Science Foundation Act of 1950, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 1861 et seq.

OBJECTIVES:

To promote the progress of the mathematical and physical sciences and thereby strengthen the Nation's scientific enterprise; to increase the store of scientific knowledge and enhance understanding of major problems confronting the Nation. Most of the research supported is basic in character. The program includes support of research project grants in the following disciplines: astronomical sciences, chemistry, materials research, mathematical sciences, physics, as well as support for symposia and conferences. Basic research in multidisciplinary areas related to these disciplines is especially encouraged. Support is also provided for state-of-the-art user facilities in astronomy, physics, and many areas of materials science; science and technology centers; institutes; undergraduate student research; faculty enhancement; curriculum development; instrumentation; laboratory improvement; and for research opportunities for women, minority, and disabled scientists and engineers.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

Proposals received by NSF are assigned to the appropriate NSF program where they will be reviewed if they meet NSF proposals preparation requirements. All proposals are carefully reviewed by a scientist, engineer, or educator serving as an NSF Program Officer, and usually by three to ten other persons outside NSF who are experts in the particular fields represented by the proposal. These reviewers are selected by Program Officers charged with the oversight of the review process. Proposers are invited to suggest names of persons they believe are especially well qualified to review the proposal and/or persons they would prefer not review the proposal. These suggestions may serve as one source in the reviewer selection process at the Program Officers discretion. Submission of such names, however, is optional. Care is taken to ensure that reviewers have no conflicts of interest with the proposal. All NSF proposals are evaluated through use of the two National Science Board (NSB)-approved merit review criteria: intellectual merit and the broader impacts of the proposed effort. In some instances, however, NSF will employ additional criteria as required to highlight the specific objectives of certain programs and activities. The two NSB-approved merit review criteria are listed below. The criteria include considerations that help define them. These considerations are suggestions and not all will apply to any given proposal. While proposers must address both merit review criteria, reviewers will be asked to address only those considerations that are relevant to the proposals being considered and for which the reviewer is qualified to make judgments. Relevant questions are: (1) What is the intellectual merit of the proposed activity?; (2) How important is the proposed activity to advancing knowledge and understanding within its own field or across different fields?; (3) How well qualified is the proposer (individual or team) to conduct the project? (If appropriate, the reviewer will comment on the quality of the prior work.); (4) To what extent does the proposed activity suggest and explore creative, original, or potentially transformative concepts?; (5) How well conceived and organized is the proposed activity?; (6) Is the sufficient access to resources?; (7) What are the broader impacts of the proposed activity?; (8) How well does the activity advance discovery and understanding while promoting teaching, training, and learning?; (9) How well does the proposed activity broaden the participation of underrepresented groups (e.g., gender, ethnicity, disability, geographic, etc.)?; (10) To what extent will it enhance the infrastructure for research and education, such as facilities, instrumentation, networks, and partnerships?; (11) Will the results be disseminated broadly to enhance scientific and technological understanding?; and (12) What may be the benefits of the proposed activity to society? NSF staff will give careful consideration to the following in making funding decisions: Integration of Research and Education One of the principal strategies in support of NSF's goals is to foster integration of research and education through the programs, projects, and activities it supports at academic and research institutions. These institutions provide abundant opportunities where individuals may concurrently assume responsibilities as researchers, educators, and students and where all can engage in joint efforts that infuse education with the excitement of discovery and enrich research through the diversity of learning perspectives. Integrating Diversity into NSF Programs, Projects, and Activities Broadening opportunities and enabling the participation of all citizens women and men, underrepresented minorities, and persons with disabilities is essential to health and vitality of science and engineering. NSF is committed to this principle of diversity and deems it central to the programs, projects, and activities it considers and supports.

(GEO),

FEDERAL AGENCY:

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

AUTHORIZATION:

National Science Foundation Act of 1950, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 1861 et seq.

OBJECTIVES:

To strengthen and enhance the national scientific enterprise through the expansion of fundamental knowledge and increased understanding of the integrated Earth system through the support of basic research in the atmospheric, earth, and ocean sciences. Objectives include the discovery of new knowledge of the atmosphere from the sun to the Earth's surface over the entire spectrum of physical and chemical phenomena; a better understanding of the physical, chemical, and biological character of the Earth and the processes that govern its evolution; increased insight into the world's oceans, their composition, structure, behavior, and tectonics. Support is also provided for undergraduate student research, graduate and postdoctoral fellowships, facility enhancement, instrumentation, and laboratory equipment; and for research opportunities for women, minority, and disabled scientists and engineers.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Grant funds may be used for paying costs necessary to conduct research or studies such as salaries and wages, permanent equipment and supplies, computer services, travel, publication costs, and other direct and indirect costs. Primary responsibility for general supervision of all grant activities rests with the grantee institution; the principal investigator is responsible for the scientific work. Funds may not be used for purposes other than those specified in the proposal.

Applicant Eligibility:

Federal; State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Individual/Family; Specialized group (e.g. health professionals, students, veterans); Small business (less than 500 employees); Profit organization; Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); State; Native American Organizations (includes Indian groups, cooperatives, corporations, partnerships, associations); Except where a program solicitation establishes more restrictive eligibility criteria, individuals and organizations in the following categories may submit proposals: Universities and colleges; Non-profit, non-academic organizations; For-profit organizations; State and local governments; and unaffiliated individuals. See the NSF Grant Proposal Guide, Chapter I.E., for a full description of eligibility requirements:

http://www.nsf.gov/publications/pub_summ.jsp?ods_key=gpg

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Federal; Profit organization; Private nonprofit institution/organization; Scientist/Researchers; State; Local; Public nonprofit institution/organization; Other public institution/organization; Not applicable

Credentials/Documentation:

Proposals must be signed electronically by an official authorized to commit the institution or organization in business and financial affairs and who can commit the organization to certain proposal certifications. Costs will be determined in accordance with OMB Circular Nos. A-21 (2 CFR Part 220) for educational institutions, No. A-87 (2 CFR Part 225) for State and local governments, and A-122 (2 CFR Part 230) for nonprofit organizations. Applicants for fellowship support must show evidence of ability such as academic records, letters of recommendation, graduate record examination scores, and grade point average. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. An environmental impact statement is required for this listing. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review. Award Procedure:

NSF staff members review and evaluate all proposals based on a set of criteria established by the National Science Board and, if applicable, solicitation-specific review criteria. In most cases reviews are undertaken with the advice of scientist, engineers, educators, and other appropriate persons who are specialist in the fields covered by the proposals. NSF makes awards on a competitive basis. Notification of an award is transmitted electronically to the submitting organization by a NSF Grants and Agreements Officer in the Division of Grants and Agreements.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Not Applicable. After scientific, technical and programmatic review and consideration of appropriate factors, the NSF Program Officer recommends to the cognizant Division Director whether the proposal should be declined or recommended for award. NSF is striving to be able to tell applicants whether their proposals have been declined or recommended for funding within six months. The time interval begins on the deadline or target date, or receipt date, whichever is later. The interval ends when the Division Director accepts the Program Officer's recommendation.

Appeals:

Not Applicable. The principal investigator may request, in writing, within 90 days of a declination or return, that NSF reconsider its action in declining or returning any proposal or application.

Renewals:

Not Applicable. A renewal proposal competes with all other proposals and must be developed fully as though the proposer is applying for the first time. Renewal proposals must be submitted at least six months before additional funding is required or consistent with an established deadline, target date or submission window. Principal investigators are encouraged to discuss renewal proposals with the NSF Program Officer prior to submission

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory formula is not applicable to this assistance listing. Matching requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing. MOE requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Award duration up to 5 years. Method of awarding assistance: Standard or continuing grant, fellowship, or cooperative agreement. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: letter

Reports:

Unless otherwise specified in the award, Annual Project Reports should be submitted at least 90 days prior to the end of the current budget period. Within 90 days following the expiration of the award, a Final Project Report and a Project Outcomes Report for the General Public must be submitted. Grantees are required to report the status of funds received from NSF on a quarterly basis through the submission of a Federal Financial Report (FFR). Information about reporting requirements is contained in the Award and Administration Guide: http://www.nsf.gov/publications/pub_summ.jsp?ods_key=aag Grantees are required to report the status of funds received from NSF on a quarterly basis through the submission of a Federal Financial Report (FFR). Information about reporting requirements is contained in the Award and Administration Guide: http://www.nsf.gov/publications/pub_summ.jsp?ods_key=aag.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503 Contact NSF for additional information

A flowchart that depicts the entire NSF proposal and award process (and associated timeline) is included as GPG Exhibit III-1.A comprehensive description of the Foundations merit review process is available on the NSF website at: <http://www.nsf.gov/bfa/dias/policy/meritreview/>. Proposal review is one step in the NSF program planning and implementation process. Embedded in this process are core strategies that are fundamental to the fulfillment of NSF's mission. More information about NSF's mission and strategies can be found in Empowering the Nation Through Discovery and Innovation: NSF Strategic Plan for Fiscal Years (FY) 2011-2016. NSF's mission is particularly well-implemented through the integration of research and education and broadening participation in NSF programs, projects, and activities.A. Merit Review Principles and Criteria The National Science Foundation strives to invest in a robust and diverse portfolio of projects that creates new knowledge and enables breakthroughs in understanding across all areas of science and engineering research and education. To identify which projects to support, NSF relies on a merit review process that incorporates consideration of both the technical aspects of a proposed project and its potential to contribute more broadly to advancing NSF's mission to promote the progress of science; to advance the national health, prosperity, and welfare; to secure the national defense; and for other purposes. NSF makes every effort to conduct a fair, competitive, transparent merit review process for the selection of projects.1. Merit Review PrinciplesThese principles are to be given due diligence by PIs and organizations when preparing proposals and managing projects, by reviewers when reading and evaluating proposals, and by NSF program staff when determining whether or not to recommend proposals for funding and while overseeing awards. Given that NSF is the primary federal agency charged with nurturing and supporting excellence in basic research and education, the following three principles apply:All NSF projects should be of the highest quality and have the potential to advance, if not transform, the frontiers of knowledge.NSF projects, in the aggregate, should contribute more broadly to achieving societal goals. These broader impacts may be accomplished through the research itself, through activities that are directly related to specific research projects, or through activities that are supported by, but are complementary to, the project. The project activities may be based on previously established and/or innovative methods and approaches, but in either case must be well justified. Meaningful assessment and evaluation of NSF funded projects should be based on appropriate metrics, keeping in mind the likely correlation between the effect of broader impacts and the resources provided to implement projects. If the size of the activity is limited, evaluation of that activity in isolation is not likely to be meaningful. Thus, assessing the effectiveness of these activities may best be done at a higher, more aggregated, level than the individual project.With respect to the third principle, even if assessment of Broader Impacts outcomes for particular projects is done at an aggregated level, PIs are expected to be accountable for carrying out the activities described in the funded project. Thus, individual projects should include clearly stated goals, specific descriptions of the activities that the PI intends to do, and a plan in place to document the outputs of those activities. These three merit review principles provide the basis for the merit review criteria, as well as a context within which the users of the criteria can better understand their intent. 2. Merit Review CriteriaAll NSF proposals are evaluated through use of two National Science Board approved merit review criteria. In some instances, however, NSF will employ additional criteria as required to highlight the specific objectives of certain programs and activities.The two merit review criteria are listed below. Both criteria are to be given full consideration during the review and decision-making processes; each criterion is necessary but neither, by itself, is sufficient. Therefore, proposers must fully address both criteria. (GPG Chapter II.C.2.d.(i) contains additional information for use by proposers in development of the Project Description section of the proposal.) Reviewers are strongly encouraged to review the criteria, including GPG Chapter II.C.2.d.(i), prior to the review of a proposal. When evaluating NSF proposals, reviewers will be asked to consider what the proposers want to do, why they want to do it, how they plan to do it, how they will know if they succeed, and what benefits could accrue if the project is successful. These issues apply both to the technical aspects of the proposal and the way in which the project may make broader contributions. To that end, reviewers will be asked to evaluate all proposals against two criteria: Intellectual Merit: The Intellectual Merit criterion encompasses the potential to advance knowledge; andBroader Impacts: The Broader Impacts criterion encompasses the potential to benefit society and contribute to the achievement of specific, desired societal outcomes. The following elements should be considered in the review for both criteria: 1. What is the potential for the proposed activity to: a. Advance knowledge and understanding within its own field or across different fields (Intellectual Merit); and b. Benefit society or advance desired societal outcomes (Broader Impacts)?2. To what extent do the proposed activities suggest and explore creative, original, or potentially transformative concepts?3. Is the plan for carrying out the proposed activities well-reasoned, well-organized, and based on a sound rationale? Does the plan incorporate a mechanism to assess success? 4. How well qualified is the individual, team, or organization to conduct the proposed activities?5. Are there adequate resources available to the PI (either at the home organization or through collaborations) to carry out the proposed activities?

Merit Review CriteriaAll NSF proposals are evaluated through use of two National Science Board approved merit review criteria. In some instances, however, NSF will employ additional criteria as required to highlight the specific objectives of certain programs and activities.The two merit review criteria are listed below. Both criteria are to be given full consideration during the review and decision-making processes; each criterion is necessary but neither, by itself, is sufficient. Therefore, proposers must fully address both criteria. (GPG Chapter II.C.2.d.(i) contains additional information for use by proposers in development of the Project Description section of the proposal.) Reviewers are strongly encouraged to review the criteria, including GPG Chapter II.C.2.d.(i), prior to the review of a proposal. When evaluating NSF proposals, reviewers will be asked to consider what the proposers want to do, why they want to do it, how they plan to do it, how they will know if they succeed, and what benefits could accrue if the project is successful. These issues apply both to the technical aspects of the proposal and the way in which the project may make broader contributions. To that end, reviewers will be asked to evaluate all proposals against two criteria: Intellectual Merit: The Intellectual Merit criterion encompasses the potential to advance knowledge; andBroader Impacts: The Broader Impacts criterion encompasses the potential to benefit society and contribute to the achievement of specific, desired societal outcomes. The following elements should be considered in the review for both criteria: 1. What is the potential for the proposed activity to: a. Advance knowledge and understanding within its own field or across different fields (Intellectual Merit); and b. Benefit society or advance desired societal outcomes (Broader Impacts)?2. To what extent do the proposed activities suggest and explore creative, original, or potentially transformative concepts?3. Is the plan for carrying out the proposed activities well-reasoned, well-organized, and based on a sound rationale? Does the plan incorporate a mechanism to assess success? 4. How well qualified is the individual, team, or organization to conduct the proposed activities?5. Are there adequate resources available to the PI (either at the home organization or through collaborations) to carry out the proposed activities?

47.074 Biological Sciences

(BIO),

FEDERAL AGENCY:

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

AUTHORIZATION:

National Science Foundation Act of 1950, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 1861 et seq.

OBJECTIVES:

To promote the progress of the biological sciences and thereby strengthen the Nation's scientific enterprise; to increase scientific knowledge and enhance understanding of major problems confronting the Nation. Most of the research supported is basic in character. The program includes support of research project grants in the following disciplines: molecular and cellular biosciences; integrative organismal biology; environmental biology; and biological infrastructure. Support is also provided for the purchase of multi-user scientific equipment and instrument development, and for research workshops, symposia, and conferences. In addition, awards are made to support graduate student research across biological sciences, postdoctoral fellowships in research, and postdoctoral fellowships to scientists of groups under-represented in all areas of research supported by the biological sciences.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Grant funds may be used for paying costs necessary to conduct research or studies such as salaries and wages, permanent equipment, expendable materials and supplies, travel, publication costs, and other direct and indirect costs. Primary responsibility for general supervision of all grant activities rests with the grantee institution; the principal investigator is responsible for the scientific work. Funds may not be used for purposes other than those specified in the proposal.

Applicant Eligibility:

Federal; Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Specialized group (e.g. health professionals, students, veterans); Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Quasi-public nonprofit institution/organization; State; Except where a program solicitation establishes more restrictive eligibility criteria, individuals and organizations in the following categories may submit proposals: Universities and colleges; Non-profit, non-academic organizations; For-profit organizations; State and local governments; and unaffiliated individuals. See the NSF Grant Proposal Guide, Chapter I.E., for a full description of eligibility requirements: <http://www.nsf.gov/publications/pubsumm.jsp?ods key=gpg>.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Federal; Specialized group (e.g. health professionals, students, veterans); Small business; Private nonprofit institution/organization; Native American Organizations; State; Local; Not applicable.

Credentials/Documentation:

Proposals must be signed electronically by an official authorized to commit the institution or organization in business and financial affairs and who can commit the organization to certain proposal certifications. Costs will be determined in accordance with OMB Circular Nos. A-21 (2 CFR Part 220) for educational institutions, No. A-87 (2 CFR Part 225) for State and local governments, and A-122 (2 CFR Part 230) for nonprofit organizations. Applicants for fellowship support must show evidence of ability such as academic records, letters of recommendation, graduate record examination scores, and grade point average. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review. ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. By electronic submission via FastLane or Grants.gov of a formal proposal, and in some programs, a preliminary proposal, describing the planned project and the proposed amount of the grant. For guidelines, see specific funding opportunities and the Grant Proposal Guide: <http://www.nsf.gov/publications/pubsumm.jsp?odskey=gpg>

Award Procedure:

NSF staff members review and evaluate all proposals based on a set of criteria established by the National Science Board and, if applicable, solicitation-specific review criteria. In most cases reviews are undertaken with the advice of scientists, engineers, educators, and other appropriate persons who are specialists in the fields covered by the proposals. NSF makes awards on a competitive basis. Notification of an award is transmitted electronically to the submitting organization by a NSF Grants and Agreements Officer in the Division of Grants and Agreements.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Not Applicable. After scientific, technical and programmatic review and consideration of appropriate factors, the NSF Program Officer recommends to the cognizant Division Director whether the proposal should be declined or recommended for award. NSF is striving to be able to tell applicants whether the proposals have been declined or recommended for funding within six months. The time interval begins on the deadline or target date, or receipt date, whichever is later. The interval ends when the Division Director accepts the Program Officer's recommendation.

Appeals:

Not Applicable. The principal investigator may request, in writing, within 90 days of a declination or return, that NSF reconsider its action in declining or returning any proposal application.

Renewals:

Not Applicable. A renewal proposal competes with all other proposals and must be developed fully as though the proposer is applying for the first time. Renewal proposals must be submitted at least six months before additional funding is required or consistent with an established deadline, target date or submission window. Principal investigators are encouraged to discuss renewal proposals with the NSF Program Officer prior to submission.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory formula is not applicable to this assistance listing. Matching requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing. MOE requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Award durations of up to 5 years. Method of awarding assistance Standard or continuing grant, fellowship, or cooperative agreement. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: lump sum.

Reports:

Annual Project Reports should be submitted at least 90 days prior to the end of the current budget period. Within 90 days following the expiration of the award, a Final Project Report and a Project Outcomes Report for the General Public must be submitted. Grantees are required to report the status of funds received from NSF on a quarterly basis through the submission of a Federal Financial Report (FRR). Information about reporting requirements is contained in the Award and Administration Guide: <http://www.nsf.gov/publications/pubsumm.jsp?odskey=aag>.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503 contact NSF for additional information

Records:

Records, supporting documents, statistical records, and other records pertinent to a grant must be retained by the grantee for a period of 3 years from submission of the Final Project Report. Special record keeping requirements may apply to fellowships.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

Proposals received by NSF are assigned to the appropriate NSF program where they will be reviewed if they meet NSF proposals preparation requirements. All proposals are carefully reviewed by a scientist, engineer, or educator serving as an NSF Program Officer, and usually by three to ten other persons outside NSF who are experts in the particular fields represented by the proposal. These reviewers are selected by Program Officers charged with the oversight of the review process. Proposers are invited to suggest names of persons they believe are especially well qualified to review the proposal and/or persons they would prefer not review the proposal. These suggestions may serve as one source in the reviewer selection process at the Program Officers discretion. Submission of such names, however, is optional. Care is taken to ensure that reviewers have no conflicts of interest with the proposal. All NSF proposals are evaluated through use of the two National Science Board (NSB)-approved merit review criteria: intellectual merit and the broader impacts of the proposed effort. In some instances, however, NSF will employ additional criteria as required to highlight the specific objectives of certain programs and activities. The two NSB-approved merit review criteria are listed below. The criteria include considerations that help define them. These considerations are suggestions and not all will apply to any given proposal. While proposers must address both merit review criteria, reviewers will be asked to address only those considerations that are relevant to the proposals being considered and for which the reviewer is qualified to make judgments. Relevant questions are: (1) What is the intellectual merit of the proposed activity?; (2) How important is the proposed activity to advancing knowledge and understanding within its own field or across different fields?; (3) How well qualified is the proposer (individual or team) to conduct the project? (If appropriate, the reviewer will comment on the quality of the prior work.); (4) To what extent does the proposed activity suggest and explore creative, original, or potentially transformative concepts; (5) How well conceived and organized is the proposed activity?; (6) Is the sufficient access to resources?; (7) What are the broader impacts of the proposed activity?; (8) How well does the activity advance discovery and understanding while promoting teaching, training, and learning?; (9) How well does the proposed activity broaden the participation of underrepresented groups (e.g., gender, ethnicity, disability, geographic, etc.)?; (10) To what extent will it enhance the infrastructure for research and education, such as facilities, instrumentation, networks, and partnerships?; (11) Will the results be disseminated broadly to enhance scientific and technological understanding?; and (12) What may be the benefits of the proposed activity to society? NSF staff will give careful consideration to the following in making funding decisions: Integration of Research and Education One of the principal strategies in support of NSF's goals is to foster integration of research and education through the programs, projects, and activities it supports at academic and research institutions. These institutions provide abundant opportunities where individuals may concurrently assume responsibilities as researchers, educators, and students and where all can engage in joint efforts that infuse education with the excitement of discovery and enrich research through the diversity of learning perspectives. Integrating Diversity into NSF Programs, Projects, and Activities Broadening opportunities and enabling the participation of all citizens women and men, underrepresented minorities, and persons with disabilities is essential to health and vitality of science and engineering. NSF is committed to this principle of diversity and deems it central to the programs, projects, and activities it considers and supports.

FEDERAL AGENCY:

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

AUTHORIZATION:

National Science Foundation Act of 1950, as amended, 42 U.S.C 1861 et seq.

OBJECTIVES:

To contribute to the scientific strength and welfare of the Nation through the promotion of basic research and education in the social, behavioral and economic sciences and through monitoring and understanding the resources invested in science and engineering in the United States. Supported activities include research and education in the following disciplines: Anthropological and geographic sciences; cognitive, psychological, learning, developmental, and language sciences; economics, decision risk and management sciences; sociology, political sciences; innovation and organizational change, measurement methods and statistics, law and social science and science and society. Other SBE grants build infrastructure, and develop methods, support center-scale investments, and fund research workshops, symposia, and conferences. Educational activities include awards to improve the quality of doctoral dissertations in the behavioral and social sciences; grants for graduate traineeships and postdoctoral fellowships; and grants to promote K-12 education in the SBE sciences. Support is also provided for junior faculty and mid-career development opportunities, undergraduate student research, and for research opportunities for women, minorities, and the differentially abled. The Directorate also funds science studies; studies of scientists and engineers, R&D funding and expenditures, and educational attainment in science, mathematics and engineering.

(EHR),

FEDERAL AGENCY:

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

AUTHORIZATION:

National Science Foundation Act of 1950, as amended, 42 U.S.C 1861 et seq.

OBJECTIVES:

To provide leadership and ensure the vitality of the Nation's science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM) education enterprise. The Education and Human Resources (EHR) component of the National Science Foundation sponsors programs that support the development of models and strategies for providing all students with access to high-quality STEM education, and research about those models and strategies. In addition EHR supports scholarships and fellowships for STEM students. The portfolio of EHR programs in STEM education comprises efforts spanning pre-K to 12, undergraduate, graduate and post-doctoral levels, as well as informal education and life-long learning. Long-term goals include: supporting infrastructure and institutional capacity building that will enable development of high-quality educational experiences for all students; ensuring that our educational pathways yield an adequately educated and diverse corps of individuals for the highly technical workplace, the professional STEM community, and society; developing a cadre of professionally educated and well-trained teachers and faculty; and providing the research necessary to inform and improve educational practice. Many EHR programs are conducted in partnership with NSF's other directorates. Programs include research and development support for improving STEM learning and learning environments, including learning technologies, both in formal and informal learning settings; STEM workforce development, including the development of teachers; and broadening participation. EHR programs are subject to continuous improvements based on program reviews, evaluation, dissemination of best practices, and educational research.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Grant funds may be used for costs necessary to conduct research, educational activities or studies, including salaries and expenses, permanent equipment, expendable materials and supplies, travel, publication costs, and other direct and indirect costs. Some programs provide funds for undergraduate scholarships managed by the awardee institution. Primary responsibility for general supervision of all grant activities rests with the grantee institution. Funds may not be used for purposes other than those specified in the award. Graduate fellowships provide for stipends and allowances to be paid to the awardee through his/her institution; a fixed cost-of-education allowance is paid directly to the institution.

Applicant Eligibility:

Federal; Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Other public institution/organization; U.S. Territories and possessions (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Specialized group (e.g. health professionals, students, veterans); Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Quasi-public nonprofit institution/organization; Other private institutions/organizations; State; Except where a program solicitation establishes more restrictive eligibility criteria, individuals and organizations in the following categories may submit proposals: Universities and colleges; Non-profit, non-academic organizations; For-profit organizations; State and local governments; and unaffiliated individuals. Reports:

Unless otherwise specified in the award, Annual Project Reports should be submitted at least 90 days prior to the end of the current budget period. Within 90 days following the expiration of the award, a Final Project Report and a Project Outcomes Report for the General Public must be submitted. Grantees are required to report the status of funds received from NSF on a quarterly basis through the submission of a Federal Financial Report (FFR). Information about reporting

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

Proposals received by NSF are assigned to the appropriate NSF program where they will be reviewed if they meet NSF proposals preparation requirements. All proposals are carefully reviewed by a scientist, engineer, or educator serving as an NSF Program Officer, and usually by three to ten other persons outside NSF who are experts in the particular fields represented by the proposal. These reviewers are selected by Program Officers charged with the oversight of the review process. Proposers are invited to suggest names of persons they believe are especially well qualified to review the proposal and/or persons they would prefer not review the proposal. These suggestions may serve as one source in the reviewer selection process at the Program Officers discretion. Submission of such names, however, is optional. Care is taken to ensure that reviewers have no conflicts of interest with the proposal. All NSF proposals are evaluated through use of the two National Science Board (NSB)-approved merit review criteria: intellectual merit and the broader impacts of the proposed effort. In some instances, however, NSF will employ additional criteria as required to highlight the specific objectives of certain programs and activities. The two NSB-approved merit review criteria are listed below. The criteria include considerations that help define them. These considerations are suggestions and not all will apply to any given proposal. While proposers must address both merit review criteria, reviewers will be asked to address only those considerations that are relevant to the proposals being considered and for which the reviewer is qualified to make judgments. Relevant questions are: (1) What is the intellectual merit of the proposed activity?; (2) How important is the proposed activity to advancing knowledge and understanding within its own field or across different fields?; (3) How well qualified is the proposer (individual or team) to conduct the project? (If appropriate, the reviewer will comment on the quality of the prior work.); (4) To what extent does the proposed activity suggest and explore creative, original, or potentially transformative concepts?; (5) How well conceived and organized is the proposed activity?; (6) Is the sufficient access to resources?; (7) What are the broader impacts of the proposed activity?; (8) How well does the activity advance discovery and understanding while promoting teaching, training, and learning?; (9) How well does the proposed activity broaden the participation of underrepresented groups (e.g., gender, ethnicity, disability, geographic, etc.)?; (10) To what extent will it enhance the infrastructure for research and education, such as facilities, instrumentation, networks, and partnerships?; (11) Will the results be disseminated broadly to enhance scientific and technological understanding?; and (12) What may be the benefits of the proposed activity to society?NSF staff will give careful consideration to the following in making funding decisions: Integration of Research and Education One of the principal strategies in support of NSF's goals is to foster integration of research and education through the programs, projects, and activities it supports at academic and research institutions. These institutions provide abundant opportunities where individuals may concurrently assume responsibilities as researchers, educators, and students and where all can engage in joint efforts that infuse education with the excitement of discovery and enrich research through the diversity of learning perspectives. Integrating Diversity into NSF Programs, Projects, and Activities Broadening opportunities and enabling the participation of all citizens women and men, underrepresented minorities, and persons with disabilities is essential to health and vitality of science and engineering. NSF is committed to this principle of diversity and deems it central to the programs, projects, and activities it considers and supports.

47.078 Polar Programs

(OPP).

FEDERAL AGENCY:

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

AUTHORIZATION:

National Science Foundation Act of 1950, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 1861 et seq.

OBJECTIVES:

To strengthen and enhance the national scientific enterprise through the expansion of fundamental knowledge and increased understanding of the polar regions. To encourage and support basic research that is best conducted in or can only be conducted in the Arctic and Antarctic. Research areas include solid earth, glacial and sea ice, terrestrial ecosystems, the oceans, the atmosphere, geospace science, astronomy and astrophysics, social science, and beyond. Major objectives include understanding of the natural phenomena and processes in the Antarctic and Arctic regions and their role in global systems. To provide postdoctoral fellowships for the development and training of new investigators in polar regions research with goals to support innovative research in emerging areas, encourage interdisciplinary research, foster activities that create broader impacts for science and society, and to increase the participation of underrepresented groups. Support is also provided for science and technology centers, undergraduate student research, facility enhancement, instrumentation, laboratory equipment; and for research opportunities for women, minority, and disabled scientists and engineers.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Grant funds may be used for paying costs necessary to conduct research or studies such as salaries and wages, permanent equipment and supplies, computer services, travel, publication costs, and other direct and indirect costs. Primary responsibility for general supervision of all grant activities rests with the grantee institution; the principal investigator is responsible for the scientific work. Funds may not be used for purposes other than those specified in the proposal.

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

Applicant Eligibility:

Federal; Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals; Other public institution/organization; Profit organization; Other private institutions/organizations; State; Except where a program solicitation establishes more restrictive eligibility criteria, individuals and organizations in the following categories may submit proposals: Universities and colleges; Non-profit, non-academic organizations; For-profit organizations; State and local governments; and unaffiliated individuals. See the NSF Grant Proposal Guide Chapter I.E. for a full description of eligibility requirements:

<http://www.nsf.gov/publications/pubsumm.jsp?odskey=gpg>.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Federal; Profit organization; Other private institution/organization; State; Local; Other public institution/organization; Not applicable

Credentials/Documentation:

Proposals must be signed electronically by an official authorized to commit the institution or organization in business and financial affairs and who can commit the organization to certain proposal certifications. Costs will be determined in accordance with OMB Circular No. A-21 (2 CFR Part 220) for educational institutions, No. A-87 (2 CFR Part 225) for State and local governments, and A-122 (2 CFR Part 230) for nonprofit organizations. Applicants for fellowship support must show evidence of ability such as academic records, letters of recommendation, graduate record examination scores, and grade point average. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review. Preapplication coordination may be required. Environmental impact information may be required for this program.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. By electronic submission via FastLane or Grants.gov of a formal proposal, and in some programs, a preliminary proposal, describing the planned project and the proposed amount of the grant. For guidelines, see specific funding opportunities and the Grant Proposal Guide: <http://www.nsf.gov/publications/pubsumm.jsp?odskey=gpg>.

Award Procedure:

NSF staff members review and evaluate all proposals based on a set of criteria established by the National Science Board and, if applicable, solicitation-specific reviews criteria. In most cases review is undertaken with the advice of scientist, engineers, educators and other appropriate persons who are specialist in the fields covered by the proposals. NSF makes awards on a competitive basis. Notification of an award is transmitted electronically to the submitting organization by a NSF Grants and Agreements Officer in the Division of Grants and Agreements.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Not Applicable. After scientific, technical and programmatic review and consideration of appropriate factors, the NSF Program Officer recommends to the cognizant Division Director whether the proposal should be declined or recommended for award. NSF is striving to be able to tell applicants whether their proposals have been declined or recommended funding within six months. The time interval begins on the deadline or target date, or receipt date, whichever is later. The interval ends when the Division Director accepts the Program Officer's recommendation.

Appeals:

Not Applicable. The principal investigator may request, in writing, within 90 days of a declination or return, that NSF reconsider its action in declining or returning any proposal application.

Renewals:

Not Applicable. A renewal proposal competes with all other proposals and must be developed fully as though the proposer is applying for the first time. Renewal proposals must be submitted at least six months before additional funding is required or consistent with an established deadline, target date or submission window. Principal investigators are encouraged to discuss renewal proposals with the NSF Program Officer prior to submission.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory formula is not applicable to this assistance listing. Matching requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing. MOE requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing.

(OISE).

FEDERAL AGENCY:

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

AUTHORIZATION:

National Science Foundation Act of 1950, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 1861 et seq.

OBJECTIVES:

To enable the U.S. to maintain its leadership within the global scientific community by strengthening international partnerships to advance scientific discovery and contribute to the scientific strength and welfare of the Nation; to promote research excellence through international collaboration; to develop a diverse, globally engaged U.S. science and engineering workforce by providing U.S. students and faculty with international research and education experiences. The research supported is basic in character. OISE programs includes support of international research and education projects that are innovative and catalytic. OISE programs complement and enhance the Foundation's research and education portfolio to overcome barriers involved in international collaboration. Grants are made in all the disciplinary fields supported by NSF. Support is provided for international collaborative research; research workshops and planning visits; activities that will develop the next generation of U.S. scientists and engineers such as graduate traineeships, postdoctoral fellowships, special opportunities for junior faculty for research support, and dissertation enhancements; and for U.S. Government support to key multilateral organizations. Support is provided for undergraduate student international research and education experiences, and for research opportunities for women, minorities, and disabled scientists and engineers.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

A flowchart that depicts the entire NSF proposal and award process (and associated timeline) is included as GPG Exhibit III-1. A comprehensive description of the Foundations merit review process is available on the NSF website at: <http://www.nsf.gov/bfa/dias/policy/meritreview/>. Proposal review is one step in the

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

NSF program planning and implementation process. Embedded in this process are core strategies that are fundamental to the fulfillment of NSF's mission. More information about NSF's mission and strategies can be found in Empowering the Nation Through Discovery and Innovation: NSF Strategic Plan for Fiscal Years (FY) 2011-2016. NSF's mission is particularly well-implemented through the integration of research and education and broadening participation in NSF programs, projects, and activities. A. Merit Review Principles and Criteria; The National Science Foundation strives to invest in a robust and diverse portfolio of projects that creates new knowledge and enables breakthroughs in understanding across all areas of science and engineering research and education. To identify which projects to support, NSF relies on a merit review process that incorporates consideration of both the technical aspects of a proposed project and its potential to contribute more broadly to advancing NSF's mission to promote the progress of science; to advance the national health, prosperity, and welfare; to secure the national defense; and for other purposes. NSF makes every effort to conduct a fair, competitive, transparent merit review process for the selection of projects. 1. Merit Review Principles; These principles are to be given due diligence by PIs and organizations when preparing proposals and managing projects, by reviewers when reading and evaluating proposals, and by NSF program staff when determining whether or not to recommend proposals for funding and while overseeing awards. Given that NSF is the primary federal agency charged with nurturing and supporting excellence in basic research and education, the following three principles apply: All NSF projects should be of the highest quality and have the potential to advance, if not transform, the frontiers of knowledge. NSF projects, in the aggregate, should contribute more broadly to achieving societal goals. These broader impacts may be accomplished through the research itself, through activities that are directly related to specific research projects, or through activities that are supported by, but are complementary to, the project. The project activities may be based on previously established and/or innovative methods and approaches, but in either case must be well justified. Meaningful assessment and evaluation of NSF funded projects should be based on appropriate metrics, keeping in mind the likely correlation between the effect of broader impacts and the resources provided to implement projects. If the size of the activity is limited, evaluation of that activity in isolation is not likely to be meaningful. Thus, assessing the effectiveness of these activities may best be done at a higher, more aggregated, level than the individual project. With respect to the third principle, even if assessment of Broader Impacts outcomes for particular projects is done at an aggregated level, PIs are expected to be accountable for carrying out the activities described in the funded project. Thus, individual projects should include clearly stated goals, specific descriptions of the activities that the PI intends to do, and a plan in place to document the outputs of those activities. These three merit review principles provide the basis for the merit review criteria, as well as a context within which the users of the criteria can better understand their intent. 2. Merit Review Criteria. All NSF proposals are evaluated through use of two National Science Board approved merit review criteria. In some instances, however, NSF will employ additional criteria as required to highlight the specific objectives of certain programs and activities. The two merit review criteria are listed below. Both criteria are to be given full consideration during the review and decision-making processes; each criterion is necessary but neither, by itself, is sufficient. Therefore, proposers must fully address both criteria. (GPG Chapter II.C.2.d.(i) contains additional information for use by proposers in development of the Project Description section of the proposal.) Reviewers are strongly encouraged to review the criteria, including GPG Chapter II.C.2.d.(i), prior to the review of a proposal. When evaluating NSF proposals, reviewers will be asked to consider what the proposers want to do, why they want to do it, how they plan to do it, how they will know if they succeed, and what benefits could accrue if the project is successful. These issues apply both to the technical aspects of the proposal and the way in which the project may make broader contributions. To that end, reviewers will be asked to evaluate all proposals against two criteria: Intellectual Merit: The Intellectual Merit criterion encompasses the potential to advance knowledge; and Broader Impacts: The Broader Impacts criterion encompasses the potential to benefit society and contribute to the achievement of specific, desired societal outcomes. The following elements should be considered in the review for both criteria: 1. What is the potential for the proposed activity to: a. Advance knowledge and understanding within its own field or across different fields (Intellectual Merit); and b. Benefit society or advance desired societal outcomes (Broader Impacts)? 2. To what extent do the proposed activities suggest and explore creative, original, or potentially transformative concepts? 3. Is the plan for carrying out the proposed activities well-reasoned, well-organized, and based on a sound rationale? Does the plan incorporate a mechanism to assess success? 4. How well qualified is the individual, team, or organization to conduct the proposed activities? 5. Are there adequate resources available to the PI (either at the home organization or through collaborations) to carry out the proposed activities?

47.080 Office of Cyberinfrastructure

(OCI).

FEDERAL AGENCY:

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

AUTHORIZATION:

National Science Foundation Act of 1950, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 1861 et seq.

OBJECTIVES:

Due to an NSF realignment, activities funded by the Office of Cyber-Infrastructure program are reported within the Computer and Information Science Engineering, CFDA number 47.070, effective 05/20/2013

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Grant funds may be used to pay costs of conducting research, product development, resources, tools and services, as salaries and wages, equipment and supplies, travel, publication costs, other direct costs, and indirect costs. Primary responsibility for general supervision of all grant activities rests with the grantee institution: the principal investigator is responsible for the scientific work. Funds may not be used for purposes other than those specified in the proposal.

Applicant Eligibility:

Federal; Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Small business (less than 500 employees); Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); State; Except where a program solicitation establishes more restrictive eligibility criteria, individuals and organizations in the following categories may submit proposals: Universities and colleges; Non-profit, non-academic organizations; For-profit organizations; State and local governments; and unaffiliated individuals. See the NSF Grant Proposal Guide Chapter I.E. for a full description of eligibility requirements: <http://www.nsf.gov/publications/pubsumm.jsp?odskey=gpg>.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Federal; Small business; Private nonprofit institution/organization; State; Local; Public nonprofit institution/organization; Not applicable.

Credentials/Documentation:

Proposals must be signed electronically by an official authorized to commit the institution or organization in business and financial affairs and who can commit the organization to certain proposal certifications. Costs will be determined in accordance with OMB Circular Nos. A-21 (2 CFR Part 220) for educational institutions, A-87 (2 CFR Part 225) for State and local governments, and A-122 (2 CFR Part 230) for nonprofit organizations. Applicants for fellowship support must show evidence of ability such as academic records, letters of recommendation, graduate record examination scores, and grade point average. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review. Preapplication coordination may be required. Environmental impact information may be required for this program.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. By electronic submission via FastLane or Grants.gov or a formal proposal, and in some programs, a preliminary proposal, describing the planned project and the proposed amount of the grant. For guidelines, see specific funding opportunities and the Grant Proposal Guide: <http://www.nsf.gov/publications/pubsumm.jsp?odskey=ggp>.

Award Procedure:

NSF staff members review and evaluate all proposals based on a set of criteria established by the National Science Board and, if applicable, solicitation-specific review criteria. In most cases reviews are undertaken with the advice of scientist, engineers, educators and other appropriate persons who are specialist in the fields covered by the proposals. NSF makes awards on a competitive basis. Notification of an award is transmitted electronically to the submitting organization by a NSF Grants and Agreements Officer in the Division of Grants and Agreements.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Not Applicable. After scientific, technical and programmatic review and consideration factors, the NSF Program Officer recommends to the cognizant Division Director whether the proposal should be declined or recommended for award. NSF is striving to be able to tell applicants whether their proposals have been declined or recommended for funding within six months. The time interval begins on the deadline or target date, or receipt date, whichever is later. The interval ends when the Division Director accepts the Program Officer's recommendation.

Appeals:

Not Applicable. The principal Investigator may request, in writing, within 90 days of a declination or return, that NSF reconsider its action in declining or returning any proposal application.

Renewals:

Not Applicable. A renewal proposal competes with all other proposals and must be developed fully as though the proposer is applying for the first time. Renewal proposals must be submitted at least six months before additional funding is required or consistent with an established deadline, target date or submission window. Principal investigators are encouraged to discuss renewal proposals with the NSF Program Officer prior to submission.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory formula is not applicable to this assistance listing. Matching requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing. MOE requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Award durations of up to 5 years. Method of awarding assistance: Standard or continuing grant, fellowship, or cooperative agreement. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: lump sum.

Reports:

Annual Project Reports should be submitted at least 90 days prior to the end of the current budget period. Within 90 days following the expiration of the award, a Final Project Report and a Project Outcomes Report for the General Public must be submitted. Grantees are required to report the status of funds received from NSF on a quarterly basis through the submission of a Federal Financial Report (FFR). Information about reporting requirements is contained in the Award and Administration Guide: <http://www.nsf.gov/publications/pubsumm.jsp?odskey=aag>.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503

Records:

Records, supporting documents, statistical records, and other records pertinent to a grant must be retained by the grantee for a period of 3 years from submission of the Final Project Report. Special record keeping requirements may apply to fellowships.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

Proposals received by NSF are assigned to the appropriate NSF program where they will be reviewed if they meet NSF proposals preparation requirements. All proposals are carefully reviewed by a scientist, engineer, or educator serving as an NSF Program Officer, and usually by three to ten other persons outside NSF who are experts in the particular fields represented by the proposal. These reviewers are selected by Program Officers charged with the oversight of the review process.

Proposers are invited to suggest names of persons they believe are especially well qualified to review the proposal and/or persons they would prefer not review the proposal. These suggestions may serve as one source in the reviewer selection process at the Program Officers discretion. Submission of such names, however, is optional. Care is taken to ensure that reviewers have no conflicts of interest with the proposal. All NSF proposals are evaluated through use of the two National Science Board (NSB)-approved merit review criteria: intellectual merit and the broader impacts of the proposed effort. In some instances, however, NSF will employ additional criteria as required to highlight the specific objectives of certain programs and activities. The two NSB-approved merit review criteria are listed below. The criteria include considerations that help define them. These considerations are suggestions and not all will apply to any given proposal. While proposers must address both merit review criteria, reviewers will be asked to address only those considerations that are relevant to the proposals being considered and for which the reviewer is qualified to make judgments. Relevant questions are: (1) What is the intellectual merit of the proposed activity?; (2) How important is the proposed activity to advancing knowledge and understanding within its own field or across different fields?; (3) How well qualified is the proposer (individual or team) to conduct the project? (If appropriate, the reviewer will comment on the quality of the prior work.); (4) To what extent does the proposed activity suggest and explore creative, original, or potentially transformative concepts; (5) How well conceived and organized is the proposed activity?; (6) Is the sufficient access to resources?; (7) What are the broader impacts of the proposed activity?; (8) How well does the activity advance discovery and understanding while promoting teaching, training, and learning?; (9) How well does the proposed activity broaden the participation of underrepresented groups (e.g., gender, ethnicity, disability, geographic, etc.); (10) To what extent will it enhance the infrastructure for research and education, such as facilities, instrumentation, networks, and partnerships?; (11) Will the results be disseminated broadly to enhance scientific and technological understanding?, and (12) What may be the benefits of the proposed activity to society? NSF staff will give careful consideration to the following in making funding decisions: Integration of Research and Education One of the principal strategies in support of NSF's goals is to foster integration of research and education through the programs, projects, and activities it supports at academic and research institutions. These institutions provide abundant opportunities where individuals may concurrently assume responsibilities as researchers, educators, and students and where all can engage in joint efforts that infuse education with the excitement of discovery and enrich research through the diversity of learning perspectives. Integrating Diversity into NSF Programs, Projects, and Activities Broadening opportunities and enabling the participation of all citizens women and men, underrepresented minorities, and persons with disabilities is essential to health and vitality of science and engineering. NSF is committed to this principle of diversity and deems it central to the programs, projects, and activities it considers and supports.

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

47.082 Trans-NSF Recovery Act Research Support

FEDERAL AGENCY:

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

AUTHORIZATION:

American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009, Public Law 111-5 (Recovery Act) in (040) Authorization Section.

OBJECTIVES:

To provide support for projects/initiatives funded under The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (ARRA). These projects will provide economic stimulus to the nation while furthering the NSF mission to promote the progress of science; [and] to advance the national health, prosperity, and welfare by supporting research and education in all fields of science and engineering. The projects/initiatives include support of research grants in the following disciplines; biological sciences; computer and information science and engineering; engineering; geosciences; math and physical sciences; social, behavioral and economic sciences; education and human resources. Basic research in multidisciplinary areas related to these disciplines is especially encouraged. In addition, the program supports basic research in the Arctic and Antarctic and coordinates and supports the acquisition, development and provision of state-of-the-art cyberinfrastructure resources. Support is also provided for state-of-the-art user facilities in the above disciplines; undergraduate student research; faculty enhancement; curriculum development; instrumentation; laboratory improvement; and for research opportunities for women, minority, and disabled scientists and engineers.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Grant funds may be used for paying costs necessary to conduct research or studies, such as salaries and wages, permanent equipment, expendable materials and supplies, travel, participant support; publication costs, and other direct and indirect costs. Primary responsibility for general supervision of all grant activities rests with the grantee institution; the principal investigator is responsible for the scientific work.

Applicant Eligibility:

Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Profit organization; Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Other private institutions/organizations; Anyone/general public; .

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Specialized group (e.g. health professionals, students, veterans); Profit organization; Private nonprofit institution/organization; Quasi-public nonprofit organization; Other private institution/organization; Scientist/Researchers; State; Local; Public nonprofit institution/organization; .

Credentials/Documentation:

Proposals must be signed electronically by an official authorized to commit the institution or organization in business and financial affairs and who can commit the organization to certain proposal certifications. Costs will be determined in accordance with OMB Circular Nos. A-21 for colleges and universities and A-122 for nonprofit organizations. This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is not applicable.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. By electronic submission via FastLane or Grants.gov of a formal proposal describing the research or study to be undertaken. Guidelines are contained in the NSF publication, Grant Proposal Guide, or the NSF Grants.gov Application Guide. Resulting awards are subject to the applicable federal cost principles as referenced, the relevant award conditions, and the provisions specified in the applicable funding opportunity.

Award Procedure:

All applications submitted to NSF are carefully reviewed by a scientist, engineer, or educator serving as an NSF Program Officer, and usually by three to ten other persons outside NSF who are experts in the particular fields represented by the application. Applicants are invited to suggest names of persons they believe are especially well qualified to review the application and/or persons they would prefer not review the application. These suggestions may serve as one source in the reviewer selection process at the Program Officers discretion. Program Officers may obtain comments from assembled review panels or from site visits before recommending final action on applications. Senior NSF staff further review recommendations for awards. A comprehensive description of the Foundations merit review process is available on the NSF website at:

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

From 60 to 90 days. Application deadlines are specified in the ARRA Funding Opportunity.

Appeals:

From 90 to 120 days.

Renewals:

Not Applicable. A renewal application is a request for additional funding for a support period subsequent to that provided by a standard or continuing grant. A renewal application competes with all other pending applications and must be submitted at least six months before additional funding is required or consistent with an established deadline, target date or submission window. In preparing a renewal application, applicants should assume that reviewers will not have access to previously submitted versions of the application. Principal Investigators (PIs) are encouraged to discuss renewal applications with the program prior to submission of a renewal application. Unless precluded by individual program requirements, renewal applications may be submitted electronically via the NSF FastLane System or Grants.gov.

47.083 Office of Integrative Activities

(OIA),

FEDERAL AGENCY:

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

AUTHORIZATION:

National Science Foundation Act of 1950, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 1861 et seq

OBJECTIVES:

To enhance the competitiveness of the Nations research through activities that build capacity for science and engineering and broaden participation in research and education. The program is intended to incubate new ideas and communities, support innovation in research and NSF's own processes, and to promote integration across research and education domains. Support is provided to develop human and infrastructure capacity critical to the U.S. science and engineering enterprise; to catalyze new cross-cutting programs; to expand NSF's capability to gather and use evidence about the progress and impacts of its programs; for prestigious honorary award programs and professional internships for aspiring scientists and engineers; and for policy and programmatic analysis for the NSF Director, Deputy Director and Chief Operating Officer.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Primary responsibility for general supervision of all grant activities rests with the grantee institution; the project director or principal investigator is responsible for the execution of the research activities. Grants are made on a competitive basis. For all programs, funds may not be used for purposes other than those specified in the proposal. EPSCoR Funds may be used to pay the costs of conducting research, product development, resources, tools and services, as salaries and wages, equipment and supplies, travel, publication costs, other direct costs, and indirect costs. Primary responsibility for general supervision of all grant activities rests with the grantee institution. Funds may not be used for purposes other than those specified in the proposal.

Applicant Eligibility:

Federal; Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals; Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); State; For non-EPSCoR grants, except where a program solicitation establishes more restrictive eligibility criteria, individuals and organizations in the following categories may submit proposals: Universities and colleges; Non-profit, non-academic organizations; For-profit organizations; State and local governments; and unaffiliated individuals. See the NSF Grant Proposal Guide, Chapter I.E., for a full description of eligibility requirements:

http://www.nsf.gov/publications/pub_summ.jsp?ods_key=gpg. EPSCoR eligibility is based on two primary considerations: (1) a jurisdictions demonstrated commitment to develop its research bases and to improve the quality of science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) research conducted at its universities and colleges, and (2) a jurisdictions most recent three-year history of research funds awarded by NSF relative to the Foundations total research budget for that same period. Regarding the second consideration, a jurisdiction is eligible to participate in EPSCoR programs if its level of research support is equal to or less than 0.75 percent of the total NSF research budget for that same period. Adjustments are made in the rare instances where a single large NSF-funded national or international facility skews the data.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Federal; Private nonprofit institution/organization; State; Local; Sponsored organization; Public nonprofit institution/organization; Except where a program solicitation establishes more restrictive eligibility criteria, individuals and organizations in the following categories may submit proposals: Universities and colleges; Non-profit, non-academic organizations; for-profit organizations; State and local governments; and unaffiliated individuals. See the NSF Grant Proposal Guide, Chapter I.E. for a full description of eligibility requirements:www.nsf.gov/publications/pub_summ.jsp?ods_key=gpg.

Credentials/Documentation:

Proposals must be signed electronically by an official authorized to commit the institution or organization in business and financial affairs and who can commit the organization to certain proposal certifications. . Applicants for non-EPSCoR fellowship support must show evidence of ability such as academic records, letters of recommendation, graduate record examination scores, and grade point average. This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review. Pre-application coordination may be required. Environmental impact information may be required for this program.

NORTHERN BORDER REGIONAL COMMISSION

90.601 Northern Border Regional Development

Direct Grants,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

NORTHERN BORDER REGIONAL COMMISSION

AUTHORIZATION:

The 2008 Farm Bill, Statue 122-2230, Public Law 110-346

OBJECTIVES:

The Northern Border Regional Commission is a Federal-State governmental agency concerned with the economic well-being of the citizens, businesses, and communities within a thirty-six (36) county region of Maine, New Hampshire, New York, and Vermont. (12 counties in Maine, 4 counties in New Hampshire, 14 counties in New York, and six counties in Vermont). The region has had chronic and continuous long-term economic distress. The NBRC partnership is made up of a Federal Co-Chair and the Governors of the four participating States.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants, Project Grants (Discretionary)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The following funding categories represent eligible activities for NBRC investment dollars.TRANSPORTATION INFRASTRUCTURE: Transportation Infrastructure shall mean basic physical structures needed to support and/or create a transportation system; A term connoting the physical underpinnings of transportation systems, including, but not limited to, roads, bridges, rail, port facilities, airports, transit, and sidewalks.In transit systems, all the fixed components of the transit system, such as rights-of-way, tracks, signal equipment, stations, park-and-ride lots, bus stops, maintenance facilities.Regular maintenance or deferred maintenance, such as funding for resurfacing, restoring, rehabilitating and reconstructing will NOT be eligible for funding. Federal roads and bridges will NOT be eligible for funding. TELECOMMUNICATIONS INFRASTRUCTURE: Broadband and Geographic Information System (GIS) projects (not to include speculative or feasibility-type studies rather, complete and sustainable projects) will be considered. The physical components of interrelated systems providing services essential to enable, sustain, or enhance communications that encourage business growth and development. Applicants should identify gaps in current regional inventory of telecommunication needs. The gap between a community's broadband today (existing infrastructure, including capacity, speed and pricing, and level of adoption) and its needs should define the type, technology, size and scale of the project.

BASIC PUBLIC INFRASTRUCTURE: The term Basic Public Infrastructure shall mean water and wastewater facilities, electric and gas utilities, and solid waste landfills - or any structures that aid in the reduction of the need for landfills such as recycling and composting, all of which are fundamental services necessary to promote growth and attract business and which have a useful life of 20 years or more. NBRC investments funds will NOT be used for projects deemed to be Maintenance or Deferred Maintenance. Maintenance shall mean the work of keeping something in proper condition or upkeep. Deferred Maintenance shall mean to put off, postpone, or procrastinate the act of maintenance.

BUSINESS AND WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT: Business Development shall mean those areas of business development which include entrepreneurship, the creation of new businesses or the retention or expansion of existing businesses in the local communities, and are deemed eligible, projects shall document job-creation or job-retention. Funding of start-up projects, such as business incubators or industrial parks, must have committed business tenants. Expansion of existing business incubators and industrial parks are also allowed. Business Incubator projects must document that a need exists, per standards of research described by the International Business Innovation Association. A plan should also be developed to coincide with standards and operations as set forth by the International Business Innovation Association. Business Incubation shall mean a business support process that accelerates the successful development of start-up and fledgling companies by providing entrepreneurs with an array of targeted resources and services. Workforce Development shall mean job training or employment-related education for a specific employer to fill immediate job openings or retain current jobs which are documented as such by that specific employer. Delivery of such training shall be through the use of existing public educational facilities (EPEFs) located in the Region. However, if, the applicant demonstrates (1) sufficient information demonstrating an EPEF's inability (as example, insufficient capacity, curriculum, and/or accessibility) to satisfy the defined need, and the applicant (2) demonstrates a compelling need to use a non-EPEF for such training, then the Federal Co-Chairman can waive this requirement and deem a project eligible. To be deemed eligible, project shall document job-creation or job-retention. Other than for Workforce Development projects, as described above, start up or ongoing, operating costs (including, but, not limited to, salaries, vehicles, equipment, and maintenance) will NOT be deemed eligible.

BASIC HEALTH CARE: The cost of basic health care facilities, such as clinics, will be eligible. Operating costs of facilities will NOT be deemed eligible.

RESOURCE CONSERVATION, TOURISM, RECREATION: While easements and land purchases are eligible under the federal criteria, an economic development case needs to be made to substantiate the use of funds. Construction projects that promote resource conservation, tourism, recreation, and preservation of open space, such as access roads, bridges, signage, etc., are eligible projects. All projects must also be consistent with the economic development goals of the region.

RENEWABLE AND ALTERNATIVE ENERGY: Renewables are generally defined as any naturally occurring, theoretically inexhaustible source of energy, such as biomass, solar, wind, tidal, wave, and hydroelectric power, that is not derived from fossil or nuclear fuel. Facilities that are owned by a for profit entity will NOT be eligible. Publicly owned and non-profit entities are eligible.

Applicant Eligibility:

Government - General; Interstate; Intrastate; State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Other public institution/organization; Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Quasi-public nonprofit institution/organization; State; Native American Organizations (includes Indian groups, cooperatives, corporations, partnerships, associations); No additional information.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory formula is not applicable to this assistance listing. Matching Requirements: Percent: 0%. Requirement: Matching requirements are voluntary. By statute (40 U.S.C. 15702) the NBRC is required to annually assess the level of economic and demographic distress among the 36 counties in its service area. Assessing distress is important as the resulting designations reflect whether or not the NBRC can provide grants within a county as well as what level of match is required of NBRC funded projects. Counties are designated as either: Distressed - and are eligible for 80% funding and require a 20% match Transitional - and are eligible for 50% funding and require a 50% match Attainment - and are not eligible for funding expect for certain circumstances. In general, NBRC funds may not be provided to projects located within a designated Attainment County. However, if a municipality is distressed or the project has a greater effect on distressed and transitional counties surrounding it, there is a possibility that it could be an eligible project see the Program Director. www.nbrc.gov MOE requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

Each State scores the applications received within their state independently. Generally, each state creates a team of reviewers and in addition have access to a group of consultants as referrals who have specialized knowledge on scientific or technical expert opinion to provide guidance when needed. Final decisions about awards are approved jointly between the Federal Co-Chair and the Governors Alternates (the five members that make up the Northern Border Regional Commission). The scoring system for each state is provided below. If the application is for a multi-state project, each state will score the application independently. While States will consult with one another in order to strive for consistency, a multi-state application may be awarded in one state and not in another.

77.006 U. S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission Nuclear Education Grant Program

Nuclear Education Grant Program - Curricula Development,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

AUTHORIZATION:

The Energy Policy Act of 2005, Section 651(c)(1), Statue 119-801, Public Law 109-58, 42 USC Code 2051(b).

OBJECTIVES:

The Curricula Development program provides assistance to accredited U.S. colleges and universities in support of courses, studies, training, curricula, and disciplines relevant to nuclear safety, nuclear security, nuclear environmental protection, or any other field that the Commission determines to be critical to its regulatory mission. The primary purpose is to support and develop the educational infrastructure necessary to allow the Nation to advance its nuclear energy initiatives.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

This program provides funding to accredited post-secondary schools and institutions of higher education. Financial support in whole or in part may be provided for such purposes as salaries, materials and supplies, equipment, consultants, limited travel, and other justified program related expenses required for conducting the curricula development related activities. Restrictions on use of funds are specified in the funding opportunity announcement or the award document. Funding is provided for the purpose of creating, revising, or enhancing nuclear-related curricula that does not necessarily duplicate work already in process, is not already known to NRC, or has previously unrecognized merit.

Applicant Eligibility:

77.008 U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission Scholarship and Fellowship Program

NRC Scholarship/Fellowship and Faculty Development Program,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

AUTHORIZATION:

The Energy Policy Act of 2005, Section 651 (c)(1), Public Law 109-58, 119 Stat. 801, 42 U.S.C 2051 (b).

OBJECTIVES:

This Scholarship and Fellowship program provides funding for undergraduate scholarships, graduate fellowships, and trade school and community college scholarships. In addition, faculty development grants are funded under this authority as explained below. The program allows students to pursue an education in science, engineering, or another field of study that the Commission determines is in a critical skill area related to its regulatory mission. The trade school and community college scholarship program supports certificates or Associate degrees in crafts/disciplines necessary for developing and maintaining a nuclear workforce. This activity is intended to benefit the nuclear industry broadly. NRC requires scholarship and fellowship students to comply with a service obligation agreement for a period of 6 months for every year or partial year of support received. However, the NRC may establish criteria for the partial or total waiver or suspension of any obligation of service or payment incurred by a student. The employment may be with the NRC, other Federal agencies, State agencies, nuclear-related industry, or academia in the students sponsored fields of study. Recipients of scholarship and fellowships must commit to the service obligation agreement. The program also supports faculty development in the nuclear-related fields of Nuclear Engineering, Health Physics, Radiochemistry and related disciplines as determined by the NRC. The program specifically targets probationary, tenure-track faculty in these academic areas during the first 6 years of their career.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

This program provides funding to accredited post-secondary schools and institutions of higher education to provide scholarships, fellowships, and stipends to develop a cadre of professionals, and a workforce capable of supporting the design, construction, operation, and regulation of nuclear facilities and the safe handling of nuclear materials. Faculty development grants provide support for developing applications for research, small amounts for initiating or continuing research projects in their areas of expertise, and expenses associated with an institutions faculty development plan. Funds are managed by the awardee institution. Primary responsibility for general supervision of all grant activities rests with the grantee institution. Funds may not be used for purposes other than those specified in the award. Fellowships, scholarship and stipends are paid to the students and fellows directly through his/her institution. Scholarship and fellowship recipients are required to comply with a service obligation agreement for a period of 6 months for every year or partial year of support received.

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); U.S. Territories and possessions (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Applicants must be a U.S. public or private institutions of higher education, accredited by the U.S. Department of Education.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

Selection for support by the Office of Research through financial assistance methods are made to basic, advanced, and developmental scientific programs where the purpose is to create new or further define existing paradigms within the nuclear industry. Factors generally indicating support through financial assistance methods: - the primary purpose of the proposal is to aid or support the development of knowledge or understanding of the subject or phenomena under study; - the exact course of the work and its outcome are not defined precisely and specific points in time for achievement of significant results may not be specified; - the nature of the proposed work is such that the recipient will bear prime responsibility for the conduct of the research and will exercise judgment and original thought toward attaining the scientific goals within broad parameters of the research areas proposed and the related resources provided; - meaningful technical reports can be prepared only as new findings are made; and - simplicity and economy in execution and administration are mutually desirable.

OBJECTIVES:

To provide financing for projects sponsored by private U.S. businesses in developing countries and emerging economies throughout the world, thereby assisting development goals and improving U.S. competitiveness, creating American jobs and increasing United States exports.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Direct Loans, Guaranteed/Insured Loans

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

To provide financing for investments in developing countries in projects that contribute to the economic and social development of the host country and have a positive impact on the U.S. economy. OPIC screens out projects that might have a negative effect on U.S. employment or the host country's development or the environment, or would contribute to the violation of internationally recognized worker rights. Direct loans can only be made to private sector projects in which there is significant involvement by an U.S. small business.

Applicant Eligibility:

Individual/Family; Profit organization; Guaranteed investor must be citizen of the United States, a corporation, partnership, or other association created under the laws of the United States or any State or territory, and more than 50 percent beneficially owned by U.S. Citizens; a foreign corporation at least 95 percent owned by such entities; or a 100 percent United States-owned foreign entity. Direct loans are reserved for projects sponsored by or significantly involving United States small businesses or cooperatives. Applicants also must meet OPIC's credit underwriting criteria.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Small business; Profit organization; Private nonprofit institution/organization; U.S. Citizen; Public nonprofit institution/organization; Project must have significant participation by a United States sponsor, generally in the form of at least 25 percent equity ownership. OPIC does not support projects that will result in the loss of U.S. jobs, that would contribute to the violation of internationally recognized worker rights or involve illicit payments. OPIC only supports projects that contribute to the economic and social development of the host country.

Credentials/Documentation:

OPIC Finance Application; Financial statements; OPIC sponsor disclosure report; other applicable information on operations of U.S. investor, and project business plan. PENSION BENEFIT GUARANTY CORPORATION

86.001 Pension Plan Termination Insurance

(ERISA).

FEDERAL AGENCY:

PENSION BENEFIT GUARANTY CORPORATION

AUTHORIZATION:

Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), Title IV (Plan Termination Insurance), Public Law 93-406, as amended; Public Law 96-364; Multi-employer Pension Plan Amendments Act of 1980; Public Law 99-272; Single-Employer Pension Plan Amendments Act of 1986; Pension Protection Act of 1987, Public Law 100- 203; Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1989, Public Law 101-239; Retirement Protection Act of 1994, Public Law 103-465; Job Creation and Worker Assistance Act of 2002; Pension Funding Equity Act of 2004.

OBJECTIVES:

To encourage the continuation and maintenance of voluntary private pension plans for the benefit of their participants, to provide for the timely and uninterrupted payment of pension benefits to participants and beneficiaries in plans covered by the PBGC, and to maintain premiums charged by the PBGC at the lowest level consistent with carrying out its obligations.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Insurance

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Insurance coverage is mandatory for most private, defined benefit pension plans. A single-employer plan may terminate in a standard termination only if it has sufficient assets to provide all benefits, and in a voluntary distress termination only if the employer sponsoring the plan can satisfy specified distress criteria. Upon a voluntary distress termination or a termination initiated by the PBGC, the PBGC guarantees payment of nonforfeitable benefits under the terms of the plan within limits specified in the law. The guaranteed basic benefits payable to a participant or beneficiary under a covered single-employer plan may not exceed the actuarial value at the time of termination of a monthly benefit in the form of a life annuity commencing at age 65 equal to the lesser of: (1) A $750 adjusted annually to reflect changes in the Social Security contribution and benefit base since 1974, or (2) a participant's high consecutive five-year average monthly gross income. When covered plans or amendments to them are less than 5 years old at termination, benefits are guaranteed on a graduated basis. Benefits of persons defined as "substantial owners" are guaranteed on a 30-year graduated basis, subject to certain additional limits in the case of increased benefits due to plan amendment. For multi-employer plans there is a program of reorganization for plans with funding problems. The PBGC is required to extend financial assistance to insolvent multi-employer plans in order that they may be able to meet plan obligations for guaranteed benefits. Insurance coverage is mandatory for any plan that is an employee pension plan benefit established or maintained by: (1) An employer engaged in or affecting commerce; (2) an employee organization engaged in or affecting commerce; or (3) both, if certain requirements relating to the Internal Revenue Code are met. However, insurance coverage does not extend to any plan that is: (1) an individual account plan; (2) established and maintained for Federal, State or local government employees; (3) a church plan, unless the plan has made an election under 26 U.S.C. 410(d) and has notified PBGC of such election; (4) a plan that has not provided for employer contributions after September 2, 1974; (5) unfunded and maintained by an employer primarily to provide deferred compensation for a select group of management or highly compensated employees; (6) established and maintained outside of the U.S. primarily for the benefit of non-resident aliens; (7) maintained by an employer solely for the purpose of providing benefits for certain employees in excess of the limitations on contributions and benefits imposed by the Internal Revenue Code; (8) established and maintained exclusively for substantial owners; (9) that of an international organization that is exempt from taxation; (10) maintained solely for the purpose of complying with applicable workmen's compensation laws or unemployment compensation or disability insurance laws; or (11) established and maintained by a professional service employer that has not at any time since September 2, 1974, had more than 25 active participants.

Applicant Eligibility:

Small business (less than 500 employees); Profit organization; Other private institutions/organizations; Private businesses and organizations that maintain defined benefit plans and participants (and beneficiaries) in such plans.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Individual/Family; Senior Citizen (60+); Pension Recipient; All participants (and their beneficiaries) in covered single-employer pension plans may be potentially eligible for plan termination insurance payments. All covered multi-employer plans may be eligible for financial assistance needed to ensure payment of guaranteed benefits.

Credentials/Documentation:

In support of a termination notice, information relating to plan asset sufficiency must be furnished by the plan administrator of a single-employer plan. Information relating to financial operations of the employer must also be furnished for a distress termination. This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is not applicable.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. As soon as practicable after complying with certain statutory notice requirements, a plan administrator who intends to terminate a covered single-employer plan must submit to the PBGC either a standard termination notice or a distress termination notice depending on the type of termination sought. Applications relating to a standard or distress termination should be sent to PBGC, Processing and Technical Assistance Branch, 1200 K Street, N.W., Suite 930, Washington, DC 20005-4026. Applications for multi-employer plan matters should be made in accordance with applicable PBGC regulations and other published guidelines.

Award Procedure:

The PBGC determines whether the assets of a covered single-employer plan that has notified the PBGC of its intent to terminate in a distress termination, or against which the PBGC has initiated termination proceedings, are sufficient to pay guaranteed benefits. If plan assets are found to be insufficient or the PBGC is unable to determine asset sufficiency, the PBGC will normally have itself named as trustee to administer the plan. The PBGC pays guaranteed benefits. The PBGC also pays other benefits funded by plan assets or recoveries from employers.

Deadlines:

An annual premium must be paid for each covered plan generally no later than 9 1/2 months into the plan year, e.g., annual premiums are due October 15th for calendar-year plans (Form 1 or Form 1-EZ). Plans with 500 or more participants (for the prior year) generally must also file an estimated premium with the PBGC (for the current year) by the last day of the second full calendar month following the close of the prior plan year (Form 1-ES). Premiums must be paid through the plan year in which all plan benefits are distributed in a standard termination or a trustee is appointed under ERISA Section 4042. For further information or copies of forms contact: PBGC, Collection and Compliance Division, Suite 670, 1200 K Street, NW., Washington, DC 20005-4026, Telephone (202) 326-4042 or 1-800-736-2444. Standard Termination: Notice of Intent to Terminate (NOIT). The plan administrator of a single-employer plan must issue a notice of intent to terminate the plan, by hand, mail, or electronic means reasonably calculated to ensure actual receipt, to each individual plan participant, beneficiary of a deceased participant, and union representing plan participants (but not to the PBGC) at least 60 days and no more than 90 days in advance of the proposed termination date. PBGC Notice: No later than 180 days after the proposed termination date the administrator must file with the PBGC a notice including, among other items, an enrolled actuary's certification that plan assets will be sufficient to provide all benefit liabilities as of the date of final distribution, with the underlying total asset and benefit values (Form 500). Notice of Plan Benefits: No later than the date the PBGC Notice is filed, the plan administrator must have provided information to each plan participant and beneficiary in plain language about his or her benefit, including the amount of that person's benefit, the form of benefit valued, and the factors (such as age, length of service, and actuarial assumptions) used in calculating the benefit. The plan administrator must also notify each plan participant and beneficiary of the identity of the insurer or insurers from whom the plan administrator intends to purchase annuities no later than 45 days before the date of distribution. Asset Distribution: The PBGC has 60 days after receipt of the PBGC Notice to determine whether the plan termination complies with the requirements for a standard termination. If the PBGC does not issue a Notice of Noncompliance and plan assets are sufficient to provide all benefit liabilities, the plan administrator may distribute the plan assets. The distribution must generally be completed within 180 days after the expiration of the 60-day review period and be done in accordance with plan provisions and PBGC regulations. If the plan administrator requests an IRS determination letter on or before the date of filing Form 500 with PBGC, the asset distribution deadline is extended to 120 days after the plan receives a favorable IRS determination letter. Within 30 days after final distribution of plan assets, the plan administrator must file with the PBGC a notice certifying that assets have been distributed as required (Form 501). However, PBGC will assess a penalty for a late filing only if it is filed more than 90 days after assets have been distributed. A terminating plan that is unable to locate an individual after a diligent search must either purchase an annuity for the individual and send annuity provider information to the PBGC or send the PBGC funds to pay for the individual's benefit (Schedule MP). Distress Termination Notice Requirements: The notice requirements for a distress termination differ from those for a standard termination in several ways: the 60-day to 90-day advance NOIT must be provided to the PBGC as well as to plan participants and other affected parties; the PBGC Notice (Form 601) must include information to demonstrate that each contributions sponsor and each member of the sponsor's controlled group meet at least one of the distress tests (liquidation, reorganization, business continuation, or unreasonable pension costs due to a declining workforce) as of the proposed termination date. A plan administrator must provide Notice of Plan Benefits to plan participants and beneficiaries in a distress termination only if the plan has sufficient assets to provide at least guaranteed benefits.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Not Applicable.

Appeals:

Not Applicable. Any person aggrieved by an initial determination made by the PBGC which is covered by the appeals procedures may file an appeal. An appeal or a request for an extension of time to appeal should be submitted to the Appeals Board, Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation, 1200 K Street, Suite 480, NW, Washington, DC 20005-4026. In addition, the PBGC has the authority to review informally, upon request, determinations that are not covered by the appeals procedures when it determines that it would be appropriate to do so.

59.011 Small Business Investment Companies

(SBIC; SSBIC),

FEDERAL AGENCY:

SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

AUTHORIZATION:

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

Small Business Investment Act of 1958, Title III (15 U.S.C. 681 et seq.), Public Law 85-699

OBJECTIVES:

To establish privately owned and managed investment companies, which are licensed and regulated by the U.S. Small Business Administration; to provide equity capital and long term loan funds to small businesses; and to provide advisory services to small businesses.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Guaranteed/Insured Loans

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The investment companies provide management and financial assistance on a continuing basis to eligible small business concerns. Financial assistance is provided by making long-term loans to these small concerns, and/or by the purchase of debt or equity type securities issued by these firms. Emphasis is on providing assistance to the pioneering, innovating-type concerns developing new products, processes, and markets. Specialized investment companies organized/licensed under former Section 301(d) of the authorizing statute (SSBICs) must restrict eligibility of small concerns financed by such investment companies to those owned and operated by individuals whose participation in the free enterprise system has been hampered by social or economic disadvantages. Debentures and participating securities are issued by the SBIC and guaranteed by SBA for a term not to exceed ten years. All investment companies generally may not self-deal, finance "big business," or invest over 30 percent of private capital in any single small concern.

Applicant Eligibility:

Small business (less than 500 employees); Any chartered small business investment company having private capital of not less than $5 million, having qualified management, giving evidence of sound operation, and establishing the need for SBIC financing in the geographic area in which the applicant proposes to operate.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Minority group; Small business; Profit organization; Moderate Income; Low Income; Individual businesses (single proprietorship, partnership or corporation) which satisfy the established criteria of a small business. SSBICs beneficiary must also be a business owned and operated by socially or economically disadvantaged individuals.

Credentials/Documentation:

An investment company must be chartered as a corporation, limited partnership (with individuals, corporation, partnership, or limited liability company as general partner), or limited liability company. Determination is made as to need in area, general business reputation and character of proposed owners and management and probability of successful operations. All loans to, or investments in, small concerns shall be of such sound value as reasonable to assure repayment. This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is not applicable.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. To provide guaranteed loans from lenders to small businesses which are unable to obtain financing in the private credit marketplace, but can demonstrate an ability to repay loans if granted, in a timely manner. Guaranteed loans are made available to for profit small businesses. The SBA's 7(a) lending authority includes: (1) Standard 7(a); (2) SBAExpress; (3) the Cap Line Program; the Qualified Employee Trust (ESOP); (4) International Trade; and (5) Export Working Capital loan programs.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Guaranteed/Insured Loans

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

All funds guaranteed by SBA under the 7(a) program are subject to the following general use restrictions: Excludes gambling establishments, nonprofit enterprises, speculators in property, lending or investment enterprises, and financing of real property held for investment; also excludes funding for sexually prurient enterprises, firms engaged in religious proselytizing, and funds to indiscriminately relocate the business. Funds must not otherwise be available on reasonable terms, nor used to pay off a loan to an unsecured creditor who is in a position to sustain loss. Standard 7(a) loans may be used to construct, expand, or convert facilities; to purchase building equipment or materials; and for working capital. SBA Express Program loan proceeds may be used to for the 7 (a) uses above and permits lender participants to utilize their own forms and processes in exchange for a lower guarantee percentage. Qualified Employee Trust loans are used to permit employees to acquire eventual ownership interests in a small concern through an Employee Stock Ownership (ESOP) structure. The four (4) Cap Lines Programs can be used to finance seasonal working capital needs; finance the direct costs of performing certain construction, service and supply contracts, subcontracts, or purchase orders; finance the direct cost associated with commercial and residential construction; or provide general working capital lines of credit. International Trade loan proceeds are used to finance assets that significantly expand an existing export market or develop new markets. Export Working Capital 7(a) loans may be used to pay for the manufacturing costs of goods for export; to purchase goods or services for export; to support standby letters of credit to act as bid or performance bonds; and/or to finance foreign accounts receivable.

59.016 Surety Bond Guarantees

SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

AUTHORIZATION:

Small Business Investment Act of 1958, Title IV, Part B (15 U.S.C. 694a et seq.), Title IV, Part B, Section 410, Public Law 108-447

OBJECTIVES:

To guarantee surety bonds issued by commercial surety companies for small businesses unable to obtain a bond without an SBA guarantee. The guarantees range between 70 and 90% and cover losses and expenses incurred by a participating surety should the small business default on the contract.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Insurance (Guaranteed Surety Bonds)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Contracts not exceeding $6.5 million, where a surety bond is required but not obtainable privately on reasonable terms and conditions. Guarantee is for bid, payment, and performance bonds (and ancillary bonds incidental to the performance of a specific contract). It is provided directly to the surety for a particular contract. Under the Prior Approval program, sureties must apply to SBA for each guarantee. Sureties in the Preferred Bond Program are empowered to issue, service, and monitor bonds without prior SBA approval.

Applicant Eligibility:

Profit organization; Other private institutions/organizations; Guarantees are limited to those surety companies holding certificates of authority from the Secretary of the Treasury as an acceptable surety for bonds on Federal contracts. Specific criteria apply to the Prior Approval and PSB Sureties.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Profit organization; Builder/Contractor/Developer; For Federal contracts, a small business is eligible for the surety bond program if it qualifies as a small business under Code of Federal Regulations Subpart 121, Size Eligibility Provisions and Standards.

Credentials/Documentation:

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is not applicable.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. A small business must apply directly to a surety agent who represents a participating surety company. The application includes background, credit, and financial information. Under the Prior Approval Program, the surety company deals directly with the SBA Area Office concerning the bond guarantee. Headquarters, Area and District SBA Offices serve as contact points for program information purposes.

Award Procedure:

Under the Prior Approval Program, SBA notifies the surety company of SBA's approval of the guarantee and furnishes the surety with e-mail authorization. Surety company (or agent/broker) notifies the bond applicant and issues the bond. Preferred sureties issue bonds guaranteed by SBA without SBA's prior approval. Prior approval and PSB sureties remit 26 percent of the premium they charge small businesses to SBA. Small businesses pay SBA a fee of .729% of the contract price.

Deadlines:
